

THE WINNERS NAMED.

In Harmonious Convention at Weeping Water.

TEFFT FOR SENATOR.

John A. Davies and A. S. Cooley for Representative, J. H. Haldeman County Attorney J. Hayes Commissioner.

The republican county convention was called to order at Weeping Water promptly at 10:30 Saturday morning by Orlando Tefft, chairman of the county central committee. The call for the convention was read by the secretary. After M. M. Butler of Weeping Water nominated Byron Clark for temporary chairman.

Mr. Clark upon taking the chair made a short and to the point speech which was greeted by long and loud applause.

M. N. Griffith was elected temporary secretary, after which the list of delegates were read and accepted.

L. E. Giberson moved that the temporary organization be made permanent. Carried.

It was then moved that the convention adjourn until one o'clock and upon the vote being taken was lost.

W. F. Wells of South Bend moved that a committee of five on resolutions be appointed. Carried.

The chair appointed W. L. Wells of South Bend; M. M. Butler of Weeping Water; J. L. Root of Plattsburgh; Prof. Killen of Louisville; and W. Delle of Elmwood as such committee.

It was then moved that the convention proceed to ballot according to call for candidates. This caused some discussion as a large number of the delegates had not arrived. The convention then adjourned until one o'clock.

The convention was called to order promptly at one o'clock when the committee on resolutions made the following report:

We, your committee on resolutions, beg leave to submit the following:

Resolved, That we most heartily endorse the action of the National convention at Minneapolis of June 7th, 1892, both as to platform and candidates. That we most heartily endorse the administration of President Harrison, recognizing in him eminent statesmanship as evinced by his foreign as well as domestic policy.

Resolved, That we recognize in the nominees for state officers made at Lincoln men eminently qualified for the positions to which they have been called and hereby pledge the hearty support of the republican voters of Cass county to each and every man nominated.

Resolved, That we recognize in the Hon. A. W. Field distinguished ability to represent our misrepresented district in congress and we assure him of our hearty support.

Resolved, That we recommend the passage of a fair, just and equitable law regulating railroad tariff rates and also regulating the tariffs of express, telephone and telegraph companies operating in the state of Nebraska.

Resolved, That we demand that the revenue law of this state be so amended as to guarantee that each county shall pay its fair proportion of state taxes and no more, and that the civil code be so amended as to give a plain speedy and adequate remedy to counties from adverse decisions of the state board of equalization when levying state taxes on the several counties of this state.

The resolutions were accepted by a unanimous vote of the convention.

A motion was then made that the convention proceed to nominate candidates for the different offices and that nominating speeches be confined to five minutes.

Judge Ramsey Saturday evening issued a marriage license and then tied the knot that made Mr. Fredenburg and Miss Etta M. Mann man and wife. Both parties are from Red Oak, Iowa.

John Krolik has commenced suit in Judge Archer's court against Geo. Castor on an account for $55.

The Gem City Stove Co., vs. Ben Ward of Louisville, is the title of a case filed in Judge Archer's court today. The suit is brought to collect an account of $55.

Jake Coffman, Fred Egenberger and Mark White plead guilty in police court yesterday and were fined $5 and costs for fighting.

Judge Archer rendered a judgment this morning of $21 in the Hall-Stull case in favor of plaintiff.

Mrs. Elizabeth Saxon is in county court today asking that Fred Gorder be removed as guardian of her children. Judge Ramsey is hearing the case this afternoon.

The county commissioners met in regular session today. Last month they refused to grant a license for a saloon at Cedar Creek and this month a new petition has been filed.

The dedication services of the Christian church at Murray will be held Friday, October 10th, at 11 o'clock, and will be conducted by D. R. Dungan, president of the Cotter University. The people of Murray are arranging for a half fare rate over the Missouri Pacific with good prospects of success. A cordial invitation is extended to all attend.

The chair announced as only one had secured the necessary number of votes for a nomination and he declared John A. Davies as the choice of the convention as one of the representatives. The delegates prepared their ballots for another candidate. In the meantime Todd and McKinnon withdrew their names and the battle was between Cooley and Cutforth and resulted as follows:

Cooley 81
Cutforth 62
Erickson 6

A. S. Cooley having received the necessary number of votes was declared the nominee of the convention as a candidate for representative.

Upon motion the order of business was changed and the convention proceeded to nominate a candidate for county attorney. Dr. A. Salisbury placed the name of J. L. Root of this city before the convention and M. M. Butler placed in nomination J. H. Haldeman of Weeping Water. The first ballot stood as follows:

Haldeman 84
Root 60

The convention took a recess of fifteen minutes while the delegates from the Third commissioners district selected a candidate for county commissioner from that district. The delegates returned and reported to the convention that they nominated John Hayes of Elmwood as the next county commissioner from the Third district.

The next thing in order was the selection of nineteen delegates to the float convention which meets at Weeping Water next Saturday.

A motion was made that one delegate from each precinct and ward be selected to elect the nineteen delegates. The motion was carried and those selected reported the following delegates to the convention:

Delegates to the float convention are as follows:

A. L. Timblin, Henry Eikenberry, C. F. Hall, Turner Zink, L. Hobson, A. J. Graves, S. A. Davis, Geo. Edson, J. M. Gardner, J. L. Root, J. H. Becker, J. W. Bullis, H. F. Taylor, G. M. Flower, Dave Woodward, Wm. Delle, W. L. Wells, L. Toland and A. Sheldon.

The list of delegates as reported to the convention was accepted and the convention adjourned.

Table Talk.

Ingenuity is a good thing at times and every cook ought to have a spark of it lurking somewhere in his or her composition. "Plain" cooks, of course, don't possess it; and, therefore, what is called a "good plain cook" doesn't exist. To boil a potato or broil a steak may seem a very simple operation, and so it is; but to do it properly, heaven defend us from the "plain" cook!

He devoted considerable time to the American tin plate industry. He said he never would stand before an American audience and manifest joy because some American industry had failed as his opponent does. He said the republican party believed in making the foreigner pay the tax as long as they can do it.

Mr. Field made a good hit when he quoted from the scriptures and said the great apostle Matthew was surely a republican because no democrat would give up a custom office to become a preacher.

He charged Bryan with advocating free silver in order to catch the independent vote. Field criticized Bryan's course in congress in such a manner that it made Bryan look tired. Mr. Field closed the first part of the debate amid great applause.

Hon. F. E. White then introduced the Hon. Wm. J. Bryan, and the only reason Mr. White offered for Bryan carrying the district two years ago, was, as Mr. White stated, that by his eloquence he had carried the district. A good recommendation for a man wanting to go to congress, isn't it? But, then Mr. White knew what he was talking about.

Mr. Bryan was received amid applause and proceeded for nearly an hour in telling what he had done in congress, and defending his record. Mr. Bryan did not, as was expected talk on the live issues of the day, but instead talked of the great "I am."

When his time had nearly expired he branched off lightly on the tariff, saying that merchant of this town had told him that carpets were higher today than before the McKinley bill had passed, and at the same time he knew better. A great campaign of education the democrats are putting up isn't it?

Bryan then passed to the silver question and attempted to talk free silver for ten minutes.

Those who went out to hear a joint debate were greatly disappointed as Bryan used nearly all the time allotted to him in talking about himself instead of the questions at issue. Mr. Bryan ceased amid a hearty applause by the importations from Omaha.

Mr. Field started off in his fifteen minute reply and commenced hammering Bryan so hard that the hireling from Omaha and Nebraska City started in to drown him out and it was with difficulty that Mr. Field could be heard. The democratic importation Saturday night did their cause no good, and Mr. Field stock is on the rise. The judge showed that he was entirely able to hold his own with the windy congressman and his pet theories.

Judge Field made many friends and votes by his honest handling of the question at issue and in the earnest manner in which he dealt with them, while Bryan was kept continually defending himself and dodging the questions at issue.

The new school house is rapidly nearing completion. The contractors have a large force of men to work and with good weather the building will be ready for occupancy in a short time.

JUDGE FIELD GAINING.

Field Had the Best of the Debate Saturday.

BRYAN HAD THE NOISE.

The Importation From Omaha With Tin Horns and Cow Bells Attempted to Run the Meeting—Bryan Loses.

The joint debate between Field and Bryan Saturday evening was the cause of a large crowd of people gathering here from all parts of Cass county. Not only Cass county, but hired delegations from Omaha—men not entitled to a vote in this district were brought here to howl for the windy candidate for congress—William Jennings Bryan. The Omaha gang of rowdies were packed on the steps back of the speakers and were liberally supplied with tin horns and cow bells and they were also packed thickly all around the speakers' stand.

Between 5,000 and 6,000 people were out to hear the debate. Promptly at 8 o'clock Judge A. N. Sullivan introduced the next congressman from this district. Judge Field was greeted with prolonged applause by the audience. Field then started in on the Force bill and had talked only a few minutes when he was interrupted by the arrival of the delegation from Nebraska City and had to wait until order could be restored. As soon as he could make himself heard he proceeded with the tariff question. On the McKinley bill Mr. Field was perfectly at home and the way he ridiculed the democratic theories on the tariff was a caution.

He devoted considerable time to the American tin plate industry. He said he never would stand before an American audience and manifest joy because some American industry had failed as his opponent does. He said the republican party believed in making the foreigner pay the tax as long as they can do it.
