

A WOMAN'S STRUGGLE.

She Was Severely Cut and Bruised Saturday Night.

THE BRUTE AT LARGE.

The Police Arrest One Man but She Failed to Identify Him—The Calamity Holwer Saturday Night.

Assaulted a Woman.

Mrs. Osborn, who lives with her husband in the west part of town had an exciting and dangerous adventure Saturday night. Mr. Osborn, is at present away from home and his wife is alone. Saturday night after she had gone to bed a man broke into the house and went into her bedroom and laid down on the floor in front of her bed.

The woman was so frightened she didn't know what to do. She finally got up enough courage to jump out of bed and run for the door to call for help. Just as she reached the door, the man grabbed her, and nearly tore her clothes to pieces, she again broke loose from him and ran to the yard.

The man followed her into the yard and hit her in the face, knocking her into a back wire fence, after which he left her.

The woman's limbs were cut in a terrible manner by the barb wire and her face, where the brute had struck her presented a very bad appearance.

Sunday morning the police were notified and from the description given they arrested a man named McPherson, in the charge.

McPherson was sent by Police-man Thrasher, drunk and in bed with his clothes on. He was hustled out and brought down town for the woman to identify.

At first she thought it was the same man, but after a little said he was not the man.

The police however think he was the right man, but that the woman is afraid of him so she reason she did say he was the right one.

The Calamity Howlers.

Gee Roam Shamp, the independent candidate for congress, spoke Saturday evening at Rockwood hall to a fair sized audience composed of republicans and democrats. His speech from beginning to end was a "Bryan" speech. He began his talk by abusing Judge Field and the republicans, and it was very seldom he said anything about the democrats. Every time he had a chance to put in a good word for Bryan he did so. He stated in his speech that the report circulated about his working in the interests of Judge Field was false and he dared anyone to deny his assertion. Then to cap the climax Editor Sherman had him in charge yesterday. It looks as if he was working in the interests of Bryan.

PEOPLE AND AFFAIRS.

A man Sunday went to the livery barn of Jones & Fitzgerald and asked for a horse and buggy, saying that he was going down near the Fickler farm to attend a funeral. He was given the horse and buggy by John Rutherford. Night came on and nothing was thought about him not returning, but this morning when he had not put in his appearance, they began to get "scared." John Rutherford started out this morning to look for the horse and buggy. About noon he returned and reported that he had got trace of them; that the fellow had been out buggy riding with his best girl yesterday and went down to Nebraska City; that the fellow was all right and the horse and buggy would be back this afternoon.

W. and from there they were taken to the Catholic church where services were held after which the remains were placed in their last resting place, the York cemetery. The members of the Plattsmouth A. O. H. speak in high terms of their treatment at York. The members of the A. O. U. W. took charge of them; took them to a hotel and would not allow them even pay their hotel bill, besides taking them around and showing them the beautiful city of York. The A. O. NEBRASKA ON WHEELS.

The Nebraska exhibition train No. 2, which left Omaha on the 26th of September for a tour of the middle and eastern states showing to the natives an array of Nebraska products, returned Saturday morning. The trip was a great success. The train travelled over 1,800 miles and stopped at nearly fifty towns. The gentlemen who accompanied the train estimate that not less than 100,000 people visited the train during the tour and many more saw it as it passed through the thickly populated country. At every town where the train stopped the local papers gave columns to a description of the products on exhibition. People who had interests in Nebraska have been fairly carried away with the appearance of the train, and thousands who visited "Nebraska on Wheels" will not rest satisfied until they have visited the great country from which the train went out as a messenger. Mr. Hodgkin of the Business Men's association and the other gentlemen who accompanied the train came home somewhat weary, but thoroughly satisfied that the state will reap splendid results from the tour of advertising train No. 2.

A peculiar freak in the way of a sugar beet was exhibited at the News office yesterday by W. H. Peck. When small the beet had run up through a beef steak bone and as it grew the bone acted as a circling band about the center of the beet, the top and bottom bulging out to three or four times the size of the bone, which it still carries with it. It is from the field of O. B. Hazen and is considered quite a curiosity.—Norfolk News.
