A BOLD BANK ROBBERY.

WOODSTOCK, Minn., Nov. 16.—Two masked men entered the bank of Woodstock at 3 o'clock last evening, demanding of Cashier Perry and Assistant Cashier Craig that they open the vault. One took Perry in charge, while the other forced Craig to enter the vault. The robber then helped himself to whatever he wanted. The burglars escaped with $1,000 and failed to leave their address. Several parties have gone in pursuit of them.

THEY HAD THEIR TIME.

WALLACE, Neb., Nov. 16.—Last night some of the boys anxious for a lively time, hauled two wagons loaded with hay into the public square and rolling a barrel of kerosene underneath them and touched a match. A cry of fire rang through the streets and in a few moments the entire town was on the square. Query being made as to the origin of the fire Christ Jaekel accused Nay Hellington of the deed. At this Hellington became enraged and a lively fight followed in which knives were used freely. Hellington receiving two deep gashes in the stomach and one in the back which it is feared will prove fatal Jaekel is still at large.

TWO MORE RUSTLERS KILLED.

BUFFALO, Wyo., Nov. 16.—Word has been brought to Buffalo of the assassination of two more outlaws. The dead cattle thieves are the notorious Mike Brown and George Hanks, fugitives from Montana. Both were shot in the back near Hot Springs, Fremont county. Four outlaws have been killed in that vicinity in the same way within two weeks. Brown was one of the most notorious cattle thieves in Wyoming.

VIRULENT YELLOW FEVER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A letter received by James Gallagher of this city from a friend in Cordoba, Mex., gives a most distressing account of the state of affairs there. Yellow fever has raged with awful virulence and carried away almost 1,000 of the people of the town. Most of the inhabitants have fled to the mountains to escape the plague. On the day when the letter was written it said that cleaning the streets were a few service. Trade has been utterly paralyzed. Cordoba is a pretty little town of about 4,000 inhabitants in the heart of the Orisaba mountains, Mexico.

CARNEGIE'S RE-ORGANIZATION.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 14.—There has just been recorded in the limited partnership books at the court house certain details not heretofore published as to the reorganization, in its entirety, of that greatest aggregation of capital in a limited partnership in this section. "The Carnegie Steel Company, limited," with a $25,000,000 capital stock. The array of figures is large and the sum total is divided among twenty-three stockholders. Of these all except four are citizens of Pittsburgh and Allegheny: J. W. Vandervoort is from Pasadena, Cal.; C. L. Strobel and J. C. Fleming live in Chicago, and J. Ogden Hoffman lives in Philadelphia.

The record shows that the original capital of $5,000,000 in "Carnegie Bros & Co." was divided as follows: Andrew Carnegie, $2,750,000; Henry Phipps, Jr., $550,000; H. C. Frick, $550,000; George Lander, $200,000; W. H. Singer, $100,000; H. M. Curry, $100,000; H. M. Borntrager, $100,000; J. G. A. Leishman, $100,000; W. L. Abbott, $50,000; Otis Childs, $50,000; J. W. Vandervoort, $40,000; C. L. Strobel, $33,333.33; F. J. F. Lovejoy, $33,333.33; Patrick R. Dillon, $25,000; W. W. Blackburn, $16,666.67; W. P. Palmer, J. C. Phipps, Alex. and A. Peacock, J. Ogden Hoffman and John C. Engling are each credited with $16,666.67; J. W. Simpson, $12,500; H. P. Babe, $5,555.55, and F. J. F. Lovejoy, trustee, $183,611.10.

In the reorganization of the Carnegie Steel Company, limited, Andrew Carnegie leads off with an increase in his holdings of $11,000,000, making his stock $13,833,338.66, having more than $1,000,000 above the controlling interest in his own name. The others run as follows: Henry Phipps, Jr., increase, $2,200,000; total stock, $2,750,000; H. C. Frick, increase, $2,200,000; total, $2,750,000; G. Lander, increase, $800,000; total, $1,000,000; W. H. Singer, increase, $400,000; total, $500,000; H. M. Curry, increase, $400,000; total, $500,000; H. M. Borntrager, increase, $400,000; total, $500,000; J. G. A. Leishman, increase, $400,000; total, $500,000; W. L. Abbott, increase, $200,000; total, $250,000; Otis Childs, same as Mr. Abbott; J. W. Vandervoort, increase, $100,000; total, $200,000; C. L. Strobel and Secretary Lovejoy, increase, $133,333.33; total, $100,000; Patrick R. Dillon now holds $125,000; W. P. Palmer, W. Blackburn, D. C. Phipps, A. R. Peacock, J. C. Hoffman and J. C. Fleming, each $33,333.33; J. H. Simpson, $62,500; H. P. Babe, $27,777.77, and F. J. Lovejoy, trustee, $918,655.57.

The officers of the new company, are: H. C. Frick, chairman; H. M. Curry, treasurer, and F. J. F. Lovejoy, secretary. They went into office July 1, 1892.

The old firm was organized April 1, 1884, to run twenty years. The new company is a continuation of the first firm, and is to exist for the same number of years, dating back to 1884; that is to say, the present organized firm remaining included in the reorganization are the Edgar Thompson, Homestead, Duquesne Upper and Lower Union Mills, Lucy Furnaces, Keystone Bridge Works, Beaver Falls Mills, Scotia Ore Mines, in Center; Larmer Coke Works, in Westmoreland county, and the Youngioghney Coke Works in Allegheny county.

WAS HIS INTENT WRONG.

Lincoln Journal.

The hearing of Professor L. E. Hicks on the charge of illegal voting in the Fourth ward was again taken up before United States Commissioner Billingsley yesterday morning. Several witnesses were examined as to the extent to which the professor occupied his room at 127 L street and Professor Hicks testified as before that his family was residing temporarily in Grandview although he had never exercised civil rights there, and believed himself a resident of the Fourth ward, accordingly registering and voting from there. Commissioner Billingsley held that he had not satisfactorily established his residence in the Fourth ward, but there was no evidence that his intention was to act illegally, and as there was a question as to whether the United States must prove the intention to violate the law, the case was continued until 2 p. m. Saturday for further investigation of the law.

The hearing of the mandamus proceedings in the district court at Clay Center, wherein ex-Speaker Elder et al sought to compel the county clerk to issue certificates of election to them, was had yesterday before Judge Hastings, and in obedience to the court's order the clerk issued the certificates.

The home of A. C. Tremmel, a farmer residing near Cody, Neb., was the scene of a distressing tragedy Monday. In the absence of the parents the two boys, aged 11 and 9 respectively, secured an old gun, and after extracting the shot from a number of shells, proceeded to fire at a mark. The eight-year-old sister of the boys received a charge during the practicing, causing instant death.

TRIPLETS WITH POLITICAL NAMES.

Grover, David B. and Harrison Struemfeller are triplets. They were born Monday in New York City. Jacob Struemfeller, their fond father, is a loyal democrat. His wife is a republican. That is why one of the triplets was named Harrison. The triplets were born half an hour apart. Each of them weighed eight pounds. Mr. Struemfeller weighs 120 pounds. He is five feet tall. Mrs. Struemfeller weighs 200 pounds.

IN THE DEAD OF NIGHT.

An Illinois Village Laid Low by a Cyclone.

ONE KILLED, MANY HURT.

A Preacher in Oklahoma Prayed for the Lord to Direct him How to Vote and He Voted the Republican Ticket.

CAUSED MUCH SUFFERING.

KEOSAU, Ill., Nov. 17.—Early this morning a cyclone swept over this village, destroying thirty-five houses, killing one boy and injuring fifteen persons. Two churches, the town hall, the jail and newspaper office are among the buildings leveled. The storm came from the south, accompanied by a heavy rain, and swept a path 200 yards wide through the town. The wires are down in every direction, so that it is impossible to ascertain the full extent of the damage. There will be much suffering among the homeless victims.

Where last night existed a beautiful town, full of happy homes, is today a scene of wreck and desolation. Houses, barns, fences and orchards are leveled to the ground spread over the surrounding country.

Entering from the south, the cyclone first demolished the Catholic church and school buildings and the residence of Morgan Drage. The German Lutheran church was next leveled to the ground. After destroying several barns and tearing away fences, it struck the large residence of Peter Kendall, which was solid stone, and crumbled it to fragments. Mrs. Kendall was severely injured. The large brick building occupied by D. D. Perry as a news paper office and composing room was entirely destroyed. The family was buried in the ruins, but managed to extricate themselves without serious injury. Peterson's agricultural warehouse was blown down and fourteen other residences destroyed.

The son of Jacob Koch was killed instantly and his mother fatally injured.

The injured included the following:

Mrs. JACOB KOCH, fatally.
Mrs. PETER KENDALL.
Mrs. PETER KARDEN.
Mrs. LOUIS BOGER.
JULIUS HONN.
Mrs. BRENNEMAN.
Mrs. EMMA CROW.
Mrs. JOHN MANDERFELDT.
Mr. and Mrs. D. D. PERRY.

Many people are without clothing and shelter and a cold rain makes the situation deplorable.

The loss is estimated at $100,000.

The horrors of an inky darkness, lighted up momentarily by flashes of lightning, added to the fear and madness which oppressed all minds during this terrible visitation. Daylight only made more terrible that which night had hidden. The streets, when lit up by the first streaks of dawn, presented a pitiable scene of ruin and utter desolation. On every hand arose the moans of the injured and the grief of their friends and relatives. The streets were blocked with debris of the storm wreck and for some time it was impossible to get an accurate list of the sufferers from the terrible visitation.

As soon as the more fortunate of the people of the little city recovered from the first shock of the calamity, efforts were at once directed to caring for the injured. There were taken to the homes of those who had escaped the storm's wrath and cared for by willing hands, and the doctors of the village dressed their wounds.

HIS PRAYER ANSWERED.

GUTHRIE, Okla., Nov. 16.—All the ministers in the territory are laughing at Rev. Webster Full of Stillwater, the pastor of the Methodist Church South. On the Sunday preceding the election he prayed publicly for the Lord to direct him how to cast his ballot on election day. He went to the polls and voted, as he thought, the straight democratic ticket. After leaving the booth he stopped to hear some man explain the method of stamping the ticket under the Australian system, and was horrified to learn that he had used the stamp wrong, and had really voted the republican ticket. He rushed back into the booth and wanted to take his ticket out of the box and change it, but was denied the privilege. For the first time in his life he had voted the republican ticket, and his friends all tell him that in answer to his prayer the Lord had directed his vote, even against his own wishes.

JUSTICE FIELD MAY RESIGN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 16.—Politicians here are discussing the chance of Justice Stephen Field resigning from the United States Supreme Court before Cleveland takes office next March. Oregonians think Senator Joe Dolph, of Oregon, will have the best show with Harrison, and that he will be appointed as Field's successor. The reason for Field's action is partly his animosity toward Cleveland and partly his fear that should he die in the next four years Cleveland would appoint Judge Wallace of San Francisco, who has been Field's bitter enemy for thirty years. Field can not expect to live long, and he prefers to see a republican in his seat on the bench rather than Wallace. Field is a good hater, and he has nursed a grudge against Cleveland because Grover passed him by for the Chief Justiceship and appointed Fuller and ignored several of his own recommendations to office. When Field insisted upon recognition he was plainly given to understand that he could have no hand in California patronage. Wallace and Field fell out at the Stockton Convention, about eight years ago, when the California democracy was rent by a factional dispute, the wounds of which have not yet healed. Field was anxious to resign from the bench during Cleveland's first term, but he learned that Cleveland would appoint Wallace, so he held on. Recently he told friends that if Harrison were defeated he should resign this winter, in order to prevent any possibility of Wallace getting the office.

ELECTION CROOKS INDICTED.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 17.—The Federal grand jury of the United States district court of the western district of Missouri tonight returned six sealed indictments against democrats charged with frauds at the recent elections. Frauds on election day were notorious and open in Kansas City on the part of the democrats, thousands of voters being disfranchised by the arbitrary action of the partisan democratic recorder of voters, and repeating and bribery of voters being open. There were also a number of cases in which United States marshals and republican challengers were interfered with in the discharge of their duties. Since the election a committee of citizens, composed of some of the leading men of the city, have been investigating and gathering evidence. This evidence was presented to the federal grand jury, with the result that six indictments were returned tonight and many more are to follow. Until the arrests are made tomorrow the officials will not give out the names of the indicted persons, but suspicion points to a number of persons who have been the leaders in doing the dirty work of Kansas City's combine.

THE GOD'S PEOPLE COMMUNITY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The arrest of Garrett Storms and Mrs. Elizabeth Berry, of the "God's People" community, which has its headquarters on the Storm farm, near Woodcliff, N. J., is the beginning of another attempt by the farmers of the vicinity to rid the neighborhood of the sect. They are charged with violating a State law which prohibits "worthy employment, serile labor, tipping, playing at quitoes," and many other things on the Sabbath day. The God's People had offended against the law by husking corn last Sunday.

The good people about Woodcliff most strenuously object to the God's People, because of their free love practices. It is told of them, but it may be only folk tales, that the followers of Huntsman Manson hold what they call Angel Dances, the sensational failure of which is that the people of both sexes take hold of a blanket and shake it violently while they dance, the dancers being in a condition of undress which leaves nothing to the imagination. As most of the people are old, toil-bent and uncouth, it is difficult to picture the scene with any element of fascination in it. Mrs. Berry, in giving details of her faith, stated that while they found no authority of marriage in the New Testament, and so didn't believe in the marriage ceremony, they acknowledged the desirability of continuing the human race.

"But that," she said takes care of itself. You can go to the beasts and birds for nature's intent in that respect. The birds mate by choice and in proper season. When all society shall be guided by such precepts the evils of the world will be diminished."

Garret Storms was seen, but declined to say anything except that all newspaper men are liars. He is a big muscular-looking man with unkempt hair and beard.

THE STATE BANK ISSUE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—News from Georgia that the democratic legislature has been resolving in favor of the repeal of the state bank tax is causing to the democratic leaders. Northern democrats have pretended to believe that there is not much vitality to the movement for the state bank repeal, but in the south there is just as much vitality as there is to the wiping out of the tariff. There are probably a dozen bills which have been introduced in the present congress for the repeal of the 10 per cent tax on state banks. Senators Daniel of Virginia and Vance of North Carolina have been prominent in advocating these measures. At the coming session some of the bills will be pressed, not with the idea that they can become law now, but with the purpose of paving the way for wildcat currency when the democrats are in control of all the branches of the government.

FURIOUS STORM IN THE NORTHWEST.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 18.—In thirty-six hours not a click has been heard from the telegraph wires connecting Chicago with the great northwest, all that section having been practically isolated. Up to midnight tonight the situation is unchanged. The only way the Twin Cities can be reached from Chicago is via Omaha, Ogden, San Francisco and Helena, and back again via the northern route.

With the view of obtaining some reliable news from the storm boundary, reporters were meeting incoming trains from the northwest and interviewing passengers who might have the necessary information. It was learned from E. J. Earling, general manager of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, who arrived from the northwest, that last night's storm was very severe throughout western Wisconsin, northern Iowa and southern Minnesota. It started with a heavy wind and rain. The wind suddenly turned to snow, which fell to the depth of a foot throughout western Wisconsin and southern Minnesota. The rain froze on the wires, breaking them down with the weight of ice, and a number of telegraph poles are down also.

"We have experienced the greatest difficulty in getting the train through," he said, "and train dispatchers have not been able to send a single message for over twenty-four hours. I have heard no reports of any loss of life, but it is possible there may have been something of the kind."

The storm seems to have done its work very thoroughly throughout western Wisconsin. Early this morning a smashup occurred on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, between Plattville and Mineral Point, but the railroad officials have been unable to obtain the slightest particulars as to its cause or severity. The extreme north of Minnesota and North Dakota are reported to have escaped the storm altogether, but it seems to have raged with great violence throughout northern and central Iowa, as the railroads report that they have been unable to get a single dispatch into or out of any town between here and Council Bluffs.

The South Omaha Tribune comes out right after election in a brand new dress which greatly improves its appearance.

Sleep on Left Side.

Many persons are unable to sleep on their left side. The cause has long been a puzzle to physicians. Metropolitan papers speak with great interest of Dr. Franklin Miles, the eminent Indiana specialist in nervous and heart diseases, who has proven that this habit arises from a diseased heart. He has examined and kept on record thousands of cases. His New Heart Cure, a wonderful remedy, is sold at F. G. Fricke & Co. Thousands testify to its value as a cure for heart diseases. Mrs. Chas. Benoy, Loveland, Colo., says its effects on her were marvelous. Elegant book on heart disease free.
