THOSE BLACK DIAMONDS

Plattsmouth Capitalists Are Bound to Discover Coal.

COAL AT ELMWOOD, NEB.

They Will Begin Work as Soon as the Weather Will Permit—The Lincoln Police Have Trouble With School Children.

Richey's Coal Field.

The Richey Bros. have leased 1000 acres of land at Elmwood and will drill for coal, the Echo has the following to say in regard to the matter.

Nearly six years ago the first discovery was made in the earth beneath Elmwood. At that time a small vein was struck but 37 feet under the surface, but no further prospect was made. Last Monday Richey Bros. of Plattsmouth came out and looked over the ground, they have a good deal of experience in that line. They soon became convinced that the prospect was good enough to warrant them in placing machinery here and making an investigation. They at once secured a 20 year lease of over 1000 acres of land in and near Elmwood and within sixty days the drills will be set to work and we shall soon know the result. Richey Bros. have a diamond drill and have the money to back them and they mean business.

Police and School Children.

The school boys of Lincoln with assistance of their teacher defied the police last Friday and came out on top, following is the account of the affair as given to the papers. Two boys, one the son of A. D. Barr a wealthy citizen, snowballing each other when a street band passed the High school building at noon. One of the missiles came dangerously near smacking the trombone player in the face, and Officer Carder, who was present, attempted to arrest the boys. The crowd, which speedily grew to large proportions, interfered, and dared the policeman to make the arrest. He called for aid, and two officers came dashing up in the patrol wagon. They, too, attempted to make the arrest, but the principle of the school interfered and promised that the officers would be roughly handled if they made the attempt. The principle was backed by the crowd, who threatened to wipe out a few of the officers, and after a long parley the bluecoats decided they didn't want to arrest anybody and retired in good order.

We can Save You Money.

We wish you would always remember that we can save you money on drugs, paints, oils, wall-paper, etc. We carry a clean, new complete stock of goods as you will generally find in a first class drug store.

Our drug department is complete in every detail, and we can make it an object for you to deal with us.

Our Wall Paper and Paint department is larger than ever and you know our reputation for bargains in this line is such that cannot be equaled by any one in Cass county. BROWN & BARRETT, Druggists, Plattsmouth, Neb.

A train load of corn went east last week addressed to parties in Scotland. This is the first large shipment of corn direct from the west to that country, and is only a indication of what it will be in a few years.

Miss Manota and Alice Eikenbary entertained a number of their friends last Saturday evening in honor of Miss May Gilchrist of South Omaha.

PEOPLE AND AFFAIRS.

Peter Perry and daughter, Leo of Eight Mile Grove arrived in the city last Friday from an eight weeks visit at his old home near Greensboro, N. C. His nephew, Robert Gleen came back with him and will remain a short time and see how he likes the west.

A bouncing boy arrived at the home of Hon. R. B. Windham last Friday morning and he will remain till he votes the republican ticket which will be twenty-one years hence.

It is now rumored that the M. P. is going to build a line from Manley to Wabash, to shorten its route from Omaha to Lincoln.

Samuel McConkey, who lives just south of town, fell down last Thursday and broke his leg, Dr. W. H. Schildknecht attended the unfortunate man, and he is getting along as well as could be expected.

The wonderful popularity attained by Hood's Sarsaparilla Calendar last year, will be repeated by Hood's Household Calendar-Almanac for 1893, just published. A happier combination of calendar and almanac, of beauty and utility, of art and advertising, has seldom been produced. The lovely picture of "The Young Discoverers" lithographed in many delicate colors, will be welcome everywhere, while the pad is attractively printed in colors but with sharp plain figures. Copies may be obtained of the druggists, or by sending six cents in stamps for one copy, or ten cents for two, to C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

W. D. Hill and James Crofford of South Bend were in the city the last of last week.

Mr. Elis Srge requested us to make a correction of the statement of his running over a boy which appeared in last weeks paper, which we gladly do. He did not run over the boy as stated, he had just passed and the boys sled struck the hind wheel of his wagon.

A very pretty marriage was the that occurred last Wednesday evening at the palatial residence of L. C. Pollard of Nehawka. The contracting parties were Miss Sallie P. Pollard, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Pollard, and Gail C. Stabler of Montana.

We received this week the Mahoning Dispatch published at Canfield, Ohio, dated January 20, which contained the notice of the death of Mrs. Eliza Twiss, who died in Cincinnati on the 7th. She was the mother of our fellow townsman, C. S. Twiss. Her age was eighty-seven years. The same paper also published the death notice of her stepson, Ira M. Twiss who is a half brother of C. S. Twiss. Mr. Twiss was born in Poland, October 7, 1827.

CAUGHT HIS FINGER

Wm. Ploeger, while working on the large grind stone in the B. & M. shops Monday caught his hand between the stone and the frame, scraping the flesh off the back of the first and second fingers and causing a very painful wound.

The machinery for Mr. Heisel's new mill arrived Tuesday over the B. & M. R. R., and the men have begun to place it in the mill.

IT HAS BEEN HIT HARD.

The Capital National Bank of Lincoln Closed.

WILL BE NOTHING SAVED.

Bank Examiner Griffith Orders The Capital National to Close its Doors—The State of Nebraska a Loser.

Closed Sunday Night

National Bank Examiner J. M. Griffith of Wahoo went to Lincoln last Saturday and examined the Capital National bank of Lincoln and closed it up Sunday night about 11 o'clock. The report says it is a bad failure and that the state is caught to the tune of about $250,000.

The capital stock is $350,000 all paid up. Cashier Outcalt stated that the assets would protect the depositors but there is great doubt expressed as to the correctness of this statement.

J. E. Hill ex-state treasurer in discussing the situation could not refrain from expressing a feeling of relief that he had transferred his office to his successor before the crash came. In this connection it may be stated that the bond given by Treasurer Bartley was for $31,000,000, which was $600,000 more than required by law. His bond includes nearly all the banks in Lincoln, two at Fremont, Lerder Girard of Columbus and the Globe and Trust Co. of Omaha.

The bank skipped a dividend the last time, which was the first occurrence of the kind in its history. The last statement showed $34,000 charged to the account of profit and loss. Some time ago the bank examiner required the bank to turn a large amount of gas bonds into money, and also compelled the assignment of the penitentiary contract. It is stated that the contract was a losing investment, but other information is to the effect that it had always been claimed to be good property.

State Treasurer Bartley is not in the city having left Saturday to spend Sunday with his family. It is stated that the statement of the law calling for a special bond from every bank in which state money is deposited had been complied with in this case, and the bond is said to have been filed ten days ago. It is signed by the Capital National bank, C. W. Mosher and R. C. Outcalt. The bond is therefore worthless.

The Capital National bank was constructed from the ruins of the old Marsh Harvester bank, which died from pure exhaustion about eight years ago. Mosher was a nephew of C. W. Marsh, and was connected with the Marsh bank. Well known bankers of Lincoln have known for some time that this bank was in a bad fix, but thought Mosher would help it along with his private fund. They now believe that Mosher and Outcalt are in such close quarters that they could not save anything even were they disposed to have done so.

Another One Closed.

WAHOO, Jan. 24.—The state bank of Wahoo closed its doors today with a card hung in the window announced that the institution was in the hands of the state banking board. Creighton Morris, state bank examiner was in charge during the day and announced that the affairs of the bank was in such condition that a receiver would be appointed to take charge of the institution. The last statement showed but $19,000 on deposit.

W. H. Dickinson, the proprietor and principle stockholder of the bank, a few weeks ago quietly disposed of all his real estate, either by mortgage or warranty deed, and has been absent for such a time, supposedly in Texas. No estimate of assets and liabilities can be given. There are no heavy depositors and the failure, if such it proves, will not effect any of the business institutions, unless it may be C. H. Adams, & Co., grain dealers, and the Wahoo Electric Light company, in both of which Mr. Dickinson was a large owner.

A Break Down.

Walt Mason in Washington News.

I hitched my wagon to a star when I was very young; I said, said I: "Some day my name will through the world have rung; some day I'll wear a stove-pipe hat and smoke high-priced cigars, I'll be a sort of growing orb among the lesser stars." But luck has never been with me; my hopes have fallen flat, a chunk of plaster never falls, but that it hits my hat; when'er I yearn for butter-milk the waiter brings me tea; I never tried to ride a horse but that the horse rode me; when'er I fall asleep in church they tell me I snore; if I drop bread the buttered side is sure to strike the floor and so it goes forever thus; 'twould make a marter scoff; I hitched my wagon to a star, and all the wheels came off.

One of McMaken's horses fell in a hole where the men had been cutting ice last Tuesday after considerable work the horse was got out and was none the wores for his bath apparently.
