A Social Time

Tom and Maggie Mapes last Thursday evening entertained a few of their friends in a most enjoyable manner at their home on Marble street. The evening was spent in social conversation until half past ten when light refreshments were served. Those present were Nettie Waybright, Margaret Davis, Blanche Kennedy, Grace Britt, Alice Wilson, Jeannie Marshall and Maggie Mapes and Geo. Spurlock, George Anderson, C. S. Polk, Cliff Wescott, Bob Browne, Clark Wilson and Tom Mapes.

Played High-Five.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Murphy gave a High-five party to a few friends last week, and all who were present report a pleasant time. Mrs. A. C. Gass and Mr. J. F. Wallington carried off the prizes, a silver souvenir spoon and a morocco bound copy of Scott's poems. Those who enjoyed the festivities of the evening were: Messers and Mesdames A. C. Gass of Pacific Junction, J. F. Wellington, E. J. Morgan, D. C. Morgan, T. H. Pollock, E. W. Cook, F. W. Lehnhoff, W. K. Fox, Frank Dickson and Byron Clark.

Birthday Party.

Saturday was the thirty-seventh anniversary of the natal day of Mrs. Jacob Kepple, and in commemoration of the event a large number of that lady's friends were invited to appropriately observe the day. The hostess was presented with a handsome hanging lamp, given as a token of the esteem in which she is held; and wished very many happy returns of the day.

PEOPLE AND AFFAIRS.

Jas. W. Sage last week bought Robert Carlisle's farm of 160 acres in Stove Creek precinct for $5,000 and gave a house and lot in this city as part payment valued at $1,100.

Geo. E. Dovey, Wm. L. Harris and Edgar Perry filed an injunction last week restraining R. W. Hyers, receiver from selling certain land to satisfy a mortgage held by A. B. Todd and others.

Henry Horn and family left last week for a visit with relatives in Illinois.

John G. George, a Custer county farmer cleared $300 last year on a quarter section of land, and yet the poor farmer is taxed to death.

A defective flue caused a small blaze and the fire ladies to be called out last Thursday noon. It was discovered that the fire was in a house belonging to Mrs. Winterstein in the fourth ward, the fire was put out before any serious damage was done.

W. H. Dearing, clerk of the district court, last week filed an application with Judge Ramsey asking for the appointment of D. C. West of Nehawka as guardian of Theodore Rhinehart, who was adjudged insane about three months ago and sent to the insane asylum at Lincoln.

Miss Lizzie Wright of Dallas Center Iowa, who was elected to the position of teacher in the Grammer department, arrived last week and reported for duty. She takes the place made vacant by the appointment of Miss Alice Wilson to the principalship of the new Ninth street school.

J. C. Petersen sold his meat market last Thursday to Ed. Hansen, who has been in Mr. Petersen's employ for the past three years. Mr. Petersen will travel as salesman for the Swift Packing Co., of Omaha.

THE HERALD is the best advertising medium in Cass county for it is read by the most people and of a better class than any other paper in Cass county.

George Ruby and Coon Vallery brought a crazy man in town Saturday who is a Russian Pole, his name is not known but he is a dangerous crazy man, he was locked up in the jail with two other prisoners and at dinner time he got hold of a knife and for a little while he made things lively for the prisoners also for the sheriff, the hose had to be turned on him, before he was subdued. An envelope on his person was addressed to Nicholas Herek, Omaha. He had $19 in cash when arrested.

Prof. Halsey's little boy is quite sick with diphtheria.

Irene Williams slipped and fell last Saturday evening while walking down the High School hill and sprained her left ankle.

James Walstrom of Rock Bluffs died last Thursday of Bright's disease of the kidneys. He was eighty-three years old. Mr. Walstrom has resided in Cass county for the past 33 years and was known all over the county. The funeral was held on Friday afternoon and the remains laid at rest in the Rock Bluffs cemetery.

Last Friday morning as M. S. Briggs and family were at breakfast, the paper on the wall upstairs caught fire from the stove pipe and the smoke coming down warned the family of the danger they were in. Mr. Briggs rushed upstairs with a bucket of water and put the fire out before any material damage was done.

THE RAILWAY MEN LOSE

Justice Fox Decides Eighteen Cases Saturday.

THOSE CONTEMPT CASES.

Omaha Furnishes a Queer Case-William Brensley Austin Loses His Mind and is Confined in the Poor House

Expensive Litigation Justice Fox handed down his decision Saturday in the eighteen suits in which the Plattsmouth railroad men were garnished by W. E. Fraser. In every one of them a judgment was entered against the railway men. The following are the names of those against whom judgments were rendered: C. E. Duke, Charles M. Foster, Jas. Pine, W. H. Mallick, Jacob Houck, L. A. Newcomer, J. Dawson, L. E. Karnes, G. W. Thomas, C. L. Mitchell, P. D. Barr, E. E. Weinick, Frank Vermilyea, Charles Kinnamon, E. Tidd, G. L. Twissler, F. Kandish and M. Cross. The repeated continuances, witness fees and other expenses connected with the trial had run up a large bill of costs which will have to be paid by the defendants, together with the amount of their respective debts.

It was in connection with the trial of these cases that Justice Fox, fined Woolley and Dwyer for contempt of court. The contest case also came up for a decision. Attorney Woolley was present and put in another request for mercy, asking the court to make the records read as if the objectionable affidavit had never been filed, but his request was denied, and Woolley paid his $5 and costs rather than go to jail. Dwyer, on the contrary, did not show up at all, so that the judgment of the court could be visited upon him.

A Queer Case.

Wm. Brensley Austin who disappeared from his home in Omaha on December 6th has been located in the Douglas county poor house and the following is an account as published by the Bee: The blotter at the central police station shows that near the hour of midnight on December 6th, an individual was arrested who gave his name as Wm. Brensley. He was booked as having "snakes" and the city physician called and the man was sent to the county jail, where he remained until the 18th, when the insanity commission ordered him sent to the poor farm.

Austin declares that he arrived in Omaha on the day he was arrested that he was met by three men on his way up town who robbed him of $90, a watch and his overcoat. He followed them until the policeman caught him. He declares that he is kept in the institution that the relatives of Austin may secure some valuable property that was left to him in Ireland upon the death of his father.

Upon every subject except the one regarding his connection with Austin he talks rationally as any man can, but when that is brought up he declares that Austin is dead and that he is Wm. Brensley.

"Would you like to see your wife and boys?" was asked.

In reply he said he would like to see anybody as it would vary the monotony.

Shortly after this Mrs. Austin was notified that her husband was at the poor farm. Mrs. Austin and children hastened to the scene.

When the party entered the room Austin gazed from one to the other and then in a low tone of voice he remarked to the attendant: "I wish you would tell me who these people are?"

The poor woman being unable to conceal her feeling, broke down and wept like a child, while the little boys looked into the eyes of their father, hoping that he would speak to them.

Recovering her composure to some extent, Mrs. Austin asked: "William don't you know me?" Austin looked her straight in the eyes and said:

"I can't say that I do, though you do look something like Bill Austin's wife did the last time I saw her, but that was years ago.

One of the little boys went up to him and put his arms around his neck inquired:

"Papa don't you know me?"

The poor man put the little fellow from him and carefully scrutinizing his face answered: "You do look something like Bill Austin's boy did the last time I saw him, but that was years ago."

The wife and children then retraced their steps homeward and with heavy hearts.
