Woodmen of the World. The "Woodmen of the World" is a raternal beneficiary order destined rom its phenominal growth and increasing popularity to eventually become one of the strongest protection raternities in existence. Though only six years old, it has penetrated every state and province in the United States and Canada, and has been admitted into England, France and Germany. Its jurisdiction, though world-wide, is divided in sub-districts, according to the health of the respective localities, each paying its own lossess. Its membership is about 58,000. When it is considered that on the 9th inst, a camp of this order was organized in the city of Omaha, consisting of 130 of the most prominent professional and business men of the city and state, its value and perfection is exemplified, not only by unprecedented growth of membership but also by the quality of its members. Among the many prominent and distinguished gentlemen of omaha in the order are: Judge Irvine, of the supreme bench of Nebraska; bate judge; Eller, ex-county judge; McDonald, sheriff; Burket, coroner; Edwards, city treasurer; Patterson, the capitalist; Rector, wholesale hardware merchant; Cole, the great com mission merchant; Hon. John L Webster, City Attorney Churchill, etc. This order has a well-established camp in this city. Parties wishing to join the order will do well to see the above deputies or give their names to some member of this camp at once, as they are working under a special dispensation while the deputies are

The boys call it a "bike" and are to lie heavily on their literary consciences, and we who ride and are hap py and independent call it a "wheel, in spite of the finicky protest of sundry would be pedants who fill space in the daily and weekly papers. Pray, why not "wheel?" Do you know of a better name? Surely not "bicycle," for "bi cycle," besides being an awkward word, does not describe the instrument of delight we know, as doubtless the originator of the word fully dreamed it did. "Bicycle" has an affected, strained sound that ill accords with the best elements of the language we love, the lan-

It is not unusual to designate a spe cific thing by a generic term, and we do no violence to the language when we say we ride a wheel. The term came into general use when men did literally ride upon a wheel, in the days of the old "ordinaries," before the advent of 'safeties." It was a wheel they rode, the second member of the machine trailing behind in almost unnoticed insignificance. It was then that a thousand tongues at once named the wheel.
