He is expected here soon, when he will make a final visit with friends and bid adieu to Nebraska to take up a residence in his English castle.

Referring to the item about the little girl who was bitten by Mr. Kahatek's dog, we learn that no one saw the accident and it is not known whether she was teasing the dog or not, as she was playing in that part of the yard alone. She is getting along nicely and will suffer no bad effects from the unfortunate accident, which Mr. Kahatek's folks very much regret.

MONDAY.

Homer Saunders started today for Exeter, where he will visit his grandparents until school commences in September.

Prof. Palmer, of Montana, who used to teach in the high school here, was in the city over Sunday the guest of friends.

nothing lost

Scott's Emulsion makes cod-liver oil taking next thing to a pleasure. You hardly taste it. The stomach knows nothing about it—it does not trouble you there. You feel it first in the strength that it brings; it shows in the color of the cheek, the rounding of the angles, the smoothing of the wrinkles.

It is cod-liver oil digested for you, slipping as easily into the blood and losing itself there as rain-drops lose themselves in the ocean.

What a satisfactory thing this is—to hide the odious taste of cod-liver oil, evade the tax on the stomach, take health by surprise.

There is no secret of what it is made of—the fish-fat taste is lost, but nothing is lost but the taste.

Perhaps your druggist has a substitute for Scott's Emulsion. Isn't the standard all others try to equal the best for you to buy? 10 cents and $1.00
