A SERIOUS FRACAS.

Some Bethlehemites Load Up With Bad Whisky and a Scrap Knew.

Eli Birdsall of Bethlehem, and his partner, a man much larger than himself, were in town yesterday and sought solace in the flowing bowl. They were quite "jaggy" when they started for home last night in company with Harrison McCord and some other residents of the Iowa bottoms, and when they reached a point above the bridge a quarrel ensued which ended in a fight between Birdsall and Birdsall, and the latter cut the former's head up so badly that he came near bleeding to death before he could be taken up town to a physician.

Dr. Cummins bandaged up the fellow's head, which looked like he had fallen into a stone crusher and today he is able to be out on the street.

Daily made good his escape across the river, consequently no arrests have been made.

IT IS BRYAN AND WATSON.

The Populist National Convention Queers the Silver Democrats.

The gold bug democrats and republicans are laughing over the result of the populist convention. First all rules were ignored, and before the Bryan men could get their breath the vice-president was nominated first, and his name wasn't Sewall, either. The Bryanites were panic-stricken and W. J. telegraphed at once that his name should not be used for the presidential nomination.

This all occurred last night and today Mr. Bryan was nominated by the convention just the same. It looks like the wily politician from Lincoln had been razzle-dazzled or out classed somewhere in the move, and the next turn of the kaleidoscope will be watched with special interest.

A VICIOUS RUNAWAY.

A Team on Sixth Street Takes a Lively Chase With Only Slight Damage.

Alex Burtwell was loading a wood-rack on the running-gears of a lumber wagon near Sage & Shumaker's ivery barn without un hitching the team this morning.

The horses seem to have been vicious anyway, and with a sudden leap they tore away like the wind, the light wagon being no serious impediment to their speed. They went north on Sixth street at a killing pace up to Fricke's residence, when they ran into a shade tree, fell down and were captured. The nekyoke and a bolt or two in the coupling was broken, while the horses, which looked as though they would be killed, did not have a scratch.

Charley Twiss' horse and buggy were standing at Straight & Sattler's. The quiet animal, at peace with the world, had its head down as if asleep and before it could pick up its ears the wagon of the runaway team struck the buggy and quicker than you could snap a finger the horse was lying in the street with his heels in the air, a buggy wheel torn to splinters and the team which did the damage nearly half a block away. Several narrow escapes were made before the tree was struck which ended the race. Two wagons were slightly touched. An inch more and they would have been wrecked also.

Thurston May Follow Bryan.

The interesting information comes from Chicago that the republican managers are considering the advisability of following Bryan on the stump in Maine and other parts of New England if the latter carries out his plan to go down there to speak. It is probable that the senator will follow Bryan in New York also. It is said that the republican managers consider it a wise plan to detail Senator Thurston to look after Bryan during the entire campaign and give him nothing else to do.

It is generally conceded that Thurston made the best speech at the St. Louis convention and Bryan the best speech at the Chicago convention, but they are very different in their style of oratory. Bryan is compared to light cavalry; Thurston to heavy artillery. Thurston is said to be the only debater that Bryan is afraid of, for the senator learned some of Bryan's weak points in their joint debates and knows where and how to strike him so it hurts.—Nebraska City Press.

Celebrated Their Golden Wedding.

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Foiden was celebrated in splendid form at Union July 21. Mr. Foiden was one of the first ministers to set foot in this county, and if all the charitable deeds and helpful, christian acts performed by him and his worthy wife were recorded it would take an immense book to hold them. Mr. and Mrs. Foiden were kindly remembered by hosts of friends who presented them with no end of valuable and useful presents. A more deserving couple could not be found within the realm of old Cass, and the NEWS, with other Plattsmouth friends, takes pleasure in extending congratulations.

Attempts Her Own Life.

Rebecca is the eighteen-year-old daughter of Jim Baker of Rock Bluffs. She has been doing house work for Mrs. S. P. Holloway at the jail, and gave satisfaction. She entertained no gentleman friends and appeared to be fancy free, though at times she seemed a little down hearted.

About 4 o'clock yesterday Mrs. Holloway being away, Miss Baker gave her little daughter Exie a note to be delivered to Miss Carrie Holloway at 6 o'clock but not before. The little girl read the note and found what was about to happen so she went and notified Carrie at once, who came over to the house. She had been in the room but a few minutes and only turned her back when the girl drank a vial of digitalis, but the sharp eyes of the little girl saw her, and Dr. Schildknecht was called at once.

Miss Baker at first refused to take an antidote, but by a skillful ruse she was prevailed upon and was soon on the way to recovery. Had help not been prompt the poison would soon have ended the girl's career, but she persistently refused to give any reason for her rash act.

A SCATHING REBUKE.

Bill Greene Wakes Up the Wrong Man and Gets a Severe Roasting.

ST. LOUIS, July 24.—(To the editor of the Globe-Democrat)—I notice in this morning's paper a virulent attack on me by the Nebraska delegation signed by W. L. Greene, chairman, and Warwick Saunders, secretary. I do not believe it was authorized by the decent element on that delegation. W. L. Greene is an office holder, and hopes to be nominated for congress and get the democratic endorsement. Warwick Saunders is one of Governor Holcomb's oil inspectors. Half of the delegation are Governor Holcomb's appointees, who hope to perpetuate their jobs.

Governor Holcomb has made a direct deal with Mr. Bryan to nominate him at St. Louis, and thereby get Bryan's support for governor this fall.

It is a direct and shameless sell-out of the populist party of Nebraska. Senator Allen has also entered into a deal to be re-elected to the United States senate, as a result of this trade. Over half of these men are office-holders, and as such under our rules are not eligible to seats in our convention. They are here wearing democratic badges, and their leaders are daily conferring with the chairman of the democratic national committee. They have shamelessly sold out the populist party in our state for gain. They came here on railroad passes and packed the convention by the most shameless and corrupt old party methods. Governor Holcomb's nearest relatives are on a trip to Alaska as guests of the Union Pacific Railroad company. In our state it is well known that Governor Holcomb is under the absolute control of the goldbug editor of the Omaha Bee. He appointed his son to a high office. These people, by sinister influences that will not bear the light, are seeking to destroy the people's party. They wear elegant gilt edged badges. The inhibit magnificent headquarters. They howl and jeer at straight populist delegates. In their earnest desire to stay at the pie counters they slander and malign honest men.

I hold two positions in the people's party, president of the national reform press and commander of the national legion. I have given a pledge on honor that I will stand by our party and protect its honor against the malignant assaults of all traitors who may assail it. I will stand by the pledge, no matter what happens. I have no ill will toward Mr. Bryan. He is a good man in bad company. He can not get an honest electoral vote without the aid of the infamous and criminal ballot-box stuffers of the south, who should be hung to the highest trees in their domain. The idea of a man posing as a reform candidate who has to steal all the electors of the southern states. I still stand by the noble men of the south in their gallant struggle for liberty, no matter what the result will be. I denounce the man who issued this address as men who are here to destroy the only silver and reform party in the nation. They are juggling democratic money and moving heaven and earth to strike down the only true silver party. They are aided by all the demons of hell, from all the slums of this nation. They are the direct scoundrels and agents of Wall street.

I appeal from the band of traitors wearing democratic badges to the middle-of-the-road delegates, who cannot be bought or driven or stampeded, and with the help of God, who has ever aided our cause, we will win the battle.

PATL VAN DER VOORT.

President National Reform Press and Commander National Legion.

Declared Insane. The insanity commission, after a thorough examination yesterday afternoon of Joe Krowiec, declared him a fit subject for the insane hospital at Lincoln, and Sheriff Holloway went up there today to arrange with the superintendent for quarters. Mr. Krowiec is not violent and his friends hope to have him cured and returned to them again.

EAGLE REPUBLICANS ORGANIZED.

The Capital of Old Tipton Precinct Enthusiastic For McKinley.

EAGLE, Neb., July 26.—Saturday evening, without any blowing of horns, flaring announcements or advertisement of speeches, seventy-five legal voters of Tipton precinct met in the town of Eagle and organized a McKinley club with the following officers in charge:

President—S. S. English.
Vice-Presidents—J. P. Burdick, A. S. Cooley.
Secretary—R. Wilkinson.
Treasurer—J. Q. Adams.
Executive Committee—J. J. Gardner, G. M. Beach, Dr. Wilmoth, N. S. Miller, T. N. Bobbit.

This surely indicates that Tipton is in dead earnest and will give a big majority for the national state and county ticket in November.

INFORMATION AND OPINIONS.

It seems almost cruel that Watson and Sewall should both have to suffer the ruin and blight of serving together.

An exchange is authority for the statement that to enjoy sausage all that is necessary is faith, hope and charity; faith in the sausage, hope that it isn't your dog, but if it is, to have charity enough to believe that the man didn't know it.

A good story is told of a Beatrice girl who was recently disappointed in her lover. She decided to commit suicide, so when she went to her room the other evening took what she thought was poison. It proved to be Price's baking powder and instead of dying she rose the next morning without calling. She decided to live and is now looking for another young man. —Beatrice times.

Senator Berry of Arkansas tells his friends of a trial for assault in his state, in the course of which a club, a rail, an axe-handle, a knife and a shot gun were exhibited as the "instruments with which the deed was done." But it was also shown that the assailant man defended himself with a revolver, a scythe, a pitchfork, a chisel, a hand-saw and a dog. The jury, Mr. Berry says, came to the conclusion that they'd have given one dollar apiece to have seen the fight. —Kansas City Journal.

A new use has been discovered for hops—namely, the curing of bacon. It is found that a sprinkling of hops in the brine when bacon and ham are put in pickle, adds greatly to the flavor of both, and enables them to keep an indefinite period, says an English paper.
