MRS. GARFIELD'S FORTUNE.

She Has an Annual Income of $21,000 and Lives in Quiet Comfort.

Mrs. Garfield is living quietly at her old home at Mentor, in the suburbs of Cleveland, and the place has been much improved, says the Washington Post. It is now one of the beautiful and comfortable farm residences in Ohio, and an ideal place for a quiet, retired life. It is only fifteen minutes from the cars to Cleveland.

Mrs. Garfield is a rich woman now, but her wealth came with her sorrow. Her early days and, in fact, all her life, even up to the death of her husband, were passed in the closest economy, and she was often deprived of the comforts and luxuries that usually pertain to people of her station.

General Garfield never had anything but his salary. He was an open handed man, generous and careless with his money, and was scarcely ever able to make both ends meet. But Mrs. Garfield now has an income of $16,000 as interest from the fund that was raised for her by Cyrus W. Field after the assassination, and a pension from congress of $5,000, which gives her $21,000 a year to use as she pleases and she does not spend one-fifth of it.

All of the children are well fixed. Mollie, the oldest child, is the wife of Stanley Brown, the representative of the Alaska Commercial company at Washington. James and Harry are practicing law in partnership in Cleveland, and are rapidly making both money and reputations. James is a member of the Ohio state senate, with an excellent record. They are both splendid fellows, and promise to be useful and famous men.

Gen. Garfield had more money a few days after his nomination than he had at one time in his life. He reached Cleveland from the Chicago convention with just $30 in his pocket. That represented all the wealth he had in the world except his mortgaged home at Mentor. Knowing this circumstance, Sylvester T. Everett, the Cleveland banker, in whose house he was a guest, started out one morning with a little subscription paper, and came back with ten $1,000 checks, one of which bore his own signature. He fixed up a bank book, with a package of bank checks, put them in an envelope, and at the first opportunity handed the package to Garfield, with the remark that there was a little pin money for his personal expenses during the campaign, and an explanation that not a penny of it was to be spent for political purposes.

When the general realized the amount and the nature of the gift, he fell upon Everett's neck and wept like a child. He said that the greatest load he had to bear had been taken from him, for he had been laying awake at nights wondering how he was going to meet his personal expenses during the campaign. He said, too, that he never had so much money before in his life.

Huntly has a McKinley club with about 100 members. Beemer boasts of one of the best golf clubs in the state and they are all staunch republicans. Wayne Williams of Woodruff fell as he was getting out of a wagon, Monday evening and cut his face quite badly.

The sheriff contest in Hayes county has been decided in favor of Orr by the district court. The case will go to the supreme court. The farmers of Dawson county are now busy at work in the hay fields. They report the hay crop as very large this season.

Arthur Warner, an employe of the Lexington mill, had the misfortune of dislocating one of his ankles while handling flour last Friday.

Little Roy Balden of near Arcadia burned his foot very badly by pulling the plug out of the washing machine and letting the boiling water into it.

Thousands of tons of hay are now being put upon the Buffalo Flats and in the Beaver valley. The hay in these places is clear of weeds and will make four tons to the acre.

A horse attached to a cart occupied by two little daughters of Andrew Finney of Holbrook became frightened and ran away. The cart was overturned and the little ones badly shaken up, but escaped serious injuries.

A newspaper correspondent out in Wheeler county says he has been threatened with a lynching party on account of some expression of thought and conviction, but he will continue in the same old way until the self-appointed ushers of a bright hereafter make their appearance.

About fifty tickets were sold for the state fair at the Burlington depot this morning and several more people went on the 2:22 train. Only one coach was attached to the morning train and it was crowded to its fullest capacity when it left here. During the remainder of the week, however, ample provision will be made for the accommodation of the crowd.

Fresh Oysters in all styles at Jake Heinrich's restaurant.

A PLEASANT DANCING PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Cones Entertain a Large Company of Young People at the Riley.

Mrs. W. W. Cones, in honor of several lady friends and relatives from the east who have been visiting her for a few days, gave a dancing party at the Hotel Riley last evening. The decorations on the second floor, where refreshments were served, demand special mention. Elegant and expensive palms were artistically placed about the hall and such rooms as were thrown open while Duchess and Safrano roses were plentiful in every available space. At the east end of the hall in a bower of vernal beauty the punch bowl was located, filled with a refreshing and palatable drink. In the room adjoining, delicious ices and cake were served to all who cared to indulge.

The floor was cleared in the dining room and office, which made an ideal dancing room, and to the dulcet notes of the mandolin and guitar the merry devotees of terpsichore kept time with flying feet.

The midnight hour too quickly came but soon after the guests departed for their homes, more than delighted with the hospitality of their hostess. Among the many invited guests we note the following:

Mrs. and Mrs. W. L. Pickett, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Snowey, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Brown, and Messrs. Jno. Coleman, Henry Tartsch, Geo. Spurlock, Will Streight, Dr. Humphrey, Henry Weidman, A. R. Eikenbary, Henry Goos, France Ballance, Con Coffey, Harry Green, Frank White, Will Hayers, Chas. Howe, Tom Parmele, Clayton Barber, Carl Fricke, Emil Wurl, Jno. Cagney, Dave McEntee, Chas. Their Seventh Birthday. Earl Butler and Ramond Travis having attained to the dignity of a seventh birthday yesterday, celebrated the event by inviting twenty of their young friends to spend the afternoon with them. Lots of fun was the verdict of the following who were present: Florence Baird, Ethel and Alice Kempton, Jean Morresey, Carrie Greer, Treeseie Hemple, Georgia and Lucy Hay, Alma Ellingson, and Masters Paul Morgan, Harlan Snyder, Otto Brinkman, Willie and Louie Eggenberger, Horace Dunn, Leon Burton and Clarence Staats.

District Court. The case of the State of Nebraska vs. Eli Jones, which was on trial yesterday, was given to the jury about 5 o'clock. This is the case wherein the defendant was charged with assault upon Mrs. Lulu Ramge and her sister, Miss Carnos, last winter. About 9 o'clock last evening the court and defendant's attorney were notified that they were ready to return a verdict and court was opened for that purpose. The verdict of the jury was assault and battery. Judge Ramsey has not yet sentenced Jones.

Growing in Popularity. Miss Fannie Bates is growing in popularity as a reader and is deservedly popular on concert programs. Miss Bates has a winning manner, an intelligent conception of her work and considerable versatility. — Omaha World-Herald.

Sent It to His Mother in Germany. Mr. Jacob Esbensen, who is in the employ of the Chicago Lumber Co., at Des Moines, Iowa, says: "I have just sent some medicine back to my mother in the old country, that I know from personal use to be the best medicine in the world for rheumatism, having used it in my family for several years. It is called Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It always does the work." 50 cent bottles for sale by all druggists.

Mrs. Phoebe White and daughter, Oquawka, Ills., are visiting the former's sister, Miss May Phelps, in this city.

THEIR TENTH ANNIVERSARY.

Friends of Elder and Mrs. Youtzy Give Them a Pleasant Surprise.

Yesterday was the tenth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Youtzy and in order that this fact might not be overlooked by their friends, to the number of about ninety, called on them in a body last evening. It was a total surprise to them, but they proved themselves equal to the emergency and right royally were their guests entertained. After the crowd had been sized up it was found that their home was inadequate in which to properly entertain them and so they adjourned to the church where the evening was pleasantly spent in social converse and also in inspecting the contents of numerous well-filled baskets that the ladies had taken the precaution to prepare.

The tenth anniversary calls for the "free and unlimited coinage" of tin, and as a consequence Elder Youtzy and wife had tinware this morning of every conceivable description. At a late hour the crowd dispersed, wishing the elder and his estimable wife many more anniversaries of their wedding day.

C. H. Parmele was out on the street today in a carriage. He is slowly recovering from his recent illness.

The Plattsmouth Gun club had a shoot at blue rocks down below the new depot this afternoon, but the high wind prevented any record breaking. They were still shooting as THE NEWS went to Press.
