

CURTIS REGAINS CONSCIOUSNESS.

Gives a Vivid Description of the Man Who Robbed Him.

Claims a Tramp Committed the Deed—The Boy's Description of His Assailant Corresponds Exactly With That of the Man Being Held at Nebraska City—Other News Notes.

The anxious watchers at the bedside of young Peter Curtis at Union were rewarded yesterday by the lad's return to consciousness. Everything now indicates a speedy recovery. Early this evening the injured boy felt well enough to give the following account of the most brutal holdup that has occurred in this section for some years.

The boy says he left town alone. When he had gone a short distance he was overtaken by a tramp, who threw his arms around his neck affectionately and said that as he was going that way they would walk together. About half a mile out the tramp broke a limb off a peach tree and made a club. About half a mile further on he threw the club away.

The boy asked what he intended doing with it, and the tramp replied that he might need it to kill dogs. When they got within twenty yards of the house where the lad intended staying all night he turned to leave the stranger and remarked that he was going to stay here all night. The tramp grabbed him by the throat and told him to give up his money. Curtis did so and then the tramp throttled him and threatened to kill him if he told about the matter. Evidently the tramp was afraid to leave him, so he bound his hands behind and dragged him off into the field about 200 yards. The boy said the tramp struck him and that was the last he knew.

Curtis' description of the man corresponds exactly with the first man apprehended at Nebraska City. The boy's story was proven true by parties finding the club and everything as he described. Deputies have gone to Nebraska City after the prisoner and will have Curtis identify him. If he proves to be the guilty party he will be brought here and tried at this term of court.

Sheriff Holloway departed on the 4 o'clock M. P. train to get the man who is being held at Nebraska City.

HAMMOND IS DEMOTED.

From Some Letters the Sheriff Finds That He Has a Brother in Creston.

The fellow arrested Monday turns out to be demoted. Deputy Sheriff Holloway went through his letters and found that the fellow was an advance agent of Fitzsimmons' Kinetics. He also learned that the fellow stopped overnight at the Perkins house, paid his bill and was all right. His face was bruised when he was found wandering in the cut on Third street. Hammond's letters also indicated that he had a brother in Creston, he was written to, and he wired today that he would be here after his brother on the first train.

Experienced a Snowstorm.

The dispatches say that a blinding snowstorm prevailed all day yesterday at Chamberlain, S. D. Three inches of snow is reported at Huron, S. D. Silver Creek and western Nebraska also felt the effect of an all-day snowstorm. In Minnesota a regular blizzard raged, with the thermometer at ten below zero.

So far as Nebraska is concerned, the storm seems to have blown over, and genial sunshine has melted the boreal blasts that threatened, and a day as perfect as could be wished for is the result.

Nearly Surprised.

Elder Dungan, the Christian minister, was nearly surprised by about eighty of his parishioners and friends Wednesday evening, who called in a body at the parsonage. They brought baskets of eatables and a nice supper was served. An easy chair and a beautiful clock were presented as testimonials of the high esteem in which the minister is held. Judge Archer made the presentation speech, and the evening was made brief by pleasant social converse.

The Time Extended.

Dovey has extended the time of their special sale of 10 cent muslin at 9 cents to Saturday evening, November 27. This will be the last chance to buy Lonsdale muslin at such a price and the public will do well to buy a good supply at once. Goods of all kinds are higher, and such a bargain as this live firm offers has already been taken advantage of by quite a crowd of people.

Progress of the Haight Case.

The Haight case has monopolized the attention of district court all day. It is being closely contested, and much time is taken up in discussing the technicalities relating to the admission of testimony.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with the grippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into hasty consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at F. G. Fricke's drug store.

Pivet's New Odor Golden Daisy Is sweet, refined and lasting.

GRANNY'S "YARBS."

She dozed the boy with catnip, Then gave him catnip tea, And yet he didn't feel quite well. He had the grip, you see.

She gave him fanny, bonnet, squilla, Rubbed tallow on his chest And fed him lots of blue mass pills, Which quickly did the rest.

By this time John could not get up, And as he lay in bed She drenched him from a quassa cup Till he was nearly dead.

And when at last the doctor came And fetched poor Johnny round Folks said, "Twas granny, all the same, Kept him above the ground."

"THANK YOU."

It Is the Small Courtesies That Make Life Worth Living.

"On every hand one hears of the neglect to say 'Thank you,'" writes Edward W. Bok on "The Saying of 'Thank You,'" in The Ladies Home Journal. "I wonder sometimes if some people really know how little of what comes to them is their due and right and how much of what comes to them is by favor and courtesy. The vast majority of things which come to us come by pure favor, by courtesy. And we should recognize this. No act of kindness, however slight, should go unnoticed. A 'Thank you' is a simple thing to say. It requires but a few moments to write it, but it often means much. It means a rebuying sometimes to the person receiving it. It means a renewed faith in the human nature in some cases. A word of thanks is never lost, never wasted. If it sometimes seems to be lost upon the person to whom it is directed, its expression has not been lost upon some one else who has heard it. It is certainly not lost upon ourselves. The most of us are quick enough to thank some one who does us great service. But the small courtesy, just as great as the large service in reality, we overlook. It doesn't seem worth while to give thanks for small things. And yet what would we be today and where would some of us be but for the small courtesies of life? They are all what make life worth living.

"It is all very well to have the last Thursday of each November set apart as a day of Thanksgiving, but it would be far better if a great many of us carried the spirit of the day into all the other days. Perhaps if we did so we might have more mercies to be thankful for on Thanksgiving day. Do not let the spirit of thanks stop with night-fall on Thanksgiving day. Let us extend it to all the other days of the year, to the people whose lives touch ours. When we receive a favor at the hands of any one, no matter how small it may be, let us say the words, 'Thank you.' If they should be written, let us write them. Let us not delay them, but take advantage of the instant when our heart is touched. Let there be more 'Thank you's' said by everybody—thousands of them. And the world will be a better, brighter and happier place to live in because of them."

Music and Health.

Music, if we are to believe ancient historians, has produced some very extraordinary effects. The fierceness of Achilles was allayed by playing on the harp; Damon, with the same instrument, quieted wild and drunken youths, and Aesclepiades in a similar manner brought back the senses of a madman by temper and reason. The coyhanes and effeminate priests of Cybele were incited by music to cut their own flesh. Pindar addressed his harp thus: "Thou quenchest the raging thunder!" Music is also reported to have been efficacious in removing dangerous diseases. Mirandola observes, in explanation of its being appropriated to such an end, that music moves the spirits to act upon the soul as medicine does the soul by the body. Theophrastus, in his essay on "Enthusiasm," reports many cures up on this principle. The Thebans used the pipe for the cure of many disorders, and Zenocrates is said to have cured several madmen. The bite of the tarantula is said to have been cured by music, and the Phrygian pipe was recommended by many of the ancient fathers as an antidote to sciatia. We could enumerate many other instances of the estimation, amounting, as it would seem, to palpable superstition, in which music was held among the ancients, but the above may be considered sufficient.—New York Ledger.

A Democratic King.

The king of Sweden arranges his time to the best advantage. After an early breakfast with the queen he gives audience to public officials and Swedish, Norwegian and also foreign ministers as well as reviewing and inspecting troops, and so forth. Friday is occupied by a council meeting, and Tuesday morning is given to the public. As "father of his people," he sees even the poorest peasant and most unknown being in his kingdom who wishes to speak with him and gives audience alone, a third person being present. The evenings and indeed the best part of the night King Oscar gives up to his literary pursuits. His poems and romances are now well known for their artistic excellence.

Meteors.

Some time ago people on the Ramsgate cliffs, England, saw what was thought to be two rockets fired by a ship in distress on the Goodwins. The lifeboat went to the rescue and ascertained from the lightsmen men that the lights observed from the shore were not rockets, but falling meteors.

Married men who are obliged to get up in the middle of the night with the baby should study the value of the bicycle as a means of indoor travel.—Roanoke Gazette.

Republican Is Elected.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—At the special election held today in the Sixth congressional district for a successor to Edward D. Cooke, deceased, Henry S. Boutell, the republican candidate, was elected over Vincent H. Perkins, his democratic competitor, by 840 votes, the total vote being 1,024. Perkins received 184, Landren, non-voter, received 228, and Davis, prohibitionist, 103 votes.

The Hicks' 1898 Almanac and Paper.

We are informed that the 1898 almanac of Prof. Irl R. Hicks is now ready, and judging from its past history, it will not be many weeks in finding its way into homes and offices all over America. It is much larger and finer than any previous issue. It contains 116 pages, is splendidly printed and illustrated on fine book paper, having the finest portrait ever given of Prof. Hicks. It can no longer be denied that the publications of Prof. Hicks have become a necessity to the family and commercial life of this country. His journal, Word and Works, aside from its storm, weather and astronomical features, has taken rank with the best literary, scientific and family magazines of the age. Do not believe hearsay and reports. See Hicks' almanac and paper for yourself. You will then know why they are so popular. They are educators of the millions, and unrivaled safeguards to property and human life. It is matter of simple record that Prof. Hicks has foretold for many years all great storms, floods, droughts and tornadoes, even the recent terrible drought over all the country. The almanac alone is 25 cents a copy. The paper is $1 a year with the almanac as a premium. Send to

Work at the Armour Site.

Although yesterday was a holiday and stormy besides, work at the Armour site progressed as usual, says the Bee. Two pile drivers were kept at work on the foundations for the north wall of the hog killing house. As fast as the piles were driven workmen sawed them off the right height and made everything ready for the placing of the cap stones. The trenches for the foundation for the beef cooling and beef killing houses have been completed and yesterday quite a force was engaged building the cement foundations. The beef cooling house will be 200 feet square and will be nine stories high, which will add to it on the west, will be 150x175 feet, and the same height. Besides foundation walls six and eight feet wide, of solid cement, these buildings will rest on cement piers six feet square.

Considerable material was being unloaded yesterday, including several cars of structural iron and a number of cars of broken stone. Contractor Gould said yesterday afternoon that when bricklaying was resumed again a large force would be put to work, as it was the intention to commence on several buildings at the same time.

Met With a Painful Accident.

Otto Sprick, son of Gottlieb Sprick, one of Louisville precinct's substantial farmers, met with quite a painful accident Thursday, says the Louisville Courier. He was assisting in mowing away hay in the barn and got the thumb on his right hand caught in the pulley, crushing the bone and lacerating the hand in a frightful manner. He came to town and Dr. Holtzler dressed it and has hopes of saving the thumb.
