

JAMES McCOMB BECAME PENITENT

Man Who Jumped His Bond Gives Himself Up to the Officers.

After a Trip of Several Weeks in the South He Returns to the Home of His Bondsmen, W. B. Long—A Platts-mouth Boy Arrested at Council Bluffs—Other News of the Day.

James McComb was bound over to district court several months ago, charged with shooting John Rout with intent to kill. W. B. Long, for whom McComb had worked, went on his bond. The first day of the last term of court Long and McComb were at court but the next day McComb quietly disappeared and no tidings of him were had until he walked into Long's residence Saturday evening and gave himself up.

He did not have much to say except that he had been south and had concluded that he wanted to see what had happened to Long and came up for that purpose. He offered to stay around until court opened in March if Long would remain on his bond, but Mr. Long said he had been worried enough, so he just brought the fellow in today and turned him over to County Attorney Graves, who put him in the hands of the sheriff. He will not doubt be sent to jail where he will remain until his case is called the last of March.

The officers were hard after him and he would probably have been captured very soon anyway had he not given himself up, as postals with his picture on them had been sent all over the country.

A Platts-mouth Boy.

A boy was arrested in Council Bluffs this morning who gave his name as Adolph Rhode. He claimed to have run away from home. The chief of police telephoned Sheriff Wheeler here, but a vigorous search showed no such boy was out of town. It turned out that Henry Rotmann was missing, he having been sent to Denison, Ia., on a visit. The boy's father could not pay his expenses home, so the sheriff instructed the authorities to turn the boy loose. If he wants to come home, the walking is as good one way as the other.

Work on the River.

Bridge Foreman Woodring of Lincoln is looking after the masting work on the east side of the river, and is kept quite busy securing plenty of small willows. He has cleared out all obtainable down this way and is getting them now about five miles above Platte near the mouth of the Papio. They are then loaded on flat cars and hauled to the east side track. Part of the mat has been completed and the rock is being placed on it preparatory to sinking it to its place as a lining to the river bank, which will stop its washing very effectively.

The willow mat weavers who came here from Rulo are busy on one end of the mat and with favorable weather hope to finish their work in three or four weeks. Quite a number of Platts-mouth men are employed as teamsters and helpers.

Elected Officers.

The Farmers' Mutual Insurance company held their annual meeting last Saturday, and elected the following officers: President—Jacob Tritesch. Vice-Pres—J. H. Becker. Secretary—J. P. Falter. Directors—A. A. Schaefer, Treasurer—J. M. Schaefer, C. F. Lau, John Albert, Louis Foltz, Albert Puppe, J. C. Hayes, J. H. Becker, Henry Horn, M. L. Friedrich. The company only had one $20 loss during the year, and is in good financial standing.

"My daughter, when recovering from an attack of fever, was a great sufferer from pain in the back and hips," writes Louisa Grover, of Saris, Ky. "After using quite a number of remedies without any benefit she tried one bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and it has given entire relief." Chamberlain's Pain Balm is also a certain cure for rheumatism. Sold by all druggists.

The fiftieth anniversary of Girard college took place last Tuesday. When he died Girard was the richest man in America. His bequest to the college was about $7,000,000. There are now fourteen buildings, sixty-seven professors and 1,600 students. The present endowment is $20,000,000.

Running an electric car at an unusually rapid rate over a much frequented crossing, when the usual rate was from twelve to fourteen miles per hour, was held, in Evansville Street Railway company vs. Gentry (Ind.), 37 L. R. A. 378 to be such negligence as constitutes little less than wanton and reckless disregard of human life. But it is held that some slight proof at least of a want of contributory negligence was required in case of a man killed by the car and found about forty-five feet from the crossing, at which he had stepped from another car.
