Engineers A. L. Clayburn and F. B. Palmer and Fireman Ed Dutton and Elmer Cole have been installed regularly on the Burlington main line passenger runs, the restoration of the "flyers," No. 1 and 6, having created places for two more crews out of Lincoln. Engineer George Ayles has succeeded Clayburn on the fast freight run to Creston.—State Journal.

Under the provisions of the Dockery civil service resolution President Cleveland succeeded in shifting clerks in the treasury department, greatly to the advantage of the ones of bourbon antecedents. By that course several republicans who held positions yielding from $1,400 to $1,600 per year were promoted backward to the $1,200 list, while democrats, fresh in the service, took their places. The boys are now putting forth a united effort to get back what was taken from them.—Ex.

Ed Howe, in his Atchison Globe, has a write-up of Francis C. Grable that is both unique and entertaining, says an exchange. It seems that in the early days of Nebraska when Howe and Grable were young men, they both lived at Falls City. Howe ran a newspaper and Grable kept books in a bank, were killing side-whiskers and sang in the choir. Howe says he was the poorest singer he ever heard, but held down his job on account of his good looks. When the editor took a wife, Grable took his whiskers and occupied the position of best man. Wonderful changes have taken place since then. Grable has become wealthy and has lost it all in booming the booming west. Howe has stuck to his newspaper business and has fame and money enough to last him till he goes to a warmer climate than Kansas. Both are old men and deserve sympathy rather than abuse.

The new dining car "Hastings" was brought up from the Plattsmouth coach shops yesterday and will go into service on the main line trains between Lincoln and Akron, Colo. As a "diner" the "Hastings" is perfection. It is lighted by Pintsch gas, heated by the most improved type of Baker heater and is finished throughout in highly polished hard woods. The body of the car is finished in rich orange, the color recently adopted by the company to supplant the former finish, which was yellow.—State Journal.

The virtuous city of Lincoln is in a tremor of expectancy over the fact that a grand jury has begun a session there and all sorts of developments are hourly expected. Grand juries do not meet often enough in this state, it would seem, especially in the cities.

Africa's monkeys are giving out. In the neighborhood of the Gold Coast they have been exterminated, and last year the colony could collect only 67,600 monkey skins, whereas in 1894 168,405 skins, valued at $205,000, were exported.—New York Sun.

A Gordon went into a drug store the other day and helped himself to a swig of turpentine from a jug he supposed contained gin. A stomach pump was successfully applied to the saving of his life.
