Irresponsible Dealers

Who are looking only to the present sale of a suit of clothes, and have no reputation to be injured by "Shoddy" transactions, are ready enough to offer the most preposterous "Bargains" at the most ridiculous prices.

The judicious man understands this, and prefers to deal with Clothiers of Standing, whose name alone is a guarantee of the quality of the goods offered for sale.

Good Clothes cost money because the best of materials and the most expert workmanship command their value, and the labor on a well-made suit costs as much as the cloth and lining.

We have nothing but good Clothing, but the size of our business and our exceptional facilities for buying and selling enable us to do so at the lowest possible cost. You may often pay as much for "Shoddy" as for a firstclass suit of our reliable Clothing.

Flood goods will be put on sale as soon as they can be put in condition, at prices to make you dizzy.

The Missouri Pacific

A head end cottision on the B. M. is of so rare an occurrence that it creates much comment.

Last evening No. 2 was reported to, and an extra freight, with Lutz as conductor and Fred Miller engineer, left Plattemouth with orders to meet No. 2 at LaPlatte. No. 2 got orders at Bellevue to meet the extra freight at same point. When No. 2 reached LaPlatte a repetition of the order was handed the engineer, as is the custom, that he might not forget it. Instead of taking the siding, or waiting for the freight he immediately pulled out, thinking the order was for another meeting point, and leisurely unfolded his order to read it.

By that time his train had reached the curve and the freight train, which was rushing along, collided at once. The men on the two engines had barely time to put on the air and shut off steam, and leap from their engines when the collision occurred. The two engines were badly wrecked. The freight engine, No. 168, getting much the worst of it. None of the coaches or freight cars left the track, and after a few hours work the obstructions were hauted to Oreapolis, and a new engine finished the run for No. 2. The passengers all escaped serious injury, but the sudden stop threw many of them out of their seats, which resulted in scratches and bruises about the arms and face of a few of the more unfortunate ones.

The crew of No. 2 were off the K. C. road, that train being a K. C. stub from Omaha to the Junction.

It was remarkable that more harm was not done, considering the nature the passenger train doubtless account- fail to attend. ing for it. The B. & M. operating department is so carefully managed that an accident is next to impossible, and cannot occur except on account of the gross negligence of some of the train men, which is very rare.
