AGUINALDO is confessedly far superior to the other leaders of the Filipinos, and yet the antics of Herr Aguinaldo, with his golden breastplate and gold whistle, his proclamations and actions in general, ought to convince even a sixteen to one pop editor that Uncle Sam had better not load up with eight million Manila boys.

THE attempt to give Gladstone place and reputation by tacking his name to that of Lee's and Bismarck as one of the great trio is ridiculous. Gladstone was above everything else a trimmer, a politician and an orator. He never had the courage to hold his nation up to its rights nor to fully comprehend its greatness nor responsibilities. Beaconsfield was incomparably a greater statesman than Gladstone.

WE may look for renewed activity from Kaiser Billy, now the dreaded Bismarck has given up the ghost. So long as the old giant breathed, his presence overshadowed and awed the emperor. Knowing his measures and statecraft would be weighed in the balance of the most penetrating mind and unerring judgment of all Europe, and his mistakes laid bare to the sport of the world Billy kept well within the lines of propriety, and expended his energy in hunting down and prosecuting every poor devil who had committed lese majeste. Now may the Lord preserve the continent.

THERE is a probability that Russia, Germany and France, who are all emphatically opposed to the retention of the Philippines by the United States will interfere with advice to Spain to reserve the settlement of that question to be settled by an international conference. The president has ruled out such interference so far as the United States is concerned, by stipulating that the commission to consider the disposition of the Philippines shall consist of Americans and Spaniards only, and any attempt to involve us in a joint debate with other powers will doubtless put a sudden end to the negotiations.—State Journal.

THE Omaha correspondent of the Lincoln State Journal writes that there is an agreement between Ben Baker and Rosewater to the effect that in consideration that Rosey shall support Baker for governor, Rosey shall have the short term as senator when Thurston resigns. Now, we do not credit Baker with such reckless disregard for his own personal safety, as to believe he would make such an appointment. If he did the rank and file of the stalwart republicans would lynch Baker first, and pass upon his guilt or innocence afterwards. However, let us take no chances. Hayward will never elevate the little traitor, and Hayward will be the next governor.

THE populists of Cass county are referred to the condition of their brethren in Alabama and to the attitude of the democratic party in the south towards the pop voters generally. That there has not been civil war in Alabama years ago is because of the forebearance of the defrauded populists. Time and again by the grossest fraud and intimidation the pops have been kept from holding offices to which a majority of the electors had chosen them. There could be no cry of the necessity of keeping white men in power—it was simply the determination of democratic office holders to hold onto the public offices and funds. Now, in Cass county, the democrats just work a shell game on the pops—get their support and give them the horse laugh for their pains.

THE nomination of E. J. Burkett for congressman of the first district is now a conceded fact. His candidacy has developed in the district the same strength and enthusiasm that resulted in Lancaster. He carried this county by the strength of the country precincts, which always vote their own sentiments, uncontrolled by the dictations of influences so often felt in politics. So throughout the district the rank and file of the party have been found on convention day solidly arrayed in his interest. And in nearly every county in the district he has the assurance of their solid support. His nomination will simply be a ratification of this unanimous sentiment, and his election will develop to a greater degree his popularity with the common people. That he is a vote getter his record in Lancaster will testify. And his vote in this district will prove the assertion of his friends, that he is the strongest man for the place that could have possibly been selected. His nomination will be a deserving tribute to the younger element of the republican party, who have in the past and will in the future take the laboring oar in party battles. His clean, manly campaign has provoked the admiration of friend and foe and is what the sentiment in the party at this time demands. His election will insure a representative for this district ready and willing at all times to work earnestly for the best interests of the people.—State Journal.

THE attempt to endorse Mr. Windham for a congressional nomination at Weeping Water, proved farcical exactly as we said it would. More than three fourths of the delegates were for Burkett, who already had enough votes pledged from other counties to nominate him. To ask Cass county delegates to vote for someone just for someone's else amusement under such conditions was unfair, and they would not do it. Had Mr. Windham been present and noted the situation we are sure he would never have permitted his name to be used. This paper has always been friendly and would go to any reasonable length to assist Mr. Windham in anything he desired, and would under no circumstance take advantage of his absence under the guise of friendship to place him in a ridiculous or unfavorable position.

It is, or should be, the highest aim of every merchant to please his customers; and that the wide-awake drug firm of Meyers & Eshleman, Sterling, Ill., is doing so, is proven by the following, from Mr. Eshleman: "In my sixteen years' experience in the drug business I have never seen or sold or tried a medicine that gave as good satisfaction as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy."
