

CITY AND COUNTY.

WEDNESDAY.

Robert Probst and family are visiting the exposition today.

Sheriff Wheeler was called to Avoca this afternoon on business.

Joe Johnson and his two brothers from Kansas City and St. Paul are visiting the exposition today.

A. L. Timlin, the Weeping Water attorney, was in the city today on legal business.

Byron Clark and son, Earl, arrived home today from a fishing and hunting trip in Minnesota.

D. Strickland and party of friends from Weeping Water were in town today, and went to Omaha on the last night.

Weather bureau on the exposition ground reports a forecast of a rain on Tuesday and Wednesday.

James Nelson of Talmage, Iowa, was in town today on his way to Lincoln to attend the reunion.

Wendell Foster, who is in the hospital corps located at Ft. Crook, was in town last evening, returned this morning.

Don Atwood writes home that he is in Washington awaiting orders, and that he may get his discharge papers and come home.

Byron Clark reports the capture of a pike three feet in length while fishing in the Minnesota lakes last week. As he was drinking nothing but artesian water which he carried in his grip, the story must not be doubted.

H. C. McMullen took some samples of his fine grapes to the exposition today. For quality they are superior to California grapes though not so large. They are the Brighton, Newton, Telegraph and Pocklington varieties.

The Grand Army boys at Lincoln, in camp at the old fair grounds, have encountered unfavorable weather, but today's sunshine will help them out. The boys called their camp the hero of Manila, "Camo Dewey."

Mr. and Mrs. Deann, father and mother of R. E. Deann, came in this morning from South Haven, Michigan. They will visit here for some time, and see the exposition and other points of interest in the west before returning to their home.

Hon. John Overton arrived home a few days ago from Grant county, in the northwestern part of the state, where he had sold his cattle ranch. He had what represented 21,000 silver dollars in his pocket and was well satisfied.—Nebraska City News.

Seven switch engines are now required to do the work in the Burlington yards, and while business may be said to be good, yet it is not as heavy as in times past. It will get better in a short time, however, when the engines begin to move more freely.—State Journal.

Chicken pox seems almost an epidemic in the northwest part of the city and the mayor has been asked to take some steps toward having the many children that have it quarantined so that they will not spread the disease by attending school.—Nebraska City News.

Jack Murray, after trying for a long time, finally secured transportation for Jake B. et al, the boy who has commination, and set them out to Alliance for his health, where he has relative living who will take care of him. He is in bad shape and no hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Some bad boys let off some brakes on a number of box cars down in the shop yards a few days ago and as they went crashing down through the yards a switch was turned and they were ditched to prevent a collision. They were badly broken up but no one was hurt. The boys would be punished if they could be caught.

Preparation are going forward for another sham battle at the exposition Saturday night in which only Indians will participate. The Sioux will take one side of the battle and the rest of the Indians in camp the other. The sham battle once tried between the Indians and the Order of Red Men will not be repeated out of respect for the safety of the Red Men.

THURSDAY.

Henry Herz was an exposition sight-seer this morning.

Adam Kniffenberger and family came in from the farm and went to the exposition today.

George Shoeman of Louisville, was in town this morning, and went home by way of Omaha.

Charley Marten and wife, Nelson Jean and family, John Koel, and wife, were in attendance at the exposition today.

George Thomas and Oliver Gilson sent their boys back to the deaf and dumb institute at Omaha to school this morning.

Charles Purdy and wife of Alliance, owing to failure to get message on time did not arrive today in time to attend the funeral.

Fred Ebinger sent a nice steele range and furniture out to Joe Kunzman's, near Cedar Creek today. Joe knows where to go for a bargain.

W. W. Ustick, a hale old gentleman of 82 years, from Dubuque, Iowa, arrived this morning for a visit with his cousin, Mrs. Winslow.

Miss Elizabeth Eikeberry departed today for the Black Hills where she will spend the winter with her father. Her brother, Elmer, went with her for a week's visit.

D. K. Barr is in bed with acute rheumatism and can scarcely be moved. As soon as he is well enough he expects to go to Lincoln and try a course at the sanitarium.

The boy who turned the breaks loose on the cars in the B. & M. yards has been discovered. John Flynn, the detective, was here today, and prosecution will follow.

Bert Shryock went to Omaha today where he secured a good position with Barto, the freight agent. Bart is a first class clerk, and we are glad to note his good luck in securing a position that suits him so well.

Cal Winton who resides in the second ward filed a complaint against his neighbor Jim Cole, this morning before Justice Auer charging him with disturbing the peace. Cole was brought in and pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $1.00 and costs.

The rip-up work on the east side of the city has been put on at 10 o'clock on the 14th of September. The rip-up work will be done on the east side of the city. Extensive repairs will have to be made before high water next year or it will all go.

Death of William S. Purdy.

Wm. S. Purdy, who departed this life at 4 o'clock, Tuesday, September 13, 1898, was born November 12, 1839, at Mountsville, West Virginia. In 1876 he moved to Nebraska and settled at Plattsmouth, where he has since resided. He was married to Miss Harrison who survives him, together with two children, Charles Purdy of Alliance, and Mrs. Myrtle Nielson of this city.

The deceased entered the civil war as a member of company I, Sixth West Virginia Cavalry, and was mustered out at Fort Laramie, in 1866. The last year of the war, he having been transferred to the west to fight Indians. He was wounded once, and contracted a disease in the service from which he never fully recovered. He was a man of much force of character, and was greatly beloved and respected by a large circle of friends.

For four years he has been a constant sufferer, never able to sit up erect, requiring the constant attention of his devoted wife whose labors for his comfort have been truly phenomenal. Mr. Purdy was philosophical throughout his long illness, and few indeed were the words of complaint he uttered. He was the soul of honor in all his dealings, and only the kindest of memories live after him.

The funeral will take place from the family residence at 2 o'clock p. m. on Thursday, September 15, Rev. H. B. Burgess officiating.

A Brace of Innocents (?)

The democratic Journal and its side-partner, the Evening Postage Stamp, swell up with well-earned indignation because we stated a few facts about the tax bill, and make a cheap endeavor to discredit their readers. The tax list was given to the self-styled republicans upon condition that it was not to be given to the democratic newspapers. Had the republican, or Courier, or any other republican paper been given the tax list there would be no occasion for the slightest criticism, as we have had our full share of the county work.

The NEWS was built up when the court house officers were nearly all democrats, and we flatter ourselves that we had little to do with defeating them, and filling their places with republicans, and our only complaint is that we had now to do democratic newspapers. Had the republican, or Courier, or any other republican paper been given the tax list there would be no occasion for the slightest criticism, as we have had our full share of the county work.

Heavy Cattle Shipments. BELLE FOURCHE, S. D., Sept. 14.—On Friday and Saturday 240 carloads of cattle were shipped out of this city, which is equal to twenty-four trains. Reports have come in from the ranges near Layan Kara, the Upper Belle Fourche and the Little Missouri river. In the Layan Kara districts the grass has been very short all season and the water holes have been dried up. Many of the cattle owners have driven their cattle to other ranges. The same poor conditions are found on the Upper Belle Fourche. On the Little Missouri both water and grass have been in abundance. Some of the best cattle that are being shipped come from this district. Reports have come in of additional cattle owners who have sold out because of the depredation of the wolves.

An Important Lawsuit.

From Wednesday's Daily.

D. W. Livingston, a prominent young attorney of Otoe county, was in the city today on his way to Sidney, Iowa, from Talmage. He had with him from the latter place, F. E. DeBord, Geo. Biggs, W. H. Norton, John Norton, J. Cash, A. Cash and wife, Ed. Adams, L. Norman and J. O. Vanderberg, witnesses in the suit affecting title to a half interest in 400 acres of Fremont county land, the title of the case being DeBord vs. Biggs. They came in from the M. P. from Talmage and took the B. & M. here this afternoon for Sidney.

Funeral of W. S. Purdy.

From Thursday's Daily.

The funeral of the late W. S. Purdy was largely attended this afternoon by friends ready to attest their sorrow and respect. The floral tributes were many, one of the nicest being a beautiful wreath from the many Havelock friends. The funeral was held under the auspices of the G. A. R. who turned out in a body. Several were here from Havelock, Lincoln and Omaha in attendance at the funeral.

JOHN BROWN'S LAST LETTER.

Most Admirable Courage Evidenced by the Famous Liberator in the Shadow of the Scaffold.

(Nebraska City Press.)

Some of the old pioneers now living in Nebraska City will remember "Old John Brown" the well known slavery agitator. Beyond the bridge adjacent to Wyuka cemetery is the John Brown cave which was used by him as a rendezvous for slaves prior to their transportation by the underground railroad in the late fifties. All of the occurrences are historical matters treasured up by the early settlers of Nebraska City, and if not now, will become a prominent part of the history of the country in the future.

The chief aim of a general liberator for his life was to "abolish" and "his soul goes in churning." The memory of the old man will always be heard in the "his body lies mouldering in the grave."

The following letter from the martyr has for the first time been made public, and will prove of unusual interest. It was written to an old friend and relative, Rev. Luther Humphreys, of Windham, O., a short time before his execution, and while he was under sentence of death. The letter is as follows:

Charlestown, Jefferson county, Va., November 13th, 1859—Rev. Luther Humphreys, Windham, O.: My Dear Friend—Your kind letter of August 29 is now before me. So far as my knowledge goes as to your mutual kindred, I suppose I am the first since the landing of Peter Brown from the Mayflower that has either been sentenced to imprisonment or to the gallows. But, my dear old friend, let me tell you that you are not alone. You cannot have forgotten how and where our grandfather (Capt. John Brown) fell in 1776, and that he, too, might have perished on the scaffold had circumstances been but very little different. The fact that the man dies, under the hand of the executioner or otherwise, has but little to do with his true character.

John Rogers, a great and good man, as I suppose, perished at the stake, but his doing so does not prove that any other man who died in the same way was good or otherwise. Whether I have any reason to be of good cheer or not, in view of my end, I can assure you that I feel so, and that I am totally indifferent if I do not really experience that strengthening and consolation you so faithfully implore in my behalf. The God of our fathers reward your fidelity. I neither feel mortified, degraded nor in the least ashamed of my imprisonment, my chain nor my near prospect of death by hanging. I feel assured that not one hair will fall from my head without the will of my Heavenly Father. I also feel that I have long been endeavoring to hold exactly such a fast as God has chosen. See the passage in Isaiah, which you have quoted. No part of my life has been more happily spent than I have spent here, and I humbly trust that no part has been spent to a better purpose. I would not say this hesitatingly, but thanks be unto God, who giveth us the victory, through infinite grace.

"I should be 60 years old were I to live until May 9, 1860. I have enjoyed much of life as it is, and have enjoyed remarkably prosperous, having early learned to regard the welfare and prosperity of others as my own. I have never, since I can remember, required a great amount of sleep, so that I conclude that I have already enjoyed an average number of waking hours as those who reach their three score and ten. I have not as yet been driven to the use of glasses, but can see to read and write quite comfortably. More than that, I have generally enjoyed remarkably good health. I might go on to recount unnumbered and unmerited blessings, among which would be very severe afflictions, and those the most needed blessings of all. And now, when I think how easily I might be left to spoil all I have done or suffered in the cause of freedom, I hardly dare wish another voyage, even if I had the opportunity. It is a long time since we met, but we shall soon come together in our Father's house, I shall trust. Let us hold fast that we already have, remembering 'We shall read in due time if we faint not.'

"Thanks be ever unto God, who giveth us the victory through Jesus Christ, our Lord." And now, my old, warm hearted friend, good-by, a long farewell. Your affectionate cousin, "JOHN BROWN."

Rains and Frost.

All of the roads entering the city report rains along their respective lines on Monday night and Tuesday morning. The Union Pacific reports good rains in Kansas and Nebraska, with clear, good weather in Colorado and Wyoming. A heavy frost occurred along the line in Wyoming on Monday night. The Burlington weather report shows rain varying from a half to an inch in depth fell at all the stations in Nebraska on Monday night. Frost was reported in Colorado and Wyoming.—Boa.

District Court.

On account of the illness of Mr. Paul Jessen, county attorney, and at the request of sixteen members of the bar, the September term of the district court was today adjourned until the 12th day of December, 1898; the jury having been excused until that date. Judge Ramsey departed for home today. During the four days that court has been in session Judge Ramsey has disposed of the following cases: Criminal cases, 7; law cases, 4; equity cases, 25—total, 36.—Nebraska City News.

ADMINISTRATOR, WITH WILL ANNEXED, OF THE ESTATE OF JOHN CUSACK, DECEASED, C. S. POLK, Attorney for Estate.

WHEN YOU USE

G. O. Taylor Whiskies

YOU USE THE HIGHEST TYPE OF MEDICINAL WHISKIES IN EXISTENCE.

A stimulant for use in the sick room, such as the G. O. Taylor brand, which is sold by more family druggists and prescribed by physicians more than any other brand of whiskey sold in competition with it, is safe to stand by. An old distiller caught adulterating his rum from the pump, by way of an apology said: "Water never hurt anybody." His statement was not wholly true, for much disease, suffering and lingering illness has been traced to the use of impure water.

Physicians prescribe "G. O. T." for lung and throat troubles, as a flesh producer, with eggs and milk, after lingering sicknesses. Licensed dealers everywhere will sell you G. O. Taylor Whiskey if you insist on having it. It is not sold in bulk. Look for our firm name signature over the cork and on the label.
