

CITY AND COUNTY.

THURSDAY.

R. W. Vass was an Omaha visitor today.

Andy Hull was a visitor to the exposition today.

T. J. Thomas is doing business in South Omaha today.

John Schiappase made a business trip to Omaha this morning.

C. C. Corey and family are spending the day at the exposition.

Mrs. P. E. Ruffner and daughter are exhibition visitors today.

Forest Wolfe of the Pat. Star made a business trip to Omaha today.

H. P. Sundell is a visitor to Omaha today.

Er. W. A. Hamprey and his sister-in-law departed this afternoon for Ohio.

L. N. Fuller and his friend, G. T. Tilton, of Ft. Dodge, Iowa, are visiting in Glenwood today.

J. L. Donovan, formerly of Myrand, who has been running a mercery store down in Oklahoma for the last two years, returned here this morning.

Mrs. A. J. Crabb is at Malvern, Iowa, today attending a family reunion.

Mrs. Ed. Johnson, of Lincoln and little son are visiting relatives in this city.

A. L. Buchanan, of Redlands, California, is here visiting Ed. Smith and family.

Carl Kuntzman went to Omaha this afternoon to get repairs for his meat market machinery.

S. E. Hall & Son are putting a new roof on the Drew building, recently purchased by I. Pearman.

Wyatt McPherson and family of Rock Bluffs are taking in the sights at the exposition today.

Carl Kuntzman went to Omaha this afternoon to get repairs for some of his meat market machinery.

H. C. McManen and Bert James are participating in the Grand Army ceremony at the exposition today.

M. Carper and wife Emerson, Nebraska, the former a brother-in-law of F. R. Down, attended the exposition today.

Mrs. Baumeister expects to go to Ohio in a few days to spend the winter with her parents who are quite old and feeble.

The crowd which attended the exposition yesterday reaching nearly 100,000 people was too large for the comfort of anyone.

Joe Sands, Andy Graham, J. B. Moisinger, Albert Anderson, D. O. Dwyer and Reese Walker are seeing sights on the midway today.

August Papp and family, and Dan Kiser and family, both prosperous farmers of Eight Mile Grove are seeing sights at the exposition today.

Mrs. D. Hewitt of Havelock after a pleasant visit here with her parents departed this morning for Lead City, to see her sister, Miss Kate Hempel.

Joseph Wood and wife, and John Hutson and wife came in yesterday from Lincoln to finish up their visit with J. F. Hineshaw before returning to their home in Eastern Indiana.

President McKinley shook hands with the passing multitude at the government building for about twenty minutes yesterday, and Halsey Duke was one of the Plattsmouth boys who grasped the president's hand.

The funeral of Marion Waters occurred yesterday from the Christian church and was largely attended, Elder Dungan officiated. The deceased was a brother of Mrs. Frank O'Neil where he had of late been making his home.

The crowd which went down to the B. & M. depot to see McKinley this morning were disappointed, as he went south by way of Council Bluffs, and the two car special which passed at a forty mile an hour gait appeared to contain no passengers.

Anton Schender, an old resident of Cass county, but now living in Gage county near the Kansas line, is in the city renewing old acquaintances. He came to the exposition to see President McKinley and seize the opportunity to run down and see old friends.

Miss Mamie Sullivan, a talented vocalist from Plattsmouth, has been in the city for the past week. She has accepted an engagement for a month's concert tour and will sing in such cities as St. Louis and Kansas City and cities of that size.—Lincoln Medley.

Elders Christenson and Valentine of the Latter Day Saints church, from Utah, will preach tonight at the South Park Baptist church in this city, at 7:30, and may continue for several evenings. Everything free, no collection, and everybody invited to come out and hear these representatives of a great church.

C. F. Williams who opened the first telegraph office in this city in 1860, and who resided here for some time, is in town today visiting his old comrade, J. W. Johnson, and meeting other early residents. He thought Perry Gass looked no older than he did 38 years ago. Mr. Williams is a resident of Seattle, Washington, which he says is the coming city of the Pacific coast.

Ed. Tutt and Fred. Morgan had a little experience yesterday not down on the program. They stepped to the door of Morley's restaurant while Gen. Miles and party were at dinner, and were stopped by the door keeper who demanded credentials. Fred. replied indignantly that they belonged to Gen. Miles's party and didn't need any, and they were both admitted. Walking on into the great hall, some one asked who they wanted, and Fred.

said, Gen. Miles, and just then he having finished his dinner, he walked that way and both boys stepped on and after a heavy hand shake they made a hasty exit. They were probably the only persons except officials who had the honor of a hand shake and a few words from the commander of the army in that city. The boys evidently had a surplus of nerve, and as a copy of this paper will be read by Gen. Miles he will no doubt remember the incident and if the boys want a piece on his staff they are certainly able to ask for it.

The sum of $1,000 was paid to the attorney for the defense of the Croxtons. The suit was, undoubtedly, for the sole purpose of creating sensational talk relative to Mr. and Mrs. Minor, but it fell far short of its purpose. The reputation of the defendants cannot be smudged by people of the Croxtan caliber.—North Platte Tribune.

James H. Palmer Wounded. This paper printed an exclusive report recently about J. H. Palmer having been mustered out of the Third regiment and entering the employ of a detective agency. From today's dispatches we find he was employed at the big riot at Vidon, and was wounded three times. He was shot once in the left side of face, also, arm and side. Jim, as he was called here, would consider he got into a picnic, as he is as fearless as any man could be, and the thicker the bullets the better he would like it. He refused to say where he was from, thinking his friends here would not hear of his battle. His wounds though ugly will not prove fatal.

A Lively Runaway. Oscar Gapsen's team hitched to a wagon with a hay rack on got frightened and made the liveliest run down Main street Tuesday evening we ever saw. Mr. Gapsen held the lines but he made no headway toward stopping the fractious animals until they ran into a herd of cows at the foot of the street which were coming in from the sand bar. He ran into Ben Decker's team and made kindling wood of his wagon and overturned a buggy but no one was injured.

Liquidated air to be manufactured in a few weeks in New York, at a cost of ten cents per gallon, will knock the ice business galley west if the fact is claimed for it is true. A pint in a refrigerator will keep it cool for two days than a hundred pounds of ice would do, to say nothing about the convenience and healthfulness of the new liquid. Its cheapness promises to be a greater invention than the electric light.

A Queer Case. Ed. DeZahner, the Switzer, who confessed to stealing a horse Tuesday and was taken to Omaha for trial by the sheriff of Douglas county, explained to Sheriff Wheeler that he wanted to go to the penitentiary for about four years, as he would receive about $12,000 then and he did not know what to do until he got his money. He seemed rational but it looked as though an asylum would be a better place for him than the pen.

An unnecessary expense was incurred for the county Tuesday by the inquest held over the death of Marion Waters. As pointed out in the NEWS it was clearly an accident. The jurors were Fred Egenberger, W. D. Jones, James Hevold, P. E. Ruffner, W. J. Streight and R. W. Hyers. After an investigation of the facts the jury promptly brought in a verdict of death by accident.

Matrimonial. At four o'clock p. m. yesterday Joseph Peters of this city was married at the Episcopal church to Miss May Marton, R. v. H. B. Burgess officiating. The bride and groom are among our best young people and will make their home in this city. Mr. Peters being an employee of the B. & M. The NEWS extends congratulations and best wishes.

List of Letters. Remaining uncalled for at the post-office at Plattsmouth, Oct. 13, 1898: Bigelow, Fred; Brown, H.; Branson, M. F.; Cech, Mrs. Steve; Fuller, Miss Bessie; Gaidner, Frederick; Justice, Dr. W. S.; Plimmer, Mrs. Grace; Paul, Mrs. Dr.; Vogt, Fred; Stoll, Gust; Cernochall, Mrs. Emma. When calling for any of the above letters please say "advertised."

Lost, Strayed or Stolen. One boy about the size of a man on Midway, October 12, at about 4 p. m. a room roofer and fine steamer. By name F. G. Egenberger. His friends will pay a good reward for any information leading to his recovery. MARY FRIENDS.

Today's Markets. CHICAGO, Oct. 13, 2 p. m.—Wheat closed last night at 64 1/2, and today a 64 1/2; corn gained 1/2 cent over yesterday and closed at 30 1/2 for December. May corn closed at 32 1/2. Oats closed at 23 1/2, a slight advance from yesterday's closing.

Insure in the German American. Fred Ebinger, Agent. You may bribe the appetite, but you cannot bribe the liver to do its work well. You must be honest with it, help it along a little now and then with a dose of Harbine, the best liver regulator. Price 50 cents. F. G. Fricke.

PONDERRING.

Written for The News. Is there a sphere of emotion? Where suitable like to see? Is there a home devoid of light In the long eternity?

Is there a home for all mankind In an undiscovered land? For the meek, the low, the half and whole On the distant golden strand?

Is there a quiet resting place Where justice reigns supreme? Where courage cannot be disgraced Or is it but a dream?

We in our weakness faintly dream Of some delightful spot; We see beyond rough Jordan stream For each a golden plot.

It is true, there is a place Prepared for all mankind; Greeting with releasing grace Soul one by one behind.

Then I ponder over our crime Although we do not know; It seems we have no intimate friend Who would give us equal show.

It is not deigned in heaven above That all have equal right; Why do we not God with an attitude Protect us with his might?

Why should the lowly soul of man By tyrants be abused? Why have the laws of Uncle Sam Our crimes and sins refused?

It is he who orders supreme above Our daily cases fought; Shall he withhold his pardoning love While tyrants scheme and plot?

The beauty and loveliness of earth Though they be black or white; Though man is sprung where'er we go Is this God's will and right?

While pondering o'er the hellish deeds Committed by vile man; It causes criticism on Christian creeds With ruthless criticism.

ACRITICAL TIME

During the Battle of Santiago. SICK OR WELL, A RUSH NIGHT AND DAY.

The Packmen at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba were all Heroes. Their Heroic efforts in getting Ammunition and Supplies to the Front Saved the Day.

P. E. Butler, of Plattsmouth No. 3, writing from Santiago de Cuba, on July 23, says: "We all had a rough time, but we were not so much as the men who were in the front. We were all well, but we were all sick and we were all tired."

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with a gripe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her.
