Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sloan, prominent residents of Nebraska City, were poisoned Wednesday by eating canned lobsters, but they having eaten sparingly the result was not serious.

N. P. Sackett, who used to reside here, is conductor on an Omaha motor line now and looks as though his new job agreed with him better than the dairy business.

The old maids of the United States will hold their 43rd Annual Convention at White's hall, in Plattsmouth, October 24. There will be delegates from every state. Everyone is invited to attend.

H. G. Spencer who was stricken with paralysis yesterday is still lying unconscious at his home. His left side being completely paralyzed. But slight hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Elders Christenson and Valentine will continue their meetings at South Park Baptist church every evening this week. Considerable interest is being taken, and a very interesting service is held.

Coroner Sattler, it appears, did not hold the Waters inquest until he was urged to do so by several prominent citizens and is therefore not entirely to blame, for with the feeling which existed he would have been censured by many if he had not ordered an official investigation of the facts with relation to the death of Mr. Waters.

Lehnhoff Bros. got in four immense cases of toys and dolls yesterday direct from the importers at Baltimore. Their imported line of dolls is the largest ever seen here, and cost over $300 in Baltimore.

At the Merchants' Carnival Tuesday evening the first prize was awarded to Patterson & Kunsman, and the second to August Bach. The pig which appeared as an advertisement jumped out of an open window and killed itself.

James Rebal shipped a big invoice of brooms yesterday. He makes a superior article and finds a ready market for all he makes. Plattsmouth housekeepers should buy no brooms but Rebal's, and this helps out a home factory so that he could afford to increase his business.

The democratic county central committee will meet in this city tomorrow to select a man to run for commissioner in the place of George Towle who refuses to face certain defeat any longer. A new sacrifice will be substituted and Turner Zink will be elected by a big majority.

Commissioner Hayes was in the city last evening, the board having finished up bridge inspecting tour of the county. They found Mr. Sheeley's work all finished in good shape, but an old bridge down in the Taylor neighborhood, south of town, will have to be repaired before winter, as it is found to be in a dangerous condition.

Cade Rogers starts next week for his long trip south into Texas, Old Mexico and then to California. He left his faithful old revolver, which has made many an Indian and Mexican bite the dust, in the G. A. R. museum in the court house with a promise to furnish a list before he dies of the men it had killed and the incidents in which it took such a stirring part.

AS THEY COME AND GO.

Stricken With Paralysis. WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Mrs. Sherman, wife of the ex-secretary of state, was stricken with paralysis at her home today. The stroke came in easy stages, and left the patient unconscious and in a dangerous condition.

Tonight Mrs. Sherman seems to be in a slightly changed condition, and there are indications of a change for the better. Mrs. Sherman's health has always been exceptionally good, and while she is well advanced in years her physicians hold out the hope that she may recover from the present attack, though they realize the smallness of the chance.

A Pleasant Event. Mrs. Uteback's millinery opening which began this morning and continues today and Saturday was certainly quite interesting to the many ladies who called. The room under the Bank of Cass county is made very pretty with a beautiful showing of all the late shades of velvets nicely arranged, hat trims in feathers, plumes, jet, etc., and a line of pattern hats suited to the fancy of the most exacting. A line of ribbons in all shades and a fine assortment of trimmed and untrimmed hats go to make up a splendid showing of just what the ladies want for fall wear.

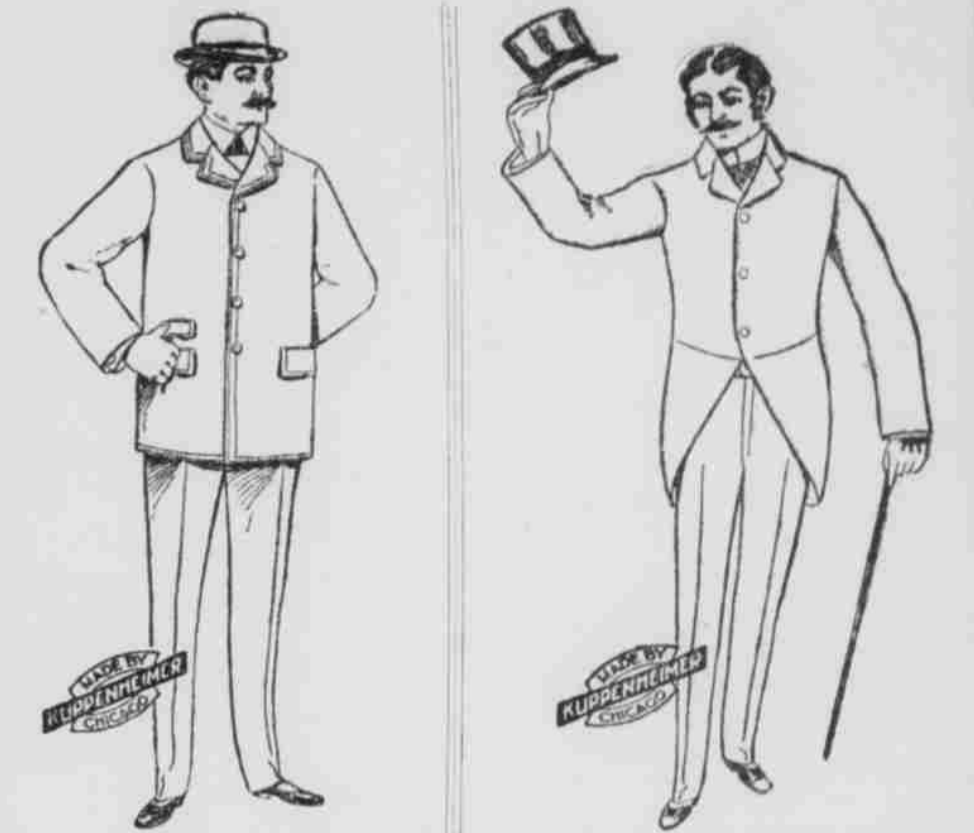

To the Farmers. For the farmers and townspeople too Schlippenbach will serve a first class oyster stew on Saturday and Sunday for 15 cents per dish—first class in every particular.

Coal! Coal! Hard coal delivered to any part of the city for $7.50 per ton, and the unrivaled Mendota coal delivered for $4.25 per ton. JOHN WATERMAN.

Oysters! Oysters! By the can, or served in any style at Schlippenbach's.

Insure in the Gorman American. Fred Ebinger, Agent.
