A GLANCE AT THE RECORD.

"Here is a bit of the public history of J. M. Patterson, whom the fusion forces of Cass county hold up as an ideal citizen of Cass county, and ask that he again be Lincoln's representative from Cass county in the senate. [illegible] "Jim" Patterson? [illegible] 1870 Jim [illegible] fusion [illegible] was elected [illegible] county [illegible] during the campaign [illegible] the [illegible] was not [illegible] the bank, [illegible] was paying interest [illegible] the [illegible] war and [illegible] should be re-[illegible], and on the day of election [illegible] it could not be refused, the following circular was used at the voting places in this county in order to get votes:

JUSTICE

"'To the voters of Cass county:

Reports have been industriously circulated and statements made through the county to the effect that I had deposited a large amount of money belonging to the county in the First National bank of Plattsmouth, and that I allowed said sum of money to remain there in the bank from March until September, a period of six months, and had for said period of time neglected to redeem registered warrants on the general fund, and that I have been drawing interest on said sum of money to my own personal credit; also that I have loaned to sundry persons to invest in cattle funds belonging to the county. Such reports and statements I hereby brand, pronounce and denounce as malicious, and entirely and absolutely false.

(Signed) J. M. PATTERSON.'"

Plattsmouth, Neb., Oct. 29, 1879.

"Mr. Patterson, on the strength of the above, was elected; but the county commissioners, knowing the fact, said to Mr. Patterson, 'You must pay to the county the money they have lost, and you can count up the interest and pay it over, or we will have it done.' And he did so, and the records of the county board show this in full, but does not give amount paid over, but it was about $1,000, and ourdemo-pop friends expect to elect their man this fall by just such statements and circulars being used on the day of election, or worse, by publishing absolute falsehoods on the opposing candidates, but you can't fool the voters more than once. If the money was not in the bank, where was it? If he did not have it, why did he pay the county interest on this money?"

Page 113 of book 4, County Commissioners' Records, will give all those desiring information relative to the above an opportunity of seeing for themselves.

NEWELL VS. PATTERSON.

Lookout Comer

[illegible] the Journal [illegible] Plattsmouth knows having about the [illegible] W. H. Dovey sometimes go.

The [illegible] business [illegible] knowledge that it was [illegible] the office.

When the question of contest of state officers came up, and an investigation was ordered, Atwood & Co.'s books were in the hands of the supreme court and the attorneys for the respondent state officials, for more than a week; and their investigations and statements show that there was only a straight business transaction, so far as Atwood & Co. were concerned.

When the Journal says that there was a steal in which Atwood & Co. were concerned, it states an absolute falsehood, with a view of injuring Judge Newell, candidate for state senator.

Does the Journal know that Judge Newell has been a resident and taxpayer of this county for twenty-eight years, and that during all these years residence, no man can honestly say he over wronged anyone or that he was dishonest in any business transaction.

The Journal's object is plain. It is endeavoring by dishonest means to elect J. M. Patterson.

But, how about Patterson's record? We might ask the Journal to explain how about the $60,000 Mo. Pac. bonds. The people would like to know how Patterson succeeded in saddling this debt on Plattsmouth and Plattsmouth precinct.

Dates of Republican Meetings.

The republican meeting in Cass county have been arranged as follows:

Pollard and Chas. Graves—
Victoria school house, November 3.
Pollard and Windham—
Murray, November 4.
Pollard and Burkett—
Greenwood, afternoon, November 5.

DEMOCRATIC CONSISTENCY.

The Journal, which is making such a senseless fight against Judge Newell as a candidate for state senator, can have an opportunity to reflect upon its own utterences by perusing the following, clipped from the Journal's columns last spring:

"In 1895 Hon. W. H. Newell was mayor of Plattsmouth. He was an ideal business man, and had a standing EQUAL TO ANY MAN IN THE CITY FOR SAGACITY AND GOOD JUDGMENT. But his record as mayor developed that, with all his magnificent business faculties, he was a lamentable failure as a mayor. The reason for his failure was not far to seek. It laid in his inability to comprehend the needs of the people. He was a man of EXCEPTIONAL MORALS. He had every opportunity to find the desires of his own class of citizens, but he singularly overlooked the wants of the bulk of the population. The people of Plattsmouth are composed of laboring men. They work six days and on the seventh day are entitled to recreation. He was a moral public official, and his policy comprehended the closing of every form of amusement or recreation on Sunday, and the result was a steady drain of money from this city to outside ring cities on that day. This was because other towns gave liberties Plattsmouth would not."

That was the candid opinion of the Journal when Mr. Newell was not running for office. He was too moral, too impressing a man to be again elected mayor according to the Journal, but now this same organ tries to blacken the reputation of a man whom it eulogized voluntarily.

The facts are that W. H. Newell is one of our squarest, best citizens, whose integrity was never questioned except by those who know they cannot defeat him for office by honorable means. The two or three sorehead republicans who have been disgraced and kicked out of the party councils are very busy furnishing political pabulum for the Journal.

They care nothing for the truthfulness of their charges, and a newspaper that would print such stuff will find in the end that its preferred candidate has not been benefitted by such methods.

MR. PATTERSON'S RECORD.

J. M. Patterson, the fusion nominee for state senator, represented Cass county in the house in 1871, and the house journal gives the following record of his work there:

Page 254; Petition asking for modification of exemption law; page 279, presented petition asking for modification of exemption law; page 485, at his own request was granted indefinite leave of absence; page 626, made a minority report on house roll 212 recommending as commissioner on erection of insane asylum W. E. Hill and Samuel Maxwell. So much for his record in the house. In 1893 he represented Cass county in the senate, and the senate journal shows the following record: Page 277, moved to adopt report of the committee of the whole recommending the passage of senate file 21, to provide additional remedies for enforcement and collection of judgments; page 301, introduced senate file 105, an act to protect county treasurers, which failed to become a law. He was appointed member of committee on military affairs, banks and currency and privileges and elections, and was made chairman of committee on state prisons; page 445, voted against a bill for depositing public funds of counties and cities, so that they could obtain interest on same; page 787, voted against senate file 84, a bill authorizing persons having an interest to recover it in a civil action from the person receiving three times the amount paid—of course no one is counting Mr. Patterson of collecting usurious interest, but the modification of the exemption laws, and providing additional remedies for the enforcement and collection of judgments show where his interests were.

Some seven years ago a law went into effect requiring the county treasurers to account to the county for the interests on county money deposited in the banks, and since that time the banks of Cass county have paid to the county the following amounts: In 1892, $1,725.14; 1893, $1,961.67; 1892 and 1893, disputed interest, $2,064 82; 1894, $2,586.20; 1895, $3,066.26; 1896, $1,068.45; 1897, $2,030.42. Total for six years, $15,403.96. Is this not a good law, and why did Patterson vote and oppose such a law when he was senator in 1893? Will he try to repeal this law if elected this fall?

On page 480 of the senate journal we find Mr. Patterson had the pleasure of showing his well known dislike of the Union soldier by voting against a resolution asking congress to place the superannuated soldiers on the pension list. No soldier, therefore, can afford to see an enemy elected to the responsible office of senator as against an old soldier who would be friendly to their interests.

The most delicate constitution can safely use Ballard's Horehound Syrup. It is a sure and pleasant remedy for coughs, loss of voice, and all throat and lung trouble. Price 25 and 50 cents.
