McKINLEY IN THE SOUTH

President Pauses at Macon in His Triumphant Journey.

Witnesses Military Procession From Reviewing Stand and Receives an Address From Confederate Veterans—McKinley Makes a Speech and is Loudly Applauded.

MACON, Ga., Dec. 19.—President McKinley arrived here at 9:30 a. m. He was received by a large and enthusiastic crowd. The presidential party drove out to the reviewing grounds, where General Wilson's command passed before the president.

At the station, the presidential party was met by fifteen carriages. Lined up along the street was the Seventh cavalry, the bright yellow of its overcoat linings making a vivid contrast against the fog and drizzle that prevailed. Driving through the streets, the president took his place on the reviewing stand. On one side of the chief executive stood General Wilson and on the other General Bates. As the brigades passed the respective commanders took their places on the stand with the presidential party. Despite the poor weather, a large and enthusiastic crowd was on hand. The troops passed in review in this order: Third engineers, Second Ohio infantry, Seventh infantry; Tenth infantry; Third North Carolina infantry; Sixth Virginia infantry; Seventh cavalry, regulars.

A memorial address was presented to the president by the confederate veterans. The now famous reference, "To care for the confederate dead," in the president's Atlanta speech, was framed in a huge wreath of flowers and placed on the pedestal of the confederate monument.

Mrs. McKinley remained in the parlor car while in Macon and bowed frequently to the crowd which gathered in the depot. Owing to her slight cold it was not considered advisable for her to face the rain.

The president spoke briefly from the reviewing stand. He confined his remarks chiefly to the pride the American people should take in their army.

McKinley Talks in the Rain.

The president said: "It gives me very great pleasure to meet and greet the citizens of Macon, with many of whom I have been associated in public life. It has given me pleasure to witness the review of the soldiers of the United States. How much, indeed, has this nation to be thankful for at this hour. With what reverent gratitude we should express our thankfulness to Divine Providence which has so tenderly cared for the American people.

"We have been at war with a foreign power. That war ended after 113 days of conflict, a conflict on two oceans, a conflict in the west and east, 12,000 miles apart, with 50,000 of our soldiers on distant shores and 20,000 sailors and marines afloat, with a loss in army and navy of less than 2,000 men and without the loss of a ship. Never before was there a more magnificent army mustered and never was an army mustered for a holier cause or under a more glorious flag than the stars and stripes. (Cheers and applause.)

"On the 24th day of this month, the day before Christmas, our peace commissioners will deliver to the president of the United States a treaty of peace, peace with honor, peace with the blessings of liberty to struggling peoples east and west. I congratulate my country on another fact: We have not only triumphed over our own prejudices and we are now a united country. (Prolonged applause and cheers.)

"It has done my heart good to witness the demonstrations of patriotism from one end of this country to the other. Six weeks ago I went to the extreme west. I met there a wave of patriotism. I came to the south and I witnessed the same spirit of loyalty and devotion to a common country with a common faith, under a common flag. (Applause) I know this great audience wants to see the heroes of the war. They are here with you—Shafter and Wheeler and Lawton and Bates and others who were conspicuous in the recent conflict (cheers) and I give way that you may have the pleasure of meeting them and other distinguished gentlemen who are in my party as I journey through the south." (Great applause.)

Generals Wheeler, Lawton, Shafter and Wilson also made short addresses. General Lawton left the party here today for Huntsville, Ala., to take command of Camp Forsee.

The president and party left Macon on their special train for Augusta at 1:30 p. m. today, the trip being made over the Georgia road.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Dec. 19.—The presidential train arrived at the military camp a few miles from here at 3:25 p. m. Here the president and party were met by a reception committee and after taking carriages, rode through the camp under escort.

Tries It a Third Time.

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—The World tomorrow will say: Phineas T. Barnum's widow, his second wife, has taken a third husband. Her second was Demetrie Callias Bay, a Greek. He died September 22, 1896, while his wife was in the country on a visit.

Now, according to the cards received by her friends in this country, she was married to Baron Alexander Oren-giana, a French nobleman, in Paris December 8.

MRS. WILLIAM D. SNOWDEN DIES.

First White Woman to Locate at Omaha Passes Away.

Mrs. Rachael Snowden, aged 67 years, the wife of William P. Snowden, living at 712 South Twenty-fifth avenue, died Saturday night after a protracted illness from bronchitis, says the World-Herald. Among the pioneer settlers of Omaha Mrs. Snowden had the distinction of being the first white woman to locate in Omaha, having located here July 11, 1854.

Mrs. Snowden was a native of Kentucky and was married to Mr. Snowden in Buchanan county, Missouri, September 9, 1847. In 1853 the couple located at Council Bluffs, then Kan-sasville, and came to Omaha the following July, locating in a one-story log house built by the ferry company at Tenth and Jackson streets, where they kept a boarding house for some years, entertaining many prominent overland travelers of note.

The first religious exercises held in Omaha were at Mr. Snowden's house, as was also the first ball given. The town site company of Omaha deeded a lot at Fourteenth and Chicago streets to Mrs. Snowden in honor of her being the first white woman to brave the perils and hardships of the then wilderness here.

Besides her husband, six children survive Mrs. Snowden. They are Mrs. V. H. Thomas, Valley; Mrs. Christopher Wampeler, Joliet; Mrs. Julius Weinitz, Cheyenne; George Snowden, Fresno, Cal.; Mrs. G. L. White and Miss Tann Snowden, the artist, of Omaha.

Mrs. Rebecca Barnes, a sister, resides at Friend, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Snowden celebrated their golden wedding September 9, 1897.

In sluggish liver, Herbine, by its beneficial action upon the biliary tracts, renders the bile more fluid, and brings the liver into a sound, healthy condition, thereby banishing the sense of drowsiness, lethargy, and the general feeling of apathy which arise from disorders of the liver. There's no better flour made than Holsel's "Plansifter," manufactured in this city. Ask your grocer for it, and thereby get the best and support a home industry at the same time, which builds up the town.

For Hoarseness. Benj. Ingerson, of Hutton, Ind., says he had not spoken above a whisper for months, and one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar restored his voice. It is used very largely by speakers and singers.

Bread. Morning's bread hereafter may be obtained at Zuckweiler & Lutz, Jonathan Hatt's, Dovey's and Fair store.

The person who disturbed the congregation last Sunday by coughing, is requested to call on F. G. Fricke & Co. and get a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar, which always gives relief.

Clerical Permits 1899. Clergymen and others entitled to clerical permits are respectfully requested to call at the Burlington ticket office and arrange about their 1899 permits.
