

HAVE PLENTY OF WATER

Water Company Opens Up the Channel From the Platte.

After a Few Days the Supply Will Be Ample to Meet Any Emergency—Supreme Court Sustains Decision of Lower Court in the Water Works Case—Other Local Happenings.

The Platte-mouth water company will experience no more difficulty in furnishing its patrons with plenty of water, at least for some time. Superintendent Pollock and his men blasted the ice in the Platte river near Swallow Hill yesterday, opening up the channel and now the crib is well filled. Holes were drilled in the ice and sticks of dynamite were inserted, blowing the ice in every direction. The report could be plainly heard down town. The cold weather has been causing the company much grief, both as to getting a supply of water and on account of hydrants freezing and pipes bursting. It is thought, however, that the former problem has been solved.

Smith Loses in Supreme Court.
In the case of the Platte-mouth water company vs. A. B. Smith, which was appealed from the district court of this county something like a year ago, has been decided in the supreme court, the water company again being victorious. This is the case wherein Smith sought to prevent the water company from getting its supply of water from the Platte river by reason of its running across his land. He undertook to block the channel and the water company got out an injunction, which was made permanent in the district court, and the supreme court sustained the decision of the lower court.

RAILROAD NOTES AND PERSONALS

From Wednesday's Daily.
Ray Wiles and wife departed last evening for Brookfield, Mo., where they will reside in the future. Mr. Wiles has been transferred from the local store house to the Burlington's supply department at that place. His friends are pleased to learn of his promotion to such a lucrative position.

Henry Kaubie has accepted the position as messenger at the store house, made vacant by the promotion of Dean Burton. Henry is a bright boy and the chances are he will be filling an important position with the Burlington before many years.

The western roads carried more grain during the month of January than was carried by them during any corresponding month for the last five years. The total for the month was 20,586 cars; in 1898, 18,712 cars; in 1897, 15,910 cars, and in 1896, 22,107 cars.

From Thursday's Daily.
As Burlington passenger train No. 20 pulled into Bellevue last evening the trucks broke on the chair car causing quite a smash-up, but as the train was not yardmaster Manchester took Jack Ladgeway and his crew up to Bellevue about 8 o'clock and they put new trucks under the coach and brought it down to the shops, arriving here about 1 a. m. The side track at Bellevue was used and no trains were delayed as a result of the mishap.

Jack Denson went out on an extra freight as brakeman last night, the regular man having been left at the Junction.

John Lindeman of the carpenter department is laying off in order to devote his attention to an attack of grip.

Sid C. Wheeler, an old time Platte-mouth citizen, was in the city yesterday on business. Mr. Wheeler is now traveling engineer for the Burlington on the southern division, with headquarters at Wyomere.

Orders for giant engines are being rapidly placed these days. The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe company has purchased thirty-five locomotives, fifteen of which are to be delivered by July next. The Erie has gone into the new engine business to the extent of ten giant machines, the Monon is in for six, the Burlington for about the same number, and the Northwestern will get twenty modern flyers. To the one may be added the recent record-breaking order of the Lake Shore for fifty large class locomotives.

The forthcoming annual report of the Omaha road will be the best in its history. Gross earnings of the whole line were $9,590,993, and net earnings, exclusive of land sales, $1,918,198.

"What does it cost to operate a dining car?" echoed Mr. L. N. Hopkins, commissary of the Burlington railroad to an Omaha newspaper man. "Well, that's a hard question to answer. But there are two items that will give you an idea. The flowers that ornament the tables in our dining cars cost over $5,000 a year and the menu cards mean an annual expense of $2,000 more. Quite a lot of money for 'little things,' isn't it?"

A peculiar incident in railroading happened on the Missouri Pacific last night. There was a new engineer on No. 2, the passenger train due here at 10:43, and despite the fact that it never failed to stop, the train whizzed past the depot at a forty-mile clip, leaving the passengers standing on the platform. The engineer has been running a fast freight and it is supposed that he had forgotten himself.

Granted a New Trial.
In the case of Goss vs. Goss decided adversely to Mrs. Anna Goss in the supreme court December 22, 1898, upon a motion for rehearing filed by her attorneys, the rehearing was granted and the cause remanded to the district court of this county for a new trial. This action of the supreme court is a decided victory for Mrs. Goss and her attorneys, as well.

ARE POOR FIGHTERS.

Filipinos Make No Determined Stand When Iloilo Is Assailed.

They Get Out of the Way of the Navy's Guns as Rapidly as Possible—The Fires Which Were Started Do Little Damage to Foreign Interests—Other News of Interest.

MANILA, Feb. 14.—Particulars of the capture of Iloilo by the United States forces under Brigadier General Miller on Saturday last has been received here. On the morning of Friday, February 10, General Miller sent an ultimatum to the commander of the rebels on shore, notifying him that it was his intention to take Iloilo by force, if necessary. Noncombatants and foreigners were warned to leave the town within twenty-four hours. The rebels also warned that they must make no belligerent preparations. The gunboat Petrel was then moved to a position close inshore and near the rebel fort, while the cruiser Boston took up its station at the other end of the town.

Friday passed quietly. During the day many refugees left the town of Iloilo. The majority of them were taken on board foreign ships lying in the harbor. Searchlights from the United States war ships were all night long illuminating the town and its defenses. The rebels, so far as the look-outs on the ships could discover, remained quiescent throughout the night.

A 3 o'clock on the morning of Saturday, February 11, the gunboat Petrel signaled to the cruiser Boston that the rebels were working in their trenches. In return the Petrel was ordered to fire warning shots upon the town from its three pounders. This was done and the rebels replied with a harmless fusillade. The Boston and Petrel then bombarded the rebel trenches, completely clearing them of their occupants in a very short space of time. Soon after the bombardment began flames broke out simultaneously in various parts of the town. Thereupon forty-eight marines, acting as infantry, and artillery were landed from the cruiser Boston, and a company was sent ashore from the gunboat Petrel. These detachments marched straight into the town of Iloilo, and hoisting the stars and stripes over the fort, took possession of the place in the name of the United States.

Consulates Are Saved.
The capture of the town and its defenses having been accomplished, the marines and soldiers who had been sent ashore proceeded to the task of saving the American, English and German consulates from destruction by the fire, which was raging among the frail and inflammable buildings of the town. The Swiss consul's residence, which was in the same row with the consulates named, was burned. The entire Chinese and native sections of the town were destroyed, but foreign mercantile property escaped with slight damage.

There was some desultory firing by the enemy in the outskirts of Iloilo, but not a single American was injured. Miller's force was in complete control of the situation when the gunboat Petrel sailed from Iloilo for Manila. The Sixth United States artillery regiment occupied a position commanding both bridges leading into the town, and the Tennessee volunteers and the Eighteenth United States infantry were occupying the trenches that had been constructed by the rebels.

Mr. S. A. Fackler, editor of the Micanopy, (Fla.) Hustler, with his wife and children, suffered terribly from La Grippe. One Minute Cough Cure was the only remedy that helped them. It acted quickly. Thousands of others use this remedy as a specific for La Grippe, and its exhausting after effects. Never fails. F. G. Fricke.

Bleeding for Flat Dwellers.
An artificial stone has been invented that is a nonconductor of heat, cold and noise. It is especially intended for roofs and floors, says an exchange. The fact that a floor can be laid in a flat that will prove a nonconductor of sound should certainly fall like a benediction on the ears of those who dwell in apartments and have been made unwilling participants of all the sorrows and joys of their neighbors. This so-called stone is made of purified paper pulp mixed with various other ingredients to harden it. Papyritolite is the name of this thrice welcome invention, and Mr. Gehe, a civil engineer of Zurich, is the blessed inventor. The preparation is as hard as stone, but much lighter in weight. It is noiseless and inexpensive.

R. Presson, Pressonville, Kans., writes Jan. 25, 1899: "Ship order at once, only have one bottle left. 'Nothing like Foley's Honey and Tar' is the universal verdict of all who have used. Especially has this been true of coughs accompanying and succeeding the grippe. Not a single bottle failed to give almost immediate relief. Everybody recommends it. F. G. Fricke & Co.

BLOOD-FED ROSES.

They Bloom in Rare Beauty in the Vatican at Rome.

For years the gardens of the Vatican at Rome have been famous for roses. There is a large field of roses almost as deep a red that they are almost black, so rich in bloom, so rare in perfume that they rank first among all the roses of Europe. And now somebody has found out that the pope's gardener is watering these famous flowers with blood. But there is one rare and beautiful plant which only grows upon the graves of men and only springs from a soil enriched with human blood, such is the fascination attached to the Bloody Flower of Newmarket. Newmarket course has long been famous for a very ancient and curious trench, said to have been dug as a defense in battle and to be full of human bones. This Devil's Ditch runs six miles from Reach to Dullingham, crossing the Newmarket race course. And here only, from the bones of the ancient dead, springs the bloody flower. The large five-petaled king-cup, blood red to purple, with spiked leaves and a thick white sap, blooms in June and July in great big clumps along the ditch. The bloom is the size of a half-dollar. During the season the ditch is visited by many hundreds of people, who come to pick the flowers. Indeed, the Vatican rose and the Bloody Flower of Newmarket are not the only plants which owe vaine and fame to the fertilizing of human remains. The Benedictine and Chartraine liquors are both derived from grapes grown on ancient burial places.

Recommended for La Grippe.
N. Jackson, Danville, Ill., writes: "My daughter had a severe attack of La Grippe seven years ago and since then whenever she takes cold a terrible cough settles on her lungs. We tried a great many remedies without giving relief. She tried Foley's Honey and Tar which cured her. She has never been troubled with a cough since. F. G. Fricke & Co.
