

IS A SERIOUS CHARGE.

George Hippel to Answer to the Charge of Criminal Assault.

His Heinous Purpose Frustrated by the Flight of the Victim—Two Girls on Wintersteen Hill Come Near Getting Into a "Scrap" Over a Young Man and One Is Landed in Jail.

George Hippel, a canvasser who has been in the city about a week, is now in the city hall awaiting arraignment on a serious charge.

He has been rooming over William Morrow's bakery, and about 9 o'clock he went to his room supposedly with the intention of retiring. Miss Nita Morrow was in the room preparing the bed, and soon after came running down into the bakery in an almost exhausted condition from fright and stated that Hippel had criminally assaulted her. Mr. Morrow went to Hippel's room and brought him down stairs to make an explanation, but being satisfied of the fellow's intentions, struck him a blow on the head, felling him to the floor, and ordered him to get his belongings and get out. However, in the meantime Night Watchman Hansen came along and arrested him and took him to jail.

Miss Morrow is a niece of William Morrow's and her home is in Lincoln, but her parents being dead she makes her home here a portion of the time. She being of a nervous disposition the shock was so great she was in bad condition for a time.

Hippel will probably be arraigned tomorrow morning, County Attorney Root being engaged in district court today was unable to arraign him.

WAS NEARLY A HAIR PULLING.

Johnny Neary Precipitates a Riot on Wintersteen Hill.

Last evening Alice Jones, who resides on Wintersteen hill, filed a complaint against one Bortha Inscott, real name unknown, charging her with using abusive and threatening language.

The latter is from Omaha and has been working as a domestic for about a week in the north part of town. It appears that the two have become infatuated with Ralph Barthold, and it was over his attentions that the girls became involved in the quarrel. The Inscott girl was taken before Judge Archer, who let her go on her own recognizance, with the understanding that she would appear for trial at 9 o'clock this morning, but added that if she left town no effort would be made to bring her back.

She went to the home of an old lady by the name of Timmis residing on Wintersteen hill, but did not put in an appearance at 9.

Mrs. Timmis notified the police this afternoon that she wanted her taken away from her house and Officer Hansen was detailed to go to the house. He shortly returned and stated that he believed the girl had taken poison and was dying. He took a physician to the scene of the "dying girl," who made a hasty examination and made the discovery that the poison she had taken was nothing but common, every day whiskey and that she was heavily drunk. She was taken to jail and when she sobers up will be given a trial.

Released From the Pest House.

Ed Dutton arrived in the city this morning and will spend several days visiting his mother, Mrs. A. W. Dutton. As was stated in THE NEWS some time ago Ed was one of the victims of the smallpox scourge in Omaha. Himself and Elmer Cole, formerly of this city, were running engines in the Burlington yards and were boarding at the Vendome hotel at the time the disease broke out.

Dutton was one of the first to contract the disease, but at first thought he had measles. He was taken to the pest house where he was kept forty-eight days, being released last Monday morning. He had about the worst siege of anyone afflicted with the malady, being unconscious a portion of the time. His face is quite badly marked now, but it is thought the marks will disappear to some extent.

Elmer Cole was not taken ill until sixteen days later, and will not be released for about ten days, although he is rapidly recovering.

The pest house is located about a mile northeast of old Fort Omaha, and Mr. Dutton states it is about the most desolate place he ever saw.

The county commissioners have finished the work of checking up the books in the county judge's office and have filed a report with the county clerk. The salary allowed the judge is $1,500 a year and the report shows the fees collected by County Judge Spurlock for the years 1896 and 1897 amount to something over $3,000 and all fees collected from now on for these years will go into the treasury, showing that the judge's office is now self-supporting. The members of the board speak in the highest terms of the manner in which Mr. Spurlock keeps his accounts, making the task of checking up his books very easy.

Viola Allen's Literary Aspirations.

Miss Viola Allen, the "star" of Hall Caine's dramatization of his popular novel, "The Christian," has always aspired to be an author. She has said that there are two things which she would rather do than act: write a book, or be a trained nurse. She will now make her literary debut in an article which she has written for the Ladies' Home Journal, reciting and explaining fully "What the Life of an Actress Means."

Louis O'Neill of Havelock is in the city.

Will Build a Flour Mill. The best thing ever accomplished by the Business Men's association was the securing last Saturday of a new mill, to be built of first-class material, with new and modern machinery from the ground up, with a capacity of 60 barrels of flour in 24 hours.

Saturday morning a committee consisting of E. E. Day, T. F. Jameson, and J. E. Douglas went to Plattsmouth where they were met by Messrs. Nicholas Holmes, N. C. Holmes, Jr., and Herman Kletsch. These gentlemen had previously made a proposition to our business men. A contract was entered into and the Plattsmouth parties agreed to construct a mill as above stated inside of five months, and put up a certified check of $500 to bind the contract. As soon as the mill is completed the Business Men's association agrees to give the owners and builders $1,000 bonus, which sum is raised by the generosity of our business men in and out of the association.

On the return of this committee their report was made to the association, which was accepted and committee discharged.

There was general rejoicing here over the news as a mill is something Weeping Water is greatly in need of and it will bring much trade to our city. Mr. Kletsch is the gentleman who formerly made the flour at the Plattsmouth mill and he and Mr. Holmes, Jr., will move here and run this mill, which assures its success.

The location has not yet been decided on but the mill will be built on the north side of the railroad as stipulated in the contract. Mr. Holmes says he expects the plant to cost $9,000.—Weeping Water Republican.

L. Rusterholtz favored the writer with money on subscription. Mr. Rusterholtz is one of our up-to-date citizens who believes in keeping informed on the affairs of his county.

Our former friend, Riley Dill, informs us that he is feeding five cars of cattle and about one hundred and fifty hogs, which are doing finely. His brother, Ben, is also feeding a car of cattle.

Rev. Beach, of Washington, recently closed a two weeks' series of meetings at Otterbain church. He made many warm friends while in this locality. He preached his farewell sermon Sunday evening.

J. A. Davis is badly crippled up with rheumatism this week and hardly able to get around. We sincerely hope his affliction will prove only temporary, and that he will soon be his jolly self again.

G. M. Minford shipped some stock to Omaha last week, and among them were two old, poor cows—"canners"—which had cost "Ran" $30. But they refused to "can." In fact, the beef commission's recent visit was too fresh in the minds of the Omaha packers, and the cows were condemned and sent to the fertilizer tanks. "Ran" got a little over $4 for the two animals, and, after paying freight, yardage and commissions, had about 25 cents left. Moral: "Ran" says he will invest in no more "canners" until the beef scandal is at least partially forgotten.

T. E. Fulton is walking on his car these days—that is he walks on his car whenever he waits at all. Most of the time he sits with his hat away over on one side of his head. He is talking of enlarging his business, and putting in, among other things, a free lot of cigars—the same to be free to all his friends. Cause: An eleven and one-half pound girl arrived in Maple Grove Saturday morning, and has concluded to take up her residence with him. The neighbors all say that the young lady is very beautiful and resembles Tommy, and that is what makes him act so queerly. Tommy is in favor of changing the government of Maple Grove into a monarchy with the young lady as queen. However, Mayor Norris' star still shines like the noon-day sun.

John Murphy, a young and prosperous farmer, is at present a very sick man. Dr. T. P. Livingston of Plattsmouth and a doctor from Lincoln were called to his bedside, but they have little hope for his recovery.

The funeral of Mrs. Albee, who died Friday night at Lincoln, took place at the German Lutheran cemetery. She was laid to rest besides her husband and son. Deceased formerly resided at Louisville and has many friends here and at that place. We extend our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Bielefeld and Frank Albee.

Mrs. Shehan, who has been a sufferer from heart trouble for years, died Tuesday night and the funeral took place from the College Hill Catholic church Thursday. Rev. Father T. F. Nugent of Lincoln, her former pastor, officiated. She rests now at the Catholic cemetery besides her husband, who preceded her some years ago.

A very pretty wedding took place Tuesday at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ferguson, when Mr. H. G. Gerbeting of Elmwood and Miss Carrie Ferguson were united in marriage. The groom is a highly respected young man and the bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ferguson. They will reside on a farm near Elmwood. We wish them happiness and prosperity.
