him since he left the city several days ago. He had no knowledge whatever of the press reports in regard to the selection of Secretary Alger's successor, but as for himself, he would remain at the head of the department of justice.

Secretary Alger probably will leave Washington early next week, severing his official connection with the war department on Monday, when he expects to turn over his office to Assistant Secretary Melklejohn, who will reach here from the west on Saturday and act as secretary of war until a permanent secretary assumes the office. Secretary Alger will spend the remaining days of his service in closing up a number of matters with which he is especially familiar, including some knotty bridge and engineering projects. He maintained silence respecting his resignation and the causes which led to its tender and it is understood if he takes the public at all into his confidence it will not be until after he is entirely out of office. He is in the best of spirits and apparently was feeling refreshed at the relief from the strain under which he has been for some time. The following is Secretary Alger's letter of resignation and the president's reply to it:

"July 19, 1899 .- Sir: I beg to tender to you my resignation of the office of secretary of war, to take effect at such time in the near future as you may decide the affairs of this department will permit.

"In terminating my official connec-tion with your administration I wish for you continuous health and the highest measure of success in carrying out the great work entrusted to you. 'I have the honor to be, very revectfully, your obedient servant. R. A. ALGER.

To the president." e president replied: ecutive Mansion, Washington, ) .- Hon. R. A. Alger, Secretary War-Dear Sir: Your resignation of the office of secretary of war under date of July 19 is accepted, to take effect the 1st of August, 1899. "In thus severing the official relation which has continued for more than two years, I desire to thank you for the faithful service you have rendered the country at a most exacting period and to wish you a long and happy life. With assurances of high regard and esteem, I am, yours sin-WILLIAM M'KINLEY." cerely,

The representatives of the commissioners are to select the exhibits from the various departments of the government and the heads of the departments are to be instructed to furnish whatever may be selected. It will be the purpose of the commission to make an especially fine showing in the exhibits of the navy, war and agricultural departments.
