

ALGER DOWN AND OUT

The Secretary of War Hands in His Resignation.

THE SAME WILL BE ACCEPTED.

His Resignation Will Become Effective August 1st—There is Much Gossip Regarding His Successor, but It is Mainly Speculative—The Document Anticipated for Some Time.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Secretary Alger yesterday tendered to the president his resignation of the war portfolio. The resignation will become effective August 1, though it was tendered "at the pleasure of the president."

Gossip has begun as to his successor, but it is entirely speculative, for notwithstanding the reports that Mr. Alger would not long continue as head of the War department, his actual resignation came suddenly and unexpectedly. That it would come by the end of the year was generally believed, but so little was it expected at this time that some of the cabinet officers, when the news first became public, were inclined to regard the announcement as premature, the announcement that it was actually in hand coming to them in the nature of a surprise.

Formal acceptance of his resignation had not been made by the president up to a late hour tonight, but will be in a letter to be written within the next day or two.

No official statement as to the cause of the resignation was procurable either from the president or from Secretary Alger, neither of whom would talk on the subject, nor was the letter of resignation obtainable at this time. For the present nothing will be made public concerning the severance of the relations of the president and his war minister, but later on the official correspondence, closing the latter's career as chief of the War department, details will be given to the press.

The belief had prevailed in Washington for some time that Secretary Alger would resign from the cabinet, but the date generally set for it was toward the end of the year, after he had submitted his annual report, in which he had intended to sum up what had been accomplished during his brief eventful direction of the War department.

His tender then had been regarded as almost a foregone conclusion. In view of Mr. Alger's announcement about a month ago, that he had concluded to enter into competition for the vacancy in the United States senate, to be caused by the expiration of the term of Senator McMillin, a strong supporter of the administration, and that he had enlisted in his active support Governor Plagere, to whom had been attributed free criticisms of the policy that was proposed to be cherished by the president toward the Philippines.

There have been many explanations and denials of the facts in that case, but in the end the impression was conveyed that the result of the Michigan visit of the secretary had been to change the relations between the president and himself to such a degree as to make the restoration of their former status impossible. In the connection of the two as part of the same official family impossible.

At no time since then has there been ground for the belief that a rupture might be avoided, but this belief ceased to be held when the news spread that Vice President Hobart and Secretary Alger were in conference at Normanhurst.

It was largely at least as a result of this conference that Secretary Alger decided to leave the cabinet at this time. At this conference there were present, besides Secretary Alger, his military aide and close personal and political friend, and also Major Hopkins, and perhaps some other persons, or person, who also felt a deep interest in the future of the secretary.

There has been no disclosure of what passed by the seaside, but it is significant that the return to the secretary to Washington was followed by prompt action. He arrived in Washington last night, too late to make any official calls. Almost before the executive department was opened, Secretary Alger was called at the White House and, visiting the president in his office, announced that he had concluded to resign his office.

What passed on that point between himself and the president is only a matter of surmise, for neither have anything to say on the point. Some routine business pertaining to the War department was disposed of, and then Mr. Alger went over to his office and spent some time with Major Wilson, chief of engineers, and Major Hopkins, looking into the merits of the controversy which had arisen over the construction of a distributive canal in the Michigan. Major Hopkins had just returned from a personal inspection of the locality and had prepared a report on the subject.

Several times they were interrupted by Adjutant General Corbin, who had some matters of pressing current business requiring the personal attention of the secretary to bring to his attention. This attended to, Secretary Alger then wrote out his formal letter of resignation and personally carried it over to the White House. His call on this occasion was brief, and when he returned to the War department he closed the door of his office to most of the many callers who were in waiting and had a long conference with Adjutant General Corbin.

EVENING UP RATES ON GRAIN.

Commerce Commission Makes Decision Affecting Shippers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—The interstate commerce commission in an opinion by Commissioner Prouty today announced its decision in the case of the Grain Shippers' association of northwest Iowa against the Illinois Central Railroad company and others. The commission finds that the transportation of grain eastward from Rock Rapids City and from Sioux City and other points in the territory adjacent to Sioux City is subject to competition between the carriers, but while reduced rates have resulted from the competition at Kansas City, the competition in northwest Iowa has been more effectively restrained by an agreement formerly in effect since such agreement was canceled by continuance of rates with substantial reduction.

The rate on corn to Chicago from most points in western cities is 17 cents per 100 pounds. An examination of the rates and rate conditions for a period of years indicates to the satisfaction of the commission that a rate of 15 cents on corn from Kansas City to Chicago should be applied at all Missouri river points, but it concludes that the evidence is not sufficient to enable it to reach a conclusion. It does not appear, they say, however, that the rates on grain from Sioux City and other points in a limited section of northwest Iowa are too high.

The commission decides that the 19-cent rate on corn from Sioux City and other points in adjacent territory should be reduced, that the 17-cent rate on corn now in effect from most points in western Iowa should be extended to Sioux City and other points east of the Sioux City and St. Paul, north part of the Chicago, St. Paul & Omaha, and that a corresponding reduction should be made from other points in southwestern Iowa. The commission further held that no opinion is expressed as to what is the proper relation of rates on wheat and corn from Sioux City and adjacent territory, the difference of 4 cents which now prevails from most shipping points in that section should not be exceeded.

The complaints also demanded reparations, but this was denied upon the ground that there is no proof that the rates were unreasonable at the time they were presented.

Incidentally, the commission in passing upon the case decided that the capitalization of a railroad in a case involving the readjustment of rates, should be accompanied by a history of the capital account, the value of the stock and various securities, and the actual cost and value of the property itself. They hold that to make the capital account of railroads the measure of legitimate earnings would place, as a result, the corporation which has been honorably freed from the outset under enormous disadvantages.

NEBRASKA IS ALL RIGHT.

The Outlook for Coming Crops Highly Encouraging.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 19.—Frank H. Peavey, who left Minneapolis a week ago by special train, on an inspection trip through Nebraska and Kansas, returned today. He said: "Our trip covered the Union Pacific line in Nebraska and Kansas. We went west to North Platte, Neb., and from Manhattan, Kan., to Salina, Kansas to Kansas City. I found wheat better than I expected in Nebraska, and in Kansas about 50 per cent of last year's yield on the Union Pacific system, which makes a better showing than on lines further south, however. With no accident to corn Kansas will break all her records as a corn-producing state."

"In Nebraska the corn looks better than in Kansas, if that is possible. The farmers are improving their lands and buildings substantially and also their dwellings."

Mr. Peavey said that the prospect was so encouraging that he should build a new line of elevator in Nebraska, and would probably add to his system in Kansas.

As to northwest prospects, Mr. Peavey said: "Our private reports suggest a splendid wheat harvest for the northwest. It looks to me as if good fortune is again to shine upon us."

Business in Venezuela Depressed.
WASHINGTON, July 19.—Frank B. Loomis, the American minister to Venezuela, was at the state department today, having recently arrived in the United States from his post. Mr. Loomis says that business in Venezuela is considerably depressed owing to the low prices of coffee. The people of the country, he says, are very hopeful that the result of the boundary line arbitration will confirm Venezuela's right to the territory, which proves to be fabulously rich in gold, silver, copper and other minerals. Mr. Loomis says that the project for a huge canal system to connect the waters of the Orinoco, Amazon and Platte is being so far advanced that the vast sum necessary to construct it, estimated at $100,000,000 to $300,000,000, staggers the projectors.

Young Baptists Call on McKinley.
WASHINGTON, July 19.—About 200 delegates to the Baptist Young People's union which has just finished its annual meeting at Richmond, Va., were received by the president in the east parlor today. They were presented by President John Chapman of Chicago.

George Victor Lindon, who is supposed to be better posted on "dogology" than any other man in town, furnished amusement for a large number of by-standers at Fourth and Main streets last evening. He had been down to the river giving Henry Miller's St. Bernard pup a bath and was on the return when the animal playfully jumped about his feet and got the chain with which Lindon was leading it tangled about his legs, throwing him to the pavement and then proceeded to have fun with him. The dust was flying about the two objects so thick that it was impossible to determine which was the under dog for a while, and some who witnessed the performance thought it was an Italian and bear fought the dance. Although the pup is but a few months old it was able to hold Mr. Lindon down for quite a while. It is safe to say that in the future he will not take such good care of the dog that will feel hilarious to the extent that it will want to wrestle with him.

MAYOR SIGNS BONDS.

Has a Tedious Ten Hours' Job on His Hands.

State Auditor Notifies the City Officials That the Documents Cannot Be Registered Without the Mayor's Signatures—Old Presbyterian Choir Joys a Picnic.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Mayor Richey had the hardest and most tedious job on his hands yesterday which he has been called upon to perform since becoming mayor of the city of Plattsmouth. It will be remembered that the mayor and city clerk recently delivered the bonds issued by the city, aggregating the sum of $105,000, to the state auditor's office in order to have them legally registered. These bonds were signed by Clerk Kerr's lithographed signature, and were not returned until yesterday, when the city officials were informed that the clerk's signature was not sufficient and that the documents could not be registered unless the mayor's sign manual was placed on each one of the coupons. Being anxious to get the matter off his hands, the mayor immediately sent word to the auditor that he would sign the bonds at once, and requested that official to register the same.

This task required the mayor to write his name 4,000 times, and it kept him hard at work for ten long hours.

He completed the job, however, and immediately made arrangements for having the bonds forwarded to the fiscal agency of the city at New York.

The express company's rate for transporting the bonds was $206.75, while the charge for sending them through the mails was only $1.35. It was decided to send them by mail and take a little more risk rather than pay the exorbitant rate asked by the express company.

The package was sent out yesterday afternoon, and Mayor Richey is naturally glad that he has the matter off his hands.

Some Jolly Picnickers.

From Wednesday's Daily.
The members of the old Presbyterian choir went out to Patterson's park yesterday afternoon in one of Jones' carnivals for a little pleasure excursion. The party enjoyed an old-fashioned camp fire feast at supper time—cooking the meal over the flames of a camp fire—and the good things thus prepared were eagerly devoured by the members. They returned to town about 10 o'clock, but enjoyed a ride around town before going home.

The party consisted of Mrs. C. S. Johnson, Misses Antonia Kessler, Tillie Valery, Edith Patterson and Messrs. B. A. McElwain, Henry Weidmann, Harry Groves, Wayne Twitchell and Wallace Carter.

Got Into a Nest of Wasps.

A good little joke is told today on Halsey Duke, who lives up in the Second ward. Halsey and his little sister were playing hide-and-go-seek out in the yard last evening, and when it came his turn to hide he requested his sister to close her eyes and when he had concealed himself in a comfortable place he would signal her by letting forth a loud yell. He immediately proceeded to climb up one of the tall trees in the yard, and had no more than seated himself on one of the branches when he discovered, to his dismay, that he had gotten into a nest of wasps, and from the noise Halsey made for a few minutes it was evident that the insects lost no time in making it warm for him. The lad's cries were heard all over the neighborhood, and when he was finally rescued from his perilous position, it was found that his face and hands were quite severely stung by the angry wasps. It is safe to say that Halsey will not hide in any more trees for some time to come.

RAW AS BEEF FROM ECZEMA!

No Torture Equal to the Itching and Burning of This Fearful Disease.

Eczema—which is more than skin-deep, and can not be reached by local applications of ointments, salves, etc., applied to the surface. The disease itself, the real cause of the trouble, is in the blood, although all suffering is produced through the skin; the only way to reach the disease, therefore, is through the blood.

Mr. Phil T. Jones, of Mixersville, Ind., writes: "I had Eczema thirty years, and after a great deal of treatment my leg was so raw and sore that it gave me constant pain. It finally broke into a running sore, and began to spread and grow worse. For the past five or six years I have suffered untold agony and had given up all hope of ever being free from the disease, as I have been treated by some of the best physicians and have taken many blood medicines, all in vain. With little faith left I began to take S. S. S., and it apparently made the Eczema worse, but I knew that this was the way the remedy got rid of the poison. Continuing S. S. S., the sore healed up entirely, the skin became clear and smooth, and I was cured perfectly."

Eczema is an obstinate disease and can not be cured by a remedy which is only a tonic. Swift's Specific—is superior to other blood remedies because it cures diseases which they can not reach. It goes to the bottom—to the cause of the disease—and will cure the worst case of Eczema, no matter what other treatment has failed. It is the only mineral remedy guaranteed to be free from potash, mercury or any other mineral, and never fails to cure Eczema, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, Cancer, Tetter, Rheumatism, Open Sores, Ulcers, Boils, etc. Insist upon S. S. S.; nothing can take its place.

Books on these diseases will be mailed free to any address by Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.
