

THE BODY IDENTIFIED

Found to Be Dudley Coleman Who Was Killed Last Thursday.

Was Identified By His Father And Two of Three Men With Whom He Had Been Working In a Quarry In Sarpy County—Body Disinterred and Will Be Taken to Seward.

From Monday's Daily.

The unfortunate young man who was killed in the Burlington yards in this city last Thursday evening has been identified as Dudley Coleman, who worked for George Poisl three years ago and who was a nephew of the latter.

Young Coleman had been working in the quarries at Richfield, in Sarpy county, for the past two years, and last Thursday quit working at that place with the intention of going to work at the Weeping Water quarries. He had planned to visit friends and relatives in this city a few days prior to going to Weeping Water and on Thursday afternoon came as far as Louisville. Shortly after 8 o'clock that evening he boarded freight train No. 76 and came to Plattsmouth, arriving here at 9:05, and it is while alighting from this train that the unfortunate young man lost his life. The body was found an hour and forty minutes after the arrival of this train.

Frank Fitzgerald of Louisville heard of a man being killed in the local yards and having seen Coleman board the train at Louisville suspected that his friend had met death and in company with another man who had been working with Coleman came down here Saturday evening.

The body had been buried Saturday morning, but Coroner Sattler had retained a piece of the coat worn by the young man and this the men identified and were soon satisfied that it was their comrade who had been killed.

Amos Coleman, the young man's father, who resides on a farm near Seward, was telegraphed to and arrived in the city last evening, and this morning the body was disinterred and taken to the undertaking rooms of Streight & Streight, where identification was made beyond any possible doubt. Not only did the father identify him, but three other men from Richfield readily recognized the body as that of Coleman. One of the latter was Edward Maloy, who had worked with him and roomed with him for two years. The other two were James Martin and John Karosky, representing M. W. A. lodge No. 2408, of which Coleman was a member and in which he carried $1,000 insurance, his father being the beneficiary.

There were a number of marks by which he was identified—one of which was a scar the full length of one thumb—caused by the hand being caught in a corn sheller when he was a boy. The father looked for this mark the first thing he did.

Dudley Coleman was twenty-seven years of age and had worked in this city and county a considerable length of time. He worked for Atwood & Co. at Cedar Creek and one year for O. M. Streight on the farm near South Bend and has worked in this city at different times. Coroner Sattler states that there were 250 or 300 people viewed the body while it was lying in the morgue and although a great many of that number were well acquainted with young Coleman when he worked here none of them recognized him. The fact that no one expected to see a man they had known and the further fact that the man's head was severed from the body made his identification difficult.

The body will be taken to Seward for burial, leaving here at 7:30 tomorrow morning.

Quartermaster Hiram Robine. Hiram Robine, who is now at Fort Crook, writes to a friend in this city to the effect that he has just been appointed quartermaster of Company A, and it is his duty to look after the "grub" and see that the boys get what the government allows. Among other things he says:

"It is reported that I will leave next Wednesday, and I am sure that if you visit this camp you will be interested in the way our Uncle Sam is treating his boys. The entire eight companies are filled up to 106 men to the company, and every man has been fully equipped with everything that is necessary for soldiering.

"Our rations consist of beans, coffee, fresh bread, fresh beef (once a day), bacon, rice, flour, tomatoes, potatoes, vinegar, sugar, pork, pepper, salt, dried apples, dried peaches, onions. The bacon, beef and fresh pork is of the best quality. You can thus readily see that Uncle Sam is feeding us all right. The cook I have hired is a good one, and those who have tasted what he dishes out are satisfied. I attend no drills and can be found at all times in the kitchen, overseeing that place."

Notice to A. O. U. W. All members of the A. O. U. W. lodges and their friends are requested to be on hand Saturday morning to go to Omaha to attend the A. O. U. W. day exercises at the exposition. Special low rates have been secured on the Burlington and it is desired to make this event a great success. Two bands will be taken and the B. & M. headquarters at Omaha will be serenaded on the march up town. Train leaves at 7:30.

Attorney Theodore W. Ivory of Glenwood was in the city today attending to some business with his agent, J. M. Leyda. Mr. Ivory is a prominent real estate dealer and money lender of Glenwood, being quite wealthy.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDING ASSURED.

Board Decides That a New Building is the Only Alternative.

The board of education held a meeting last evening and decided unanimously to erect a new school building on the southwest corner of the high school campus. It will be erected according to the plans and specifications furnished by the Omaha architect. It will be a one story building 70x90 feet and will afford the needed relief for a number of years.

Superintendent McHugh suggested numerous ways in which the crowded condition could be overcome, but made no recommendation in the matter.

A Play That Pleases Old and Young. Of all the dramatic productions playing here this season "Maloney's Wedding," which will be the attraction at the White, Monday, Oct. 16, is said to be by far the most entertaining. It is a comedy-drama constructed to please the young as well as the old, and fairly teems with the most novel and humorous ideas of every day life. Dan Maloney, the good-natured victim of a matrimonial venture, is a type of character as true as life. He possesses all of the native wit and hilarity mischief known to his race, and bubbles over with refreshing fun. The Widow Chaney, the jolly partner of his humorously complicated courtship, and subsequent bride, furnishes a fund of sparkling wit and joviality that keeps an audience in the best of good nature.

During the performance pretty little surprises pop up in the shape of singing and dancing specialties and the company, headed by James McCabe and Rose Bradbury, comes with the highest of press praise. Sale of seats now on at Lehnhoff Bros. at usual prices.

A Surprise Party.

Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kalasek a number of girls and boys gave a very pleasant surprise party in honor of Miss Annie Kalina, the sister of Mrs. Kalasek. A number of games were played and dancing was indulged in until a late hour. Then supper was served. After supper the young folks played some more games, after which they departed for their many homes, all reporting a very nice time. Those present were Misses Mary Kanka, Barbara Ptak, Antonia Yanda, Mary C. Yanda, Mary L. Yanda, Mary Machine, Josie Waga, Jennie Koke, Annie Kanka, Ellen Blackett, Annie Blackett, Josie Woster, Fanny Yanda, Mary Kalasek, Annie Kalina, Mary Ptak and Mrs. J. Kalasek, Messrs. Henry Nims, Conrad Guthmann, Ed Mason, Will Carstens, Will Bates, August Bach, Frank Tritley, Anton Kanka, Anton Bajek, Bob White, Joe Shoebasty, Bernard Wurl, James O'Neil, Herman Richter, Thomas Tidd, George McJeary, Mike Waga, Mike Bajek and John Kalasek.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart of Groton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent one above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God, I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at F. G. Fricke & Co. Regular size 50c, and $1. Guaranteed or price refunded.

First Political Speaking.

The campaign will be opened in Plattsmouth next Thursday evening, October 12, when Hon. E. J. Hainer will speak at Waterman's hall. Mr. Hainer is an interesting talker and there is no doubt that the meeting will be a good one.

The latest report as to the condition of J. C. Cummins, who has been so seriously ill for several days, is that he has remained about the same for the last twenty-four hours, which has given his family stronger hope that he may recover.

WAS A BRIEF SESSION.

City Council Meeting Was Short and Without Interest.

R. S. Walters, the Fruit Tree Man, is Nabbed by Federal Authorities—He Cased the Mails For Fraudulent Purposes—Hiram Robine Appointed Company Quartermaster.

The city council met in regular session last night with all members present. The session was rather a brief one and no business of much importance was transacted.

A petition was read by the clerk asking that the alley in block 26 be opened, and upon motion of Buttery the work was ordered done. The petition was signed by the trustees of the Methodist church and by the men whose property adjoins this alley.

The police judge's report for September shows that there were seven arrests, four fines paid, two committed to jail and one fine remitted.

The claims committee reported favorably upon the bills of the county against the city, which had been carried over from previous meetings. Messersmith called the council's attention to the need of some posts with which to repair the fence at the cemetery, and the same were ordered purchased.

The bids for city printing were opened and read and it was found that the bid of the Weekly Journal was the lowest, and that paper was awarded the contract.

A small amount of work was ordered in the Second, Third and Fifth wards and a sidewalk resolution presented by Herold was adopted.

The matter of purchasing 500 feet of hose was brought up and some bids read by the clerk. H. C. Noack, representing the New York Belting and Packing company, was present at the council with samples of hose and gave the members a talk on the good qualities of his hose. The council finally purchased 500 feet of hose of this gentleman—the price being 80 cents per foot, with a six years' guarantee on the same. It is the same kind of hose that the city purchased a few years ago, which was highly satisfactory.

Federal Authorities After Him.

Readers of THE NEWS will remember the arrest a few months ago of one R. S. Walters, a fruit tree agent of Weeping Water, on the charge of embezzlement. He was agent for a nursery at Seneca, Kan., and by padding his orders succeeded in fleecing the firm he represented out of a considerable sum of money. Walters was to have been tried in the courts at Seneca, Kan., last week, but his attorney, Matthew Garing, was engaged on the Watson case and was unable to go to Kansas. Word was received in the city yesterday that Walters has still more grief on his hands. He will now have a round with Uncle Sam, having been turned over to the federal authorities to answer to the serious charge of using the mails for fraudulent purposes. It was not learned whether or not the embezzlement case has been dismissed, but it is supposed that the federal authorities will be given the first chance at him and the embezzlement case will be disposed of later.

Testing New Mail Catcher.

A test of Dr. W. F. Patton's new mail crane patent was made on the Burlington Monday afternoon on the line between Omaha and Havelock. The stations had been fitted with the new mail catch, which it is claimed will deliver and take on mail with the train running at lightning speed. It is the patent of an Omaha citizen, Dr. Patton, and associated with him in pushing the new device are a number of Omaha capitalists. The test was made Monday with a special train carrying a postal car. Those who accompanied the car were Superintendent Bignold, Dr. Patton, Chief Clerk of the Railway Mail Service J. M. Butler, J. T. Rivett, several Omaha gentlemen and a number of postal clerks.

The test being made with a special train the men in charge could stop the crane and go back and examine the crates after passing them and notice any defect in the working or find out the reason for any failure of the crane to work properly. It is admitted that if the device will do what is claimed for it that it is superior to any now in service. Something more than a year ago a new style of mail crane was introduced and tried on the Burlington, but it was quickly placed out of service owing to failure to do the work—Havelock Times.

Death of Laken Pool.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be lost forever. We give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists.
