AGUINALDO IS LOCATED

Insurgent Headquarters Said to Be at Boombang.

It Has Been Ascertained That the Place Is Accessible From the South By Only One Route Away From Railroad and Coast Communication - Wheaton's Forces Land.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The war department definitely located Aguinaldo today as on his way to the town of Boombang, about seventy-five miles north-east of Tarlac. Two recent calculations have been that the insurgent leader was at the town of Bayambang, not far from Tarlac, in which case the several forces under General MacArthur, Lawton, Young and Wheaton would have had him practically surrounded. There has been some doubt, however, as to the name Bayambang, and today this was cleared up by definite information fixing Boombang instead of Bayambang, as the place of Aguinaldo's refuge. A dispatch from General Otis mentioned Boombang and at the same time reliable information came through diplomatic channels that Lieutenant Gilmore and the other American prisoners were at Boombang, 17 to the north-east of Tarlac.

It is expected that the insurgent capital will now be shifted to Boombang and the efforts of the American forces will be directed toward that point. It is in the mountainous country of the north and significantly out of the fertile and populous regions where Aguinaldo thus far has conducted his operations. It is said to be accessible from the south by only one route, along a river which is a branch of the Rio Grande. This leaves the rebel leader little or no opportunity of communicating with the coast or getting supplies. He has also left the railroad behind.

It is said at the war department that the columns of General Young and General Wheaton will push on to the north, following the insurgent leader and his scattered bands.

Wheaton's Forces Land

MANILA, Nov. 9.—General Wheaton's expedition to the north of Luzon landed at Dagupan on Tuesday. Two of the Americans were wounded. The expedition is advancing eastward.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The following cablegram has been received at the war department:

"MANILA, Nov. 9.—General Wheaton successfully landed expedition at Lingayen, west of Dagupan, afternoon of 7th, against considerable opposition; slight casualties; rough sea not permitting landing at San Fabian, north of Dagupan, as directed; he is moving eastward. MacArthur seized Mabalacat on railroad on the 7th inst. Colonel Bell taking same on directed reconnaissance; slight opposition. General Lawton at Cabanatuan. Troops beyond Talavera and Talaga have met with slight opposition, enemy being driven back in all instances; country still submerged, but water falling. Troops will move rapidly as soon as conditions permit. OTIS."

Mayor Jones Makes Denial

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 9.—Mayor Jones today issued a signed statement in which he denies that he had said: "If my race has in any way contributed to the success of John W. McLean and a rebuke to the infamous policy of the administration, I feel it has not been in vain." Mayor Jones then says of imperialism:

"I believe the non-partisan vote of Ohio may be recorded as favoring a Christian policy toward the Philippines. Personally, I believe the Philippines have a right to be free as well as the Americans and I have frankly said so whenever the question was raised, but I have no thought of trying to represent any other man as believing as I do. I want all men to be free to speak for themselves."

Sheep Herder Kills Indian

SALT LAKE, Utah, Nov. 9.—A special to the Deseret News from Vernal, Utah, says:

An Indian was shot and killed on the reservation yesterday at Redder's sheep herd by Jim Olson, a herder. The Indian was trying to drive the herder out and attacked him with an ax, whereupon the herder shot and killed him. The herder was also shot through the arm and was severely wounded.

About fifteen herders now on the reservation are thought to be in great danger and the owners of sheep are hurrying to the scene of trouble, which is on the upper end of the reservation. Troops are also on the way to the scene of trouble. The herder who killed the Indian is in the guardhouse at the post.

Oom Paul's Nephew Marries

DETROIT, Nov. 9.—George A. Kruger of Chicago, a nephew of President Kruger of the Transvaal republic, and Mrs. Buck of Chicago were married at Sandwich, Ont., today. The groom's age was recorded as twenty-seven and the bride's as twenty-one.

That he should travel several hundred miles to be married on British soil at a time when Great Britain is endeavoring to put "Uncle Paul" out of business young Kruger explained by saying that he was anxious to avoid

MABALACAT IS OCCUPIED

General Bell Successfully Locates the Enemy.

Two Companies of Insurgents Are Driven Out and MacArthur's Line Is Now Extended In Front of Angeles Several of the Insurgent Officers Killed in the Engagement.

MANILA, Nov. 8.—5:55 p. m.—General MacArthur has occupied Mabalacat. His entire line, including the Twelfth, Seventh and Nineteenth infantry and part of the Fourth cavalry, is extended three miles in front of Angeles in a good, tactical position. Major Bell took Mabalacat. Being ordered to reconnoiter yesterday until he located the enemy, he pushed into the town, driving out two companies of insurgents and killing several Filipino officers. The Americans suffered no loss.

Salute From Negroes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The following cablegram has been received at the war department from General Otis:

"MANILA, Nov. 7.—The following received from Negroes, dated today: 'To the President of the United States: The civil governor, councillors, judges and secretaries, who constitute the new government of this island, in taking possession thereof on this day, have the honor of affectionately saluting your excellency and trust that in the inauguration of this form of government, based on the liberal and democratic institutions which have made that great republic so grand and prosperous, a new era will open to this region which will enable it to reach the legitimate goal of its aspiration. MENEJO SEVERINO.'"

Transport St. Paul In Port

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—The transport St. Paul has reached this port after a rough passage from Nagasaki. It had but eleven passengers, including several discharged soldiers. The transport Indiana, with the Tennessee regiment aboard, was at Nagasaki when the St. Paul sailed. Besides the Tennessee regiment it had over 100 prisoners aboard. Most of these are designed for Alcatraz, Billibill prison, on Lazon, is so crowded that many prisoners escape court-martial, as there is no place to confine them. When the St. Paul left Manila it was understood that each transport would bring from fifty to one hundred to Alcatraz. Most of the men are charged with minor offenses, though three were convicted of assaulting an officer and one of desertion.

The United States cattle transport Wyofield has arrived from Manila. Its voyage was uneventful.

Looting Done By Filipinos

MINNAPOLIS, Nov. 8.—Frederick Gregory, late private in the Thirtieth Minnesota and interpreter in the police court at Manila, says the looting of the churches in the Philippines was done by Filipinos themselves and by the thrifty Chinamen. One wealthy Chinese merchant showed him a big chest filled to the brim with sacred utensils of silver taken from various churches. He takes no stock in the charge of the Monitor newspaper against General Funston, who had, he says, the reputation of being the strictest of all the regimental commanders in his orders against looting. His men grumbled a good deal about this strictness. After landing in Malolos he stationed a guard in every building of importance.

A Good Beginning

Miss Minnie Brown, who was placed in charge of the Kharas Magnetic Infirmary by Professor Kharas himself, established in this city Monday, has been consulted by quite a number of people already. All report favorable opinions of her work. The progress made by magnetic healing in the last two or three years shows to the world that the time is not far distant when even the medical fraternity will see that many of the chronic diseases can be best remedied without the use of medicine whatever. At the present time those most prominent and progressive in the practice of medicine acknowledge that suggestion, not drugs, plays a great part in effecting cures. Miss Brown's parlors at the Hotel Riley are open at all times to the sick and afflicted. As yet no consultation fee is charged and the Kharas magnetic treatment is placed at a price so reasonable that none are deterred from receiving its benefits.

As a Day of Rest

Each day of the week has served as a day of rest somewhere—Sunday among Christians, Monday with the Greeks, Tuesday with the Persians, Wednesday with the Assyrians, Thursday with the Egyptians, Friday with the Turks, and Saturday with the Hebrews.

Changeable Roses

The horticultural world is exercised by the mysterious transformation in color which the Japanese are able to effect in roses. By some unknown but natural process the flower changes from red in the sunlight to white in the shade or in darkness.

SUBSTITUTE FOR PLATINUM.

For Incandescent Lamps Nickel Steel May Serve as Well.

An important metallurgical discovery is reported by Industries and Iron. A few years ago a greatly increased demand for platinum was created by the invention of the incandescent electric lamp. In order to connect the carbon filament inside the globe with the copper wires outside, it was necessary to find a substance which would expand and contract with changes of temperature at precisely the same rate as the glass in which it was embedded. Platinum was the only material which seemed to meet the requirement. Therefore in all incandescent lamps two slender threads of this rare and costly metal have been used. But the supply of platinum has not kept pace with the demand, and fears have been expressed that a number of industries might be paralyzed in consequence. It is now asserted that for the particular purpose named another material has been found to be equally available. This an alloy of nickel and steel, in which the former metal constitutes 45 percent of the compound. L. C. Dumas, a Frenchman who is credited with the discovery, made a variety of tests with alloys of these two metals, in varying proportions. The results were very diverse, and to one who is unfamiliar with such matters, surprising. Pure, untempered steel has a rate of expansion only a trifle greater than that of glass and platinum. But if 23 percent of nickel be added to it, the rate will be increased to that of brass, which is about double that of steel. With 37 percent there is practically no expansion at all. But with 45 percent of nickel the rate is close to that of glass and platinum.

MAKE FLOORS OF PAPER.

German Invention Which is an Improvement on Hardwood.

The newest floor is of paper, and is of German importation. The paper is imported in a dusty, powdery form, and is then mixed with a kind of cement which gives substance to the impalpable stuff and a plaster-like appearance. It is said that when the floor is laid, the absence of joints and seams like those of the hardwood floors is a distinct improvement, and without the inconvenience of catching dirt. The paste of which the floor is composed is laid on and then rolled out with a heavy roller, specially adapted for the purpose, something like the street roller for asphalt. The floor when smoother, hard and dry is either stained or painted to match or contrast with the woodwork of the room, walnut, cherry, or mahogany stain giving it an appearance like the natural wood. While there are many advantages to this paper floor, one of expense not being inconsiderable, a disadvantage to the sensitive is its pliable feel to the feet, for no matter how hard it is rolled it has always an unnatural sensation to one who walks over it.—New York Tribune.

Bible Measures.

Bible readers are frequently puzzled to know the modern equivalents of Bible measures. Such persons will be interested in the table below given: A day's journey was about thirty-three and one-fifth miles. A Sabbath day's journey was about an English mile. Ezekiel's reed was near eleven feet. A hand's breadth is equal to three and five-eighths inches. A finger's breadth is equal to one inch. A shekel of silver was about 50 cents. A shekel of gold was $58.30. A talent of gold was $12,800. A piece of silver, or a penny, was 13 cents. A farthing was 2 cents. A mite was less than a quarter of a cent. A gerah was one cent. An ephah, or bath, contained seven gallons and five pints. A hin was one gallon and two pints. An omer was six pints.

Electricity in Lighthouses.

It is generally conceded that the arc light is unsatisfactory for use in lighthouses, chiefly owing to its seeming inability to penetrate fog. In fact, in this respect, many arc lights are inferior to the best oil lamps used in lighthouses. They are when examined by a spectroscopic lens seen to be rich in the blue and violet rays, which are easily absorbed by fog or mist. Attempts are now being made to use large incandescent lamps in lighthouses, as the large proportion of red rays that they emit are expected to pass through fog better than those of the arc light.

LaGrippe, with its after-effects,

The Care of Water Boilers.

The officers of the Oregon claim that her tremendous exploit in running that never to be forgotten race against time in order to be in at the death of the Spanish fleet is to a certain extent traceable to the fact that salt water was never allowed in her boilers. There have been many discussions pro and con on the advisability of using salt water. One old engineer declares that if he could run his boilers with rain water he would experiment with rain water with a view to ascertaining its value for such uses. Tanks and catch pans might be expensive, but once arranged they are what one might call fixed property, if they save the value of a few boilers every year, they would give excellent returns for the money invested in their equipment.

British Postoffice Statistics.

The report just issued, of the British postmaster-general estimates that the number of postal packets delivered in the United Kingdom during the year ending March 31, 1899, was 2,496,512,000, which included 2,186,800,000 letters, 382,200,000 postal cards, and 701,500,000 book packages and circulars. The number of letters registered in the United Kingdom was 15,240,699. The total value of property in letters opened in the returned letter office was $2,602,050. These statistics show, by comparison, a steady increase in every department of the British postoffice.
