

MAJOR LOGAN FALLS.

Son of Famous "Black Jack" Shot in Battle of San Fabian.

Americans Also Lose Six Privates Killed and Two Officers and Twelve Men Wounded—Capture Twenty-nine Filipinos and One Hundred Rifles—Eighty-one Dead Rebels in the Trenches.

MANILA, Nov. 14.—8 p. m.—The Thirty-third infantry, in one of the sharpest two-hour engagements of the war, with an equal force of insurgent five miles from San Fabian, Saturday, lost one officer (Major John A.
Logan, jr.) and six men killed and two officers and twelve men wounded. The Americans captured twenty-nine Filipinos and 100 rifles and found eighty-one insurgent dead lying in the trenches and rice fields. Many more Filipinos were doubtless killed or wounded.

General Wheaton was informed that the enemy was gathering at San Jacinto, for the purpose of preventing the Americans from controlling the railroad from Dagupan north, whereby Aguinaldo might retreat. The Thirty-third, Colonel Howe commanding, and a detachment of the Thirtieth, with a Gatling gun, Howland commanding, were sent to disperse them. The troops encountered the worst road ever found in the island of Luzon. There was a succession of creeks, whose bridges the Americans had to stop and repair, and many ditches and at certain places men and horses struggled waist deep in quagmires. A hundred soldiers had to drag the Gatling gun part of the way, the horses being useless.

The insurgents opened the fight two miles from San Jacinto, while the leading American battalion was passing a clump of houses in the midst of a coconut grove, knee deep in mud.
The Filipino sharpshooters hidden in trees and houses and in a trench across the road held their fire until the Americans were close to them, when they began firing. Other Filipinos opened fire from thickets right and left further away. The insurgent sharpshooters picked off the officers first. Five of the Americans who fell were shoulder straps or chevrons. But the Thirty-third never wavered.

Its crack marksmen knocked the Filipinos from the trees like squirrels and the Americans rushed the trench, leaving four dead insurgents there.

Logan's Battalion in Center.

The regiment then deployed under fire with Major John A. Logan's battalion in the center. Major Cronje's on the right and Major Marsh's on the left. The skirmish line, which was a mile long, advanced rapidly, keeping up a constant fire.

The Filipinos made an unexpected stand, many of them remaining under cover until the Americans were within twenty feet of them. Major Marsh flanked a small trench full of insurgents, surprising them and slaughtering nearly all of them before entering the town. The Gatling killed five of the force holding the bridge and swept the country beyond the town, driving about 150 Filipinos into the hills.
Marsh's battalion, entering the town first, captured a big battle flag, which was flying over a convent.

The insurgents are supposed to have retreated toward Dagupan. It was impossible to pursue them, as the American troops were exhausted and their supply of ammunition was low.
The outposts killed five Filipinos during the night. The body of a Filipino lieutenant colonel was found among the killed. The regiment returned to San Fabian, it being impossible to get supplies over the roads.

A proclamation of the Filipino secretary of war in the villages, giving accounts of alleged Filipino victories, says that 7,500 Americans had been killed and 15,000 wounded during the war. The officers who returned say it is impossible for General Wheaton to effect a connection with General Young on account of the bad roads.

Some of the prisoners said they believed the Filipino army had passed the line intended by Generals Wheaton and Young to be covered on Aguinaldo's rear and that he passed San Fabian, going northwest, a fortnight ago.

Colonel Wessels of the Third cavalry, while near San Nicolas, north of Tagay, captured a Filipino bullet train, loaded with records of the insurgent war department and the presses and outfit of the newspaper Independencia.

HAYWARD STILL LIVES.

No Particular Change Is Noted In the Senator's Condition.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Nov. 15.— Senator Hayward's condition at 11 o'clock tonight shows no material change. The stricken senator appears to be holding his own. While the chances are against his recovery, yet it is still among the possibilities that he may get over the present attack.
Dr. Bridges says that the conditions underlying the attack are incurable, yet it will be impossible to tell for two or three days whether the present attack will pass over and the patient get up again. If he should continue to hold his own for forty-eight hours or so it would be possible for him to recover from the present attack. The senator is resting quietly tonight and those about the bedside are hopeful for the best.

Funeral Starts For Manila.
TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 14.—General Funston and wife will leave here tomorrow noon for San Francisco, from which place the general will sail for Manila. The general is afraid the war in the Philippines will be over before he reaches his destination.
General Funston will drop the suit for libel against Archbishop Ireland. He said tonight:

"I will do nothing further about it so far as the archbishop is concerned.
If I take any action it will be against the papers that started the story. I have found out the author of these libelous reports. It was a camp follower. He deserted from an English sailing ship and followed us during the campaign. He was fined three times in the provost court for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. At Manila I found him in a private house and ordered him under arrest, as he had no business there. The paper that printed the story said it was from a reliable newspaper man. He showed himself away on board the Tarrar when we left Manila, and when discovered refused to work. Colonel Metzger placed him on bread and water for two weeks and he swore vengeance against us both. He has made no attack on Colonel Metzger, but made this one on me."

THE NEBRASKA CONCERT

The Leading Musical Event In the City's History.

A Large Number of Plattsmouth's Musically-Loving People Greet the Misses Lillian and Marie Louise Nebraska at the Presbyterian Church—Were Ably Assisted By Omaha Talent.

From Wednesday's Daily.

A flattering tribute was paid to the Nebraska Sisters last evening at the Presbyterian church by the immense audience that greeted their first appearance on the concert stage in this city since their return from London.

The hearts of the listeners were captured as the young ladies made their appearance, simply gowned in pink and mauve silk, draped with white chiffon. Their only ornaments were lovely shower bouquets of pink and white roses, and as they sang the opening number—"Blumenthal's 'Venetian Boat Song'"—their graceful stage presence and lovely voices made a most favorable impression, which increased with each appearance.

Miss Lillian Nebraska was heard most acceptably in "Berceuse," a solo admirably adapted to show the sympathetic quality of her voice. The violin obligato by Franz Adelmann of Omaha was played with exquisite modulation, the singer and accompanist being in perfect accord, the audience listening in breathless silence while the concord of sweet sounds continued.

Miss Marie Louise Nebraska sang an aria from Faust with 'cello obligato that was most beautifully rendered and called forth unbounded applause.
Other numbers were equally well given. The pathetic rendering of "Way Down Upon the Suave River" and the spirited manner in which the "Star Spangled Banner" was given showed conclusively that their repertoire contained not Italian opera alone. The support throughout was excellent. Mr. Carl Tucker is always artistic and pleasing, and as accompanist and pianist last evening he showed faultless execution.

Franz Adelmann is so well known that an extended notice would be superfluous, but THE NEWS cannot refrain from speaking of his superb rendition of the "Preludium" from Wagner's Meistersinger. Mr. Carl Smith, as a 'cello player, is deservedly popular, and although a very young man shows evidence of the highest talent.

Mr. Oscar Garlissen, although a stranger, sang himself at once into the hearts of the audience. In point of execution, quality and range his voice is something wonderful. "The Two Grenadiers" and "Night Has a Thousand Eyes" were among his best numbers, and it is sincerely hoped this will not be his last visit to the city.

Mr. David Guild of Plattsmouth made his initial bow, and was heard in two solos, "Annie Laurie" being given in response to an enthusiastic encore. The entire concert was a perfect success and justly entitled to the hearty support given it. The many lovely flowers given the young debutantes during the evening was evidence of the popularity of the Misses Nebraska at home as well as abroad, and many prophesied that this was the beginning of a most successful career.

The Board Meeting.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The board of education met last evening for the purpose of receiving the bond of L. G. Larson, who was awarded the contract for erecting the new school building. He was to get the bond from an Omaha guaranty company, but as this company requested a local bond, he had not gotten the matter fixed up. However, he secured the local bond this morning and this afternoon went to Omaha, when it is supposed the matter will be closed up, and for the purpose of receiving this bond the board will hold an adjourned meeting tomorrow evening.

D. M. Jones and George Longen-hagen have the contract for doing the brick work and have already put the brick on the ground and will begin active work soon.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm Cures Others,
Why Not You?

My wife has been using Chamberlain's Pain Balm, with good results, for a lame shoulder that has pained her continually for nine years. We have tried all kinds of medicines and doctors without receiving any benefit from any of them. One day we saw an advertisement of this medicine and thought of trying it, which we did with the best of satisfaction. She has used only one bottle and her shoulder is almost well.—Adolph L. Millett, Manchester, N. H. For sale by all druggists.

Peter E. Ruffner of this city has accepted the agency for the Mount Hope nursery of Lawrence, Kan., and will soon begin soliciting orders. This is a reliable nursery and their trees are adapted to this climate. Mr. Ruffner having been engaged in shipping apples each fall, is familiar with the varieties which make the best sellers, and this fact, coupled with his wide acquaintance, will enable him to sell many trees.

Contractor Sheeley.

Mrs. W. A. Swearingen of Mynard and sister, Miss Greenslate, of Elmwood were in the city last evening in attendance at the concert.

Judge Ramsey convened district court at 9 o'clock today, but nothing of especial interest was done, the time being taken up in calling the docket.

John Dixon of Nebraska City has been appointed by District Judge-elect Paul Jensen as court reporter. This is somewhat of a disappointment to one or two Plattsmouth boys who had concluded they were the lucky ones.

Attention is called to the new "ads" in this issue of F. J. Morgan, the clothes; Zuckewiler & Lutz, dry goods and groceries; Phil Thirrell, who sells and retail liquor dealer; L.
Ottum, painter and decorator. These firms are all reliable and invite your trade.

The insurance adjusters were in the city yesterday and today and adjusted the claim of E. J. Morgan for damages sustained at the fire a short time ago.
The amount he received was not learned, but is said to have been a satisfactory adjustment—both to Mr.
Morgan and the insurance companies.
His stock was insured for $10,000 in six companies, the Platts Mutual being one of them.

A pleasant surprise was given Jesse Perry last evening, when about forty young people gathered at his home to celebrate his birthday. Different games were indulged in and a graphophone added greatly to the amusement of all. An elegant supper was prepared, and the guests, after partaking of the same, departed expressing to their host their good will, and declaring that a better time they never had.

Uncle Jake Vallery, who resides four miles west of town and who is a little past eighty-eight years of age, was in town today, as is his custom at frequent intervals. "Uncle Jake," however, is beginning to feel his advanced years quite keenly and is becoming quite feeble in both mind and body, and his relatives and friends are afraid that he cannot last much longer. Mr. Vallery was for fourteen years the sheriff of Highland county, Ohio, and has always taken a lively interest in politics and the affairs of the nation.

this evening.

Attorney Clarence Tefft of Avoca has purchased County Judge-elect J.
E. Douglas' law practice at Weeping Water and will soon begin practicing in that town.

Thayer Propert is the young corn husker of the day. He husked and cribbed in daylight 102 bushels of corn, shoveling into a crib eleven feet high. He says he will match any boy his age.

Mrs. P. E. Ruffner, Mrs. J. D. Mc-Bride, Mrs. S. A. Davis and Mrs.
George Dodge drove down to Nehawka of days. He owns a big horse ranch in Wyoming and has just sold two car Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used myself when troubled with bowel complaint, and had given to my men, and in every case it proved most benefi-
