

CARNEGIE ON TRUSTS.

Promises to Testify Before the Industrial Commission.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The Industrial Commission has received from Andrew Carnegie a promise to appear before that body in December and give testimony on the subject of trusts.

His will be the last taken upon this subject preparatory to the preliminary report which will be made to congress early in January.

John Wanamaker is expected to testify before the commission next week upon the question of combination stores.

Samuel M. Rice, president of the Distilling Company of America, commonly designated as the Whisky trust, was before the commission today. He said that his company controlled about 90 per cent of the spirits distilled in the United States, but that the company had abandoned the policy of cutting prices.

There was no intention of driving competitors out of the business, he said, the intention being to sell at a fair and sure profit, letting others do as they might please in fixing prices.

Mr. Rice gave the details of the organization of the trust, saying it was formed from the Distilling and Cattle Feeders' association, the American Spirits Manufacturing company, the Standard Distilling and Distributing company, all of which were controlled by the principal company by the ownership of stock. It had merely become a clearing house for the other companies. All the stockholders of these several concerns, with the exception of a very small minority, had entered into the combination with zeal. The parent company also owns a rye whisky distillery at Minneapolis and the Hannis distillery.

The trust controls about 90 per cent of the brands of Kentucky whisky. Of the capital stock of the company there had been issued $31,250,000 in preferred stock and $46,250,000 in common.

He said he could not say what amount had been paid to the organizer of the trust, but it was a very delicate and important undertaking he thought and he should have been well paid. He was unable to state what had been paid for the Hannis distillery, but he considered it worth not less than $5,000,000. The company had made no public statement of its earnings, but its books, Mr. Rice said, were always open to the inspection of the stockholders of the company.

Mr. Rice contended that the effect of the consolidation was to cheapen the cost of production and also to lessen the price to the consumers.

A change of the revenue laws so as to permit the transportation of alcohol in tank cars was advocated by Mr. Rice. With this change he thought the United States could supply the world with alcohol. He also thought that the whisky tax should be lower.

Fixing Up the Railroad.
MANILA, Nov. 17.—9:20 a. m.—General MacArthur's and General Lawton's commands are now near each other. General MacArthur is getting supplies into Talarac over the railroad from Bamban with an engine which was raised from the river by the Ninth infantry.

Colonel Howes, who occupied Victoria with six troops of the Third cavalry, has advanced to Rosales. A letter was found at Victoria from Private Desmond of the signal corps, one of the twenty-one American prisoners held there. These prisoners, the letter said, were expecting to be taken to the mountains before the army arrived.

Two thousand insurgents are reported to be missing at Garona, above Talarac, and General Mascareno is said to be in the mountains west of Angeles with 1,000 men, preparing to make raids. Rain has been falling throughout the month and for the last week there has been a heavy downpour. The whole country is in as bad condition as at any time this season.

Meeting of the Woman's Club.
From Saturday's Daily.
The woman's club was highly edified last evening by a lecture from Mr. Polk, his subject being "Virginia." There was a fair attendance of club members and a number of visitors, and all expressed themselves much pleased with the history lesson and Mr. Polk's eloquent manner of presenting the subject assigned him.

The Current Topic department occupied the first half of the evening, and Mrs. Waugh was prepared with interesting topics on a variety of subjects for discussion.
Mrs. MacMurphy of the Omaha club being present, the president called upon her for a little speech. Mrs. MacMurphy, although unprepared, responded gracefully and gave a short resume of late work done in the Omaha club.
Next Friday evening American Literature and Parliamentary Law will engage the club.
Used by British Soldiers in Africa.
Capt. C. G. Dennison is well known all over Africa as commander of the forces that captured the famous rebel Gallahe. Under date of Nov. 4, 1897, from Vryburg, Bechuanaland, he writes: "Before starting on the last campaign I bought a quantity of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used myself when troubled with bowel complaint, and had given to my men, and in every case it proved most beneficial." For sale by all druggists.

A DESERTER SHOT DOWN.

Private Morgan Killed on the Streets of La Platte By Soldiers.

From Saturday's Daily.
Corporal Faire and a private soldier, both of the Tenth United States Infantry, shot and killed Private Morgan, a deserter from the Thirty-ninth regiment, now en route to the Philippines, near John O'Leary's store about 6 o'clock last evening at La Platte.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon two prisoners, Privates Morgan and Deacon, overcame their sentry and escaped from the guard house at Fort Crook. Morgan had been confined in the guard house since September, although no charges have yet been formally filed in his case, and no doubt found prison discipline irksome.

Guard details armed with rifles and ball cartridges and the stern commands that go with military law, were at once sent out to scour the surrounding country and towns in search of the fleeing men.

It was just growing dusk as a stranger walked wearily into La Platte, and accosting a citizen, inquired the way to Plattsmouth. Having gained his information he passed on, and a little farther came upon two soldiers of the Tenth infantry, armed and standing in watchful pose near John O'Leary's store.

As the stranger passed, looking neither to the right nor left, one soldier attracted the attention of the other and said:
"I think that is him."
Instantly the corporal shouted, "Halt!"

The command was unheeded, and again "Halt!" was repeated.
The pedestrian looked back and said, "What do you want?" but started to run as the sharp, terse, "Halt!" again rang out.

Crack, crack, spoke two Krug-Jorgensons, almost in unison, and the fugitive fell across the road. The horrified bystanders ran to the wounded man, who cried piteously, "Save me, get a doctor," and, fainting, died in a few minutes and before medical assistance arrived.

Both men were awaiting trial by general court martial for the most serious offense known to military law. Deacon has not yet been apprehended.

Guilty of Petit Larceny.

From Monday's Daily.
William Belville was tried in police court this morning upon a charge of petit larceny filed by C. H. Mattox. The plaintiff in the case was hauling his household effects from South Omaha to Rock Bluffs, and when a few miles from South Omaha a bundle containing a suit of clothes fell from the wagon. Mr. Mattox did not notice the bundle was missing until some time afterwards, and then he requested his son to go back after the same. In the meantime Belville came along with his team, and picking up the bundle, concealed it in his wagon. He was afterwards questioned by both Mattox and the latter's son in regard to the bundle, and told them he had passed the goods laying in the road several miles back. The owner afterwards discovered Belville wearing the suit, and immediately filed a charge of petit larceny against him.

After hearing both sides of the case Judge Archer fined Belville $5 and costs, amounting to $13.05, and being unable to pay same he was taken back to jail.

A Fine Play.

The home talent play "Aberdeen" was given the second time at White's hall Saturday evening under the auspices of the Imperial Mystic Legion. The play was even better Saturday evening than it was Friday evening, this being attributed to the fact that those participating in the play had gotten the "new worn off" and felt more at home on the stage. # A Frustrated Ambition.

When Mary Letter goes to India as governess she will put an end to the great ambition of the Princess Victor Dhuleep Singh. He is a Hindu of an ancient royal family, fabulous wealth, but unpleasant habits. The princess of India's will takes precedence of the wife of a native prince, but the Princess Dhuleep Singh counted on the fact that the vicereines are used to gold and unattractive to make a queen in India. The appointment of Mr. Curzon, with his beautiful, ambitious, clever and popular American wife, she will put an end to the great ambition of the Princess Victor Dhuleep Singh. # American Shoes in Germany.

Twenty years ago American shoes were unknown in Germany. Indeed, at that time our shoes were not regarded as superior to those of German manufacture, but the many improvements which have been made in machinery, together with the careful study which our manufacturers have made of style and comfort, have placed our shoes in the front rank. An American can almost always be distinguished in a crowd by his shoes. In 1880 the value of shoes imported into Germany from the United States amounted to $1,666,189, to $9,044,189 in 1896 it was $39,608, and for the first five months of this year the total value of the shoes imported from the United States was $59,500.
