Nuptials of Geo. F. Gish and Miss Grace Stoutenborough.

Rev. Dr. Baird Performs the Ceremony in His Usual Impressive Manner, in Accordance With the Beautiful Rituals of the Presbyterian Church—Miss Mabel Lee Plays Wedding March.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon, at the home of the bride, occurred the marriage of Miss Grace Stoutenborough to George F. Gish. The parlor was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and asparagus ferns, the bouquets of poppies and nasturtiums being particularly attractive.

The bride party descended the stairs to the beautiful strains of Mendelssohn's famous wedding march, played by Miss Mabel Lee of Fremont, and took their places under a dainty festoon of asparagus-ferns, ribbons and flowers, arranged with graceful effect, and forming a most pleasing background.

The bride was becomingly attired in a dainty gown of white Swiss, with trimmings of narrow, white satin ribbon.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Baird, with impressive solemnity.

The bride is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stoutenborough, being one of Plattsmouth's most charming and accomplished young women.

During the past year she has occupied a position in the schools of this city, having proven a most efficient teacher, who takes with her the love and respect of pupils, parents and co-workers.

The groom is a young man of genuine worth, and enjoys the respect and confidence of a large circle of friends. At present he occupies a lucrative position with the Illinois Central railroad, and is located at Denver, where he has a home in readiness for his bride.

The happy couple left on the 3:33 train for Denver over the Burlington. The out-of-town guests were: Will J. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Spratt, Dr. Gish, H. W. Stoutenborough, Omaha; Miss Mabel Lee, Fremont. Partial arrangements had been made for a more elaborate wedding, but owing to the recent death of the mother of Mr. Gish, only relatives of the family were invited.

The news joins the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gish in wishing that happiness and success may be theirs.

Bid Farewell to Young Couple.

Last evening a small company of young people gathered in response to invitation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Stoutenborough, as a farewell to their daughter, Grace, and Mr. G. F. Gish, who departed this afternoon for their new home in Denver. The guests of honor were Miss Edith Patterson, Mr. C. F. King, and their wedding party.

The early part of the evening was spent on the porch, but as the alluring strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march were wafted from within, a line of march was formed and all entered where selections of vocal and instrumental music were listened to with great enjoyment.

A dead silence fell upon the company as the hostess, entering, announced a conference of ghost to be held in the adjoining room, in which all present were expected to participate. With measured tread and gloomy foreboding the awe-stricken ones assembled about a large table upon which appeared a pile of toothpicks, three of which might be taken by each, and arranged with care before him, but never touched again, lest he be forced to forfeit one of his precious tallymen.

Cards on which were written numbers ranging from one to twenty were passed, which must be placed beside the toothpicks, not to be touched until the ghostly thrice-repeated raps were heard, at which time he was at liberty to look. If the number were large he forced his ghostly right hand neighbor to exchange with him. The person holding the highest number must forfeit a toothpick, thereby increasing his chances of becoming a ghost.

For when his toothpicks are gone he turns to a ghost and is therefore ostracized, and avoided as a thing too horrible to be seen, heard or touched, and to whose pleading and questions a deaf ear must be turned. To talk to a ghost is to pay a forfeit.

The one who succeeds in holding his possession is the "angel," having withstood the persuasive allurement of the wary restless spirits.

When the raps of human failings were withdrawn from the "angel" of last night, although pleasing, so great was the surprise at the revelation, as to be almost overwhelming.

The ghostly and angel, feeling the need, took flight to the open air, whence all emerged at the request of the hostess and found tables spread as by magic, inviting the haunted spirits to be at rest, and refreshed by cooling and aromatic ambrosian dainties. To add the finishing grace two chairs luxuriantly arranged from nature's greenery awaited occupancy by the brides-to-be, but, shamefully ignored by them, were acknowledged by the Messrs. King and Gish, though but for a passing moment, when order reigned supreme. The gayety continued until a late hour when all were loath to leave, having spent so delightful an evening.

Good-byes, hearty hand-shaking, well-wishing and congratulatory expressions were copiously bestowed upon the two happy couples, as all realized that this was about the last of the festivities at which these cherished friends would be present, for some time, at least.

Dear Sirs: Some days since a package of your Grain-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Mocha and Java in our family, but I am free to say that I like the Grain-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank. Respectfully,

A. C. JACKSON, M. D.

Death of Thomas Mitchell.

Thomas Mitchell, who has been making his home with the family of his daughter, Mrs. Dave Miller, died at 11 o'clock last night of old age.

Deceased was eighty-nine years of age, and had been a resident of Plattsmouth since 1857. He was born near Cincinnati, O., and was a carpenter by occupation. Mr. Mitchell was one of the three surviving charter members who assisted in organizing the First Presbyterian church in this city.

He leaves five children to mourn his loss—Mrs. Dave Miller and James Mitchell of this city; Rev. George Mitchell of Franklin, Neb., and Mrs. M. B. Murphy and Mrs. Thomas Carter of Salt Lake City, Utah.

The funeral will occur from the residence of Dave Miller in the Third ward at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Rev. J. T. Baird of the Presbyterian church conducting the services.

Friends who wish to view the remains are invited to call at the home between the hours of 9 and 11 tomorrow morning.

White, Gering and Windham. The toasts related largely to American people, institutions, etc., and were full of thought, wit and humor.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames George E. Dovey, F. E. White, Jacob Valley, Henry Herold, Mrs. S. Warren, Newton, Ia.; Mrs. Anna Britt, R. B. Windham and Judge Paul Jessen, Nebraska City.

Lively School Election.

There was a decidedly lively school election yesterday out in the Stull district, north of town. For some time there has been more or less of a war between the Stull and Otto factions, and a climax was reached yesterday during a contest over the trusteeship.

Two of the women folks became so enthusiastic over their respective candidates that a clash could not be averted, and they proceeded to settle matters a la Jeffries. It is understood this trouble nearly caused a riot, but the dispute was finally settled, and the election concluded without bloodshed.

PREPARE FOR CAMPAIGN

Republicans Meet for the Purpose of Organizing a Club.

Robert Hayes Selected as President and R. B. Windham Chosen as Vice President—Delegates Also Selected for State League of Republican Clubs to be Held at Lincoln Thursday, June 28.

From Monday's Daily.

The republicans met in Judge Archer's office Saturday evening for the purpose of organizing for the coming campaign. George L. Farley, chairman of the republican central committee, called the meeting to order. R. B. Windham was elected chairman and F. R. Ballance secretary. After a few remarks by the chairman relative to the importance of the work before us and the excellent prospects for success, a motion was made that we proceed to the election of officers, which resulted as follows:

President—Robert Hayes.
Vice President—R. B. Windham.
Secretary—A. L. Tidd.
Treasurer—J. M. Robertson.

The following were elected delegates to the convention of the state league of republican clubs to be held at Lincoln Thursday, June 28: H. N. Dovey, F. R. Ballance, Logan Brown and A. J. Beeson. Alternates, A. N. Sullivan, Washington Smith, H. C. McMaken and Dr. Pimpton. Several committees were appointed to look after the various branches of the work pertaining to the organization. The boys feel that this is a republican year, and that with a strong organization and faithful work the victory will be decisive, if not overwhelming.

Have your friends join the McKinley and Roosevelt club, and work for continued prosperity.

DROWNED IN THE PLATTE.

Ray Wright, a Fourteen-Year-Old Boy Meets an Untimely Death.

From Monday's Daily.

A fourteen-year-old boy named Ray Wright was drowned just west of the mouth of the Platte river about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It appears that the boy was wading about in the water when he stepped in a hole, and before he could be gotten out, had disappeared. The local officers were notified, but were unable to find out until this afternoon where the unfortunate accident occurred.

In the meantime they had searched along the banks of the Missouri south of this city in an effort to find where the lad had been drowned, and, being unable to do so, had come to the conclusion that the report was untrue. However, the boy's father was in town today, and stated that he was with the lad at the time the accident occurred—having plunged in after him—but Ray disappeared before he could effect a rescue.

Thus far no trace of the body has been found, and it is quite likely that the current has carried it below this city.

Spent a Night in Jail.

Marshal Slater collared a hobo last evening near the old cannery factory site, on Third street. When asked where he was from, the fellow replied that he had just come down from the mountains, but could not state for certain where he was going. In view of the fact that night was coming on and the man appeared to be hungry and homeless, the officer suggested that he stay at the jail over night. The stranger nearly choked in his eagerness to thank the marshal and the invitation was forthwith accepted. This morning the visitor was given his walking papers—the marshal accompanying him down the track for a distance and when they reached a place where a good view of the fertile fields of Iowa could be obtained, the officer proceeded to give him advice and information regarding the bright prospects and pleasant conditions which a hobo was liable to meet with in the state across the river. Before parting, the stranger, with a tear in his eye, again expressed his gratitude for the kind hospitality shown him in Plattsmouth.

Case in Justice Court.

Justice Archer was engaged this afternoon hearing the case wherein Robert Johnson sues Hattie Harkins to recover the sum of $35. Johnson claimed that he worked for Miss Harkins three days and loaned her small sums of money at various times.

The defendant admitted that the work had been performed, but claimed that Johnson had agreed to do the work free of charge—rather than to be idle. She denied absolutely that she had ever prevailed upon the plaintiff to loan her money.

After the testimony had been concluded, Justice Archer decided to take the matter under advisement until Thursday.

Turner's Picnic.

The Plattsmouth Turner society held a very enjoyable picnic out at Nick Halnes' grove, west of town, yesterday. A large crowd went out in carryalls and private vehicles, and a general good time was had. The fine weather and the fact that the affair had been postponed a week had a tendency to draw out a far larger crowd than had been expected. The Bohemian band furnished the music for the occasion.

Burned His Hands.

Tom Dabb, who looks after the boiler at the electric light station, met with an accident yesterday afternoon which resulted in his hands being badly burned. He was painting the front of a boiler, which happened to be hot at the time, when the oil in the paint suddenly became ignited, with the result above stated. The burns were very painful, and will compel him to take a lay off of several days.

HOLD A SHORT SESSION.

Council Decides That a Vault is Needed in Which to Keep City's Records.

The city "dada" held a rather short session last night—owing, perhaps, to the hot weather. Herold was the only absentee.

Clerk Fox read the minutes of the previous meeting; and, after a few minor corrections had been suggested, the same were adopted.

The property owners on the north side of Main street, between Fourth and Fifth, petitioned the council to take some action with a view of keeping the water in the alley from running into their cellars. On motion of Whelan, the matter was referred to the streets committee.

The finance committee then reported favorably on the claims, and, on motion of Lutz, the clerk was instructed to draw warrants for the various amounts, together with the salaries of the city officials.

Whelan, chairman of the claims committee, to whom had been referred the bills of I. Pearlman for $5.50 and the Ebinger Hardware company for $16.50, recommended that they be paid.

W. J. White's claim for $9 for hauling naphtha for the city was refused—it being found that the city has a contract with Andy Smith for doing the work, and that Smith had hired the work done. It was decided to pay Mr. Smith the rate agreed to in the contract and he in turn can settle with Mr. White.

A motion was also made by Mr. Whelan to have the clerk instructed to make out a list of all the tools purchased for the light plant during the time Boyer acted as superintendent, and also to make out a list of tools which were missing—the mayor and city attorney to take action to recover the latter. Carried.

The report of the police committee was adopted.

Buttery asked that the street commissioner be instructed to have a ditch dug on North Tenth street. Carried.

Lutz stated that the recent flood had played havoc with the road leading south from Clara street, near the O'Neil property in the Fifth ward, and his motion to have the street commissioner repair the same at once, was seconded.

Lutz also suggested that Mr. Wotenkamp be asked to make a few repairs on the walls in the council chamber. Clerk Fox volunteered to look after that matter.

By a vote of 5 to 4 Fitzgerald's motion to rent one of the rooms under the Cass County bank to be used as the clerk's office, carried. This action was deemed necessary, in view of the fact that the present quarters of the clerk does not contain a vault, and the city's records are filed on the floor, and would undoubtedly be destroyed in case of fire. It was agreed to pay $5 a month for the room. A motion to adjourn then prevailed.

RAILROAD NOTES AND PERSONALS

While one of the Burlington's yard engines was making a flying switch near the depot this morning a heavy merchandise car jumped the track and ran along the ties for a short distance. A rail on the main line, where the derailed car crossed, was bent out of shape, while the boards at the crossing were also torn up. The section gang was put to work and succeeded in repairing the track without causing delay of any of the trains.

No. 6, the fast Denver-Chicago train which usually brings in the Lincoln and Omaha papers, was over three hours late this morning. The delay was caused by the engine breaking down several times. From Ashland the train started east over the old main line, but the engine again broke down, and the rest of the train was taken out by No. 4, the Schuyler train.
