WILLIAM J. ERYAN.

In the meantime a resolution was adopted for a committee of conference with the Silver Republicans. After Miles' speech was ended recess was taken to 3:20 p. m. During the session David B. Hill was given another ovation.

Came Prepared to Nominate Bryan. By 3:30 nearly all of the delegates were ready for business, and waiting the arrival of Chairman Richardson, who was a triffe slow in making his appearance. Many of the delegates had come prepared for the nomination of Bryan. Dozens of them carried small figgs and numerous plumes of bright colored pampas grass were visible in various in various parts of the floor. When Hill made his appearance he was given another demonstration. It was not until 4 o'clock that Chairman Richardson, turning from a conference with Governor McMillin and Senator White, picked up the . gavel and brought the convention to order. The platform committee was ready to report.

Platform Read by Senator Tilman.

The portly form of Senator Jones, silver-haired and serious, advanced to the front of the stage. He held a roll of manuscript in his hands, and gave it to Tillman of South Carolina to read. As he proceeded each plank was greeted with applause, but it remained for the reading of the declaration that "imperialism is the paramount issue of this campaign" to evoke a storm of enthusiasin. At this point there the very existence of the republic and was a perfect irruption of flags. They fluttered all over the walls and roof. and "broke out" all over the floor, and the enthusiasm was tremendous.

Climax in the Banner Line.

Then a climax was sprung upon the great assembly. A huge flag had been the administration's acts in the Philip flung across the roof between two trusses, and as the signal was given the cords were cut, and slowly it unrolled its white and crimson folds as both in letter and in spirit, as neces-It fell gracefully and swung over the platform. Upon the white stripes were pean authority on this continent and printed the following sentences in large letters of blue;

"The constitution and the flag, one and inseparable now and forever." "The flag of a republic forever, of an empire never."

"A republic can have no colonies." And the convention went wild and somewhere during the enthusiasm adopted the platform with a yell.

NOMINATION OF COLONEL BRYAN.

It Is Done with Unanimity and Another Enthusiastic Scene.

The next business announced was the nomination of a candidate for president. "Alabama," the secretary shouted, commencing the call of the roll

"The state of Alabama," said the chairman of the delegation of that state, "yields to Nebraska the privilege of naming the next president of the United States."

ment not based upon the consent of the governed is a typranny, and that to impose upon any people a government of force is to substitute the methods of imperialism for those of a republic.

Therefore, the platform denounces Porto Rico tariff law, which is dedared to be a Republican attempt to ommit this country to colonial priniples. The prompt fulfillment of our pledge to the Cubans is demanded next, with a reference to Neely's operations, and next the whole policy of the administration in the Philippines is denounced, and the platform says 'The Filipinos cannot be citizens with out endangering our civilization; they
