

THROWN FROM A HORSE

Sad News Received of the Death of Violet Newell.

Was Visiting Relatives at Maywood at the Time the Unfortunate Accident Befell Her—A Great Shock to the Parents and the Many Friends of the Family.

From Monday's Daily.

The sad news of the death of Violet, eldest daughter of W. H. and Mrs. Besie Newell, reached Plattsmouth early Sunday morning. A brief telegram from Maywood, where she and her sister, Bernice, have been visiting relatives for three weeks past, announced that her death had been caused as a result of injuries sustained by being thrown from a horse. The news of her sudden death was a great shock to the parents and friends of the family.

The first intelligence of the accident reached Plattsmouth at 9:50 Saturday night, when Judge Newell received a telegram from his son-in-law, Mr. Shupp of Maywood, stating that Violet had been thrown from a horse and seriously injured. Another dispatch was received at 12:27, saying she was worse, and almost immediately a third announced her death.

The remains of the unfortunate girl will reach this city at 5:30 this evening, and the funeral will occur at once, the services to be conducted by Rev. Baird of the Presbyterian church. The King's Daughters and the Christian Endeavor societies, of which Violet was a member, will meet the remains at the depot and follow the funeral cortege to Oak Hill cemetery. James Newell, brother of the unfortunate girl, went to Holdrege yesterday afternoon, where he met the funeral party this morning and will bring the remains to this city.

The deceased was born in Plattsmouth, and would have been seventeen years of age next September. She was a bright young lady and was an active worker among the King's Daughters and Christian Endeavor society, and was one of the youngest members of the Presbyterian church.

The bereaved family have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in this their hour of sad affliction.

Need More Mules.

A dispatch from Washington says that recent orders of the war department involve the sending of about 4,000 horses and mules from this country to the Philippines. Most of these are cavalry horses, forming an important part of the equipment of the squadrons of the First, Third and Ninth regiments of cavalry ordered to the Philippines. The transportation of the animals across the Pacific is a difficult problem. The transports available are not nearly sufficient for the extensive movement in prospect, and it will be necessary to procure at least six additional animal transports. Even with the increased supply of vessels it will take a long time to make the transfer. Each vessel will be required to make two trips to Manila. Quartermaster Ludington is in negotiation with ship owners for charters of sufficient vessels.

Fine Crop of Peaches.

William Sayles, the fruit grower who resides about three miles south of town, called at these quarters this morning and left a fine sample of his peach crop. Mr. Sayles says his crop of early peaches suffered a great deal from the recent hail storms, but he thinks the late peaches will come out all right. On his place he has 450 peach trees—200 of them being of the early kind. If the specimen which Mr. Sayles left at this office is any indication, Cass county's peach crop this year will be the biggest and finest for many years.

Fell Down Stairs.

About 5 o'clock last evening Mrs. Elias Sage met with a rather painful accident by falling down stairs at her home in the west part of town. Her left eye was badly bruised, an ugly gash being cut in the flesh just below that member. Dr. Cummins was summoned by telephone, and it required a number of stitches to close the wound. Fortunately, however, no bones were fractured, and it is not thought that the injuries received will have serious results.

RAILROAD NOTES AND PERSONALS

The B. & M. pay car stopped at this place today, and the usual number of checks were distributed among the company's employes.

The railroads of the country are discussing the best method to pursue in order to have the dining cars patronized more extensively by the traveling public. As it now is, the majority of the passengers do not patronize the diners, owing, it is said, to the excessive charges made in many instances. It is possible that some new plan will be inaugurated for feeding the traveling public on the diners at a reduced rate from that now in vogue.

Roadmaster Pat O'Donnell of the Burlington was in town today on company business.

Jake Kaufman, formerly an engineer for the B. & M. running out of this city, but who in late years has been employed by the Great Eastern railroad in Illinois, is in the city visiting relatives and old time friends. He is on his way to California, where he expects to work for the Southern Pacific.

Persons owing Dr. W. A. Humphrey will call at the office of Spurlock & Tidd for settlement as we desire to close up his business within the next twenty days.

LOVED ONE LAID AWAY

Funeral Services Over the Remains of Violet Newell.

Many of Her Young Friends Gathered at the Depot to Meet the Remains and to Follow Them to Oak Hill Cemetery—A Brief Account of the Circumstances Leading to Her Death.

A large concourse of sorrowing friends gathered at the depot last evening to meet the 5:30 train, which bore the remains of Miss Violet Newell. Among those who had gathered were the King's Daughters and a large number of Christian Endeavors, Sabbath school workers and members of the High school, who were much grieved at the loss of their young friend, co-worker and classmate.

Six of her most intimate young friends—Earle Clark, Ben Davis, Tom Murphy, Don Despain, Fritz Pricke and John Beson—acted as pall-bearers, and as the casket was borne from the hearse into the house about thirty of her girl friends lined either side of the walk, making a very sad and impressive scene.

The services at the house were conducted by Dr. Baird of the Presbyterian church, and consisted of scriptural lessons, a few appropriate remarks being upon the beautiful character and life of the departed, and who but a year or so ago united with the church. He spoke also of her faithful attendance at church, Sabbath school and the Christian Endeavor meetings. The music consisted of two songs, "Sometime We'll Understand," and "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me," by a quartette, and a duet, "O Morning Land," by Misses Clara Green and Katherine Agnew.

After friends had been given an opportunity to view the remains, the body was borne to its final resting place in Oak Hill cemetery. The grave had been lined with white and beautifully decorated by friends. Many beautiful floral offerings were given by societies and friends, as last expressions of their love for the departed. The entire community mourns the loss of her who had grown to young womanhood among us, and extends its tenderest sympathy to the bereaved family.

How the Accident Happened.

A number of rumors being afloat as to just how the accident occurred which resulted in the death of Miss Violet Newell, THE NEWS will state as nearly as possible the facts in the case. She had been out riding for some two hours and returned, but before dismounting concluded to ride over to a little knoll not far from her sister's home. It was when returning from this little trip that the sad event occurred. When within a short distance of the house a wagon drove by and closely following that a boy on horse back, riding very rapidly, passed her. Just what occurred at this junction no one knows, but the gentlemen in the wagon looked around and saw her lying on the ground, the horse standing beside her. It is quite probable that her horse, though perfectly gentle, made a quick move when the other horse passed and thus caused Miss Violet to lose her balance. Her horse did not move out of its tracks after her rider had fallen to the ground.

In a few minutes two physicians were on the ground, but it was soon apparent that there was no hope as her neck was broken near the base of the brain, and she passed away within twenty or thirty minutes, without regaining consciousness.

An Eloping Couple.

Frank Cateyson, the shoemaker, has evidently decided that Plattsmouth is not the proper place for him to live, and departed Saturday evening with his friend, Mrs. Mandy Collins, for Nebraska City. Mrs. Grace Cateyson, who came to Plattsmouth with him and who claims to be his wife, does not seem to worry much about his departure. He telephoned to her this morning to have the tools in his shoe shop removed to her home in the west part of town.

It is not known what they expect to do at Nebraska City, but if they find that place to their liking and decide to locate there permanently, Plattsmouth people will have no cause whatever to regret their departure.

Mammoth Double Sale!

AT

W. M. HEROLD & SON'S

SALE No. 1. All the Remaining Merchandise stored in our basement and damaged by the June Flood.

SALE No. 2. Our Regular Annual Mid-summer Clearing Sale of Warm-weather Merchandise—cool things when the day is hot. A full fourth to a third off; in some cases a full half less than regular prices.

SALE NO. 1.
Sale of all remaining wet goods soiled in the flood the latter part of June, by the filling of our basement with water. We have disposed of quite a lot of it within the past ten days, but still have a great deal left. We had stored in the basement about $5,000 worth of merchandise, the same being our Carpet, Matting, Oil Cloth and Linoleum department. Window Shades, Rugs, reserve stock of Muslins, Domestic Blankets, Underwear, Cotton Batts and a great many other items which we did not have room to keep up-stairs were also stored in the basement. Most of this merchandise is just as good as new, only soiled a little here and there by having come in contact with the dirty water. The prices at which we offer them are much under their value, and make a great saving to the purchaser.

Carpets, Mattings and Oilcloths
Our entire stock we place on sale at prices that can't be duplicated in the United States. The marks of the flood are hardly perceptible, as they were taken out immediately and not allowed to become thoroughly soaked, the ends only being soiled with mud, and a little beating will render them good as new. We offer them at the following prices:

- 20 cent Hemp Carpets, now 12 1/2 cents.
- 18 cent Hemp Carpets, now 10 cents.
- 30 cent Granite Carpets, now 20 cents.
- 40 cent Granite Carpets, now 27 1/2 cents.
- 40 cent Union Carpets, now 27 1/2 cents.
- 50 cent Cotton Chain Carpets, now 37 1/2 cents.
- 75 cent All Wool Carpets, now 52 cents.
- 60 cent All Wool Carpets, now 40 cents.
- 65 and 70 cent best grade All Wool Carpets, now 45 cents.
- 90 cent and $1.00 Brussels Carpets, now 65 cents.
- 90 cent and $1.00 Moquette Carpets, now 65 cents.
- 10 cent Mattings, now 8 cents.
- 15 cent Mattings, now 11 cents.
- 20 cent Mattings, now 15 cents.
- 30 cent Japanese Mattings, now 20 cents.
- 40 cent Japanese Mattings, now 25 cents.

Don't wait until fall house-cleaning to buy these, for if you do there will be none left—except yourself. It will pay you to come miles to attend this sale, as we will save you from one-third to one-half on Carpets, just as good as new, which are priced much lower than wholesale cost.

Blankets, Blankets!

In about six weeks you will have to become interested in Winter Underwear, whether you want to or not. Let us sell you now. In six weeks our prices will not be near as interesting. We would wager that we have sold more Winter Underwear in the last ten days than all retail stores in Nebraska put together, simply because we sell at about one-half price.
