Ohio Hurries a Wretch to Life Imprisonment.

BRUTE PECK GETS HIS DESERTS.

Whole Trial Occupies but a Few Minutes and the Prisoner Begins His Life Sentence.

Akron, O., Aug. 25 .- A great deal of pains was taken here yesterday to deny a report printed in the early papers that Peck, the negro who attempted the outrage of a 6-year-old girl and was the original cause of the disgrace of mob rule in this city, was still he was brought back. The train carrying him arrived here at 3:30 p. m. A carriage was waiting at the railway station and Peck was quickly bundled into it. In three minutes the court house was reached and Peck was arraigned before Judge Nye. The indictment was read. Peck stood up and pleaded guilty. He declared be had nothing to say, except that he threw himself upon the mercy of the court. The court then sentenced Peck to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary. Troops were on guard at the to the court house.

Rushed Off to the Pen. After Peck had been sentenced he was at once taken in a closed carriage to the Center street crossing of the Cleveland, Akron and Columbus railway and placed on board the train in charge of Sheriff Kelly and taken on to the state penitentiary at Columbus. So quickly and quietly was Peck brought into the city, sentenced and sent on to Columbus that but very few people knew what had transpired There was no crowd at the railway either when the train arrived or de parted. Few who glanced at the rapldly driven carriage suspected that it contained the men the furious mob of Wednesday night wanted to lynch.

Peck Afraid of the Mob. Just after leaving Cuyahoga Falls, while the train was en route from Cleveland to Akron, Peck begged Prisonkeeper Washer to shoot him instantly in the event a mob was awaiting at Akron. The plans made contemplated leaving the train at the Union station at Akron. Peck's fright increased as the train neared Akron. He begged piteously to be shot if a mob threat-

Fitzsimmons Finally Decides a Question Long in Dispute,

New York, Aug. 25 .- In the second round of the fight with Sharkey last night at Coney Island Fitzsimmons decided a question long in disputewhether he could knock out the sailor

-by knocking him out clean and fair. Round 1.-Sharkey rushed and swung his left for the body, but Fitzsimmons jumped out of reach, which was repeated, and on the third rush Fitz met him with a heavy blow on body. Sharkey missed a right and left swing. Fitzsimmons tried right and left for head, but Sharkey ducked and then Fitzsimmons landed left hook on suffered losses of slight amounts which neck. Sharkey swung wildly for the head, missing and catching a right on his (Sharkey's) jaw. Sharkey clinched. Sharkey swung a heavy left for the head, but Fitzsimmons blocked it, Sharkey landed left on the shoulder,

Round 2 .- Sharkey rushed to close quarters, swinging left and right without landing. Fitzsimmons rushed, sending his right to body and left to neck. Fitzsimmons stepped in with a right to body and left to head. Sharkey was wild, and Fitzsimmons sent him to the floor after a succession of rights and lefts on face. Sharkey took the $1. Guaranteed. But | Herman Streitweiser's machine shop with a view of securing his services in manufacturing one of the machines. Mr. Streitweiser looked the plans over carefully, and, after mentally studying for a few moments, stepped into another room and returned with some of his own plans for a corn harvester which, it was learned upon investigation, were idenical in every way with those Mr. Watkins had brought. Explanations followed, and it developed that Mr. Streitweiser railway station and along the route had not applied for a patent on his invention owing to the fact that he wished to make some improvements Mr. Streitweiser will undertake the task to make the machine.

Balch Will Recover. The physician who has been looking after Edward E. Balch, the assistant cashier of the Omaha National bank who was so mysteriously robbed and assaulted on a Northwestern train, says that the unfortunate man will recover. His condition, however, for a time was considered dangerous.
