

GRAND ARMY EMBLEMS

Chicago Firm Makes McConihe Post a Generous Offer.

Presents Them With a Magnificent Bronze Eagle and Badge—Old Settlers Gather at Union—Cass County Man's Experience at the State Capital—Lodge Pocketbook Containing $400.

Manager Keim of the Siegel-Cooper company of Chicago last week presented H. C. McMaken, a representative of the local post of the Grand Army, with a magnificent bronze eagle and stand colors, also a fine G. A. R. badge measuring nearly six feet in length. The old veterans greatly appreciate these gifts, and at a meeting of the post Saturday evening resolutions were passed heartily thanking the Siegel-Cooper company for their generosity.

The eagle and badge have been hung up in a conspicuous place in the G. A. R. hall, and the old soldiers gaze upon them with admiration, as they bring back recollections of the days when they fought for their flag and country.

Colonel McMaken states that the firm referred to had hundreds of these eagles and badges on exhibition during the national encampment at Chicago, and he was greatly impressed with the magnificent sight they presented.

Attending the Reunion. The members of the Woman's Relief Corps went down to the reunion at Union this morning in Jones & Magowan's big carryall. A large number of other Plattsmouth people are also in attendance. The excellent program furnished, combined with the present fine weather, will certainly draw one of the largest crowds ever assembled in Union.

Thieves Make Big Haul.

Pickpockets at Lincoln made a rather big haul when they relieved James Ferguson, a Cass county farmer living near Eagle, of a pocketbook containing $400. He immediately reported the matter to the Lincoln police authorities, but the thieves are still at large, and the indications are they will never be captured. The missing pocketbook contained eight $50 bills and a number of receipts.

The unfortunate man thinks he was robbed while aboard a street car bound for the fair grounds. He suspects three men and gave a meager description of two of them, being unable to tell anything about the other. One of them he said was short, rather heavy set, with dark complexion, black moustache, and black chin whiskers. He wore dark clothes. The other wore light clothes, and had a light complexion, had light hair, and was smooth shaven.

THEY NOMINATED A TICKET

Democratic and Populist Conventions in Session at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 6.—(Special to THE NEWS)—The democratic and populist county conventions are in session here this afternoon. The democrats organized with John A. Guteche as chairman and Frank Green secretary.

The following nominations have been made: County attorney, D. O. Dwyer, Plattsmouth; state senator, James Stander, Louisville; representatives, Fred Gordier, Weeping Water, commissioner, First district, J. P. Falter.

The other representative was named by the populists, who nominated B. F. Allen of Wabash.

Fined for Being Drunk. William Campbell confessed that he was guilty of being drunk in Judge Archer's court this morning, and was fined $1 and costs. As he was run in last night his fine and costs amounted in all to $5.30. He made satisfactory arrangements to pay that amount and was released.

John Egan was also arrested last evening on a similar charge, but he entered a plea of not guilty this morning and was given a trial. A number of witnesses were examined, and their testimony indicated that Egan was guilty as charged. The court assessed him $1 and costs, amounting in all to $7.85.

Conclude a Three Days' Session. The state convention of the Catholic Workmen of America was concluded last evening, after a three days' session.

Delegates were selected to the next state convention to be held in South Omaha, and also to the national convention to be held at Spillville, Ia., in January, 1901.

The following officers were elected to look after the business affairs of the society:

NEWS OF THE COUNTY

CROW HARBOR.

The grape crop in this vicinity is reported the heaviest in many years.

The Cow Boys will play a matched game with Mynard at the latter place next Sunday.

Harve Beckner, Nehawka's boss thresherman, passed through town Wednesday afternoon, stopping for a few moments' pleasant chat.

Mr. Holmes, the hustling liveryman at Nehawka, made a trip to the Harbor last week. Say, there is a republican and no mistake. Come again Mr. Holmes.

Very few Crow Harbor people attended the gold medal contest at Murray last Tuesday evening. Those who did attend, however, report a very enjoyable time.

T. E. Fulton's "old plow hospital" has been transformed, temporarily, into a sanitarium for hay harvesting machinery, five and six mowers drawn up in front being no uncommon sight.

Ambrose Allen, who has been visiting relatives in this locality, decided to accompany Mr. Gamble on his return home in Pocahontas county, Iowa.

Mr. Strong of Nehawka passed through town Wednesday and, of course, stopped for a drink. Everybody does that. Tommy runs a free bar, but it never inebriates. In fact it is the best water in Cass county.

The farmers of this locality are being besieged by promoters of the creamery industry to take stock in a proposed institution of that kind in Murray, but so far as the writer can learn they are slow to bite. A good creamery, properly managed, ought to be a good thing.

Some unprincipled miscreant or miscreants entered Mayor Norris' melon patch last Sunday night and not only helped themselves, but after doing so proceeded to destroy the patch, smashing the melons and tearing up the vines. It is bad enough to take the melons without permission, but the rascal who will deliberately destroy what he cannot carry off, and that simply for meanness' sake, needs a dose of hickory oil.

The Cow Boys and Center Valley base ball nines played a game last Sunday in William Pals' pasture, east of town, resulting in a score of sixteen to fifteen in favor of the former. The Mynard nine was on hand to match the winners. In the second bout the Cow Boys again won by a score in a game of six innings. Jef Brendel of the Murray nine, pitched for the Cow Boys, and kept his opponents guessing all the time. By the way, Jef is getting to be an ugly man in the box.

James Lemmon, George Ison and Al Gamble returned from Oklahoma last week, the two former convinced that there is no place quite so good as Cass county. They got tired of the weather, which they said averaged over 100 degrees in the shade all the time they were there. They also report that good drinking water was a very scarce article in localities visited by them. Nor did they find land as cheap as they expected. In fact they found that there was not a very great difference between good land, handy to market, there than in Cass county. The latter, however, liked the country very well, and declares that there is no country on the face of the earth that can show so great a development in six years.

Mr. Gamble did not make up his mind whether to buy there, but said that if he does not buy in Iowa he will go down and make the race for a homestead this fall, when additional territory comes in for settlement.

William Hinds, the gentleman spoken of last week, has evidently evaporated, and F. P. Sheldon has so far recovered from his fright over the former's threat of legal vengeance as to advertise the property replevined for sale. The sale will take place at Crow Harbor next Monday at 2 p. m. The proposed sale promises to produce a small legal fight, so far as the team is concerned, between the justices of the peace at Murray and Nehawka. George Ison holds a mortgage against the team, which was drawn up by the former, who declares that it shall not be sold, while the notices posted by the latter state that it will be, and altogether it looks as if there might be a spell of warm weather at this place next Monday. The writer wishes to remind the contending official that Crow Harbor has a renowned juror in the person of Mayor Norris, who might be induced to arbitrate, and thus avert civil war between the villages on the south and east. Anyway, come one, come all to the sale and see the fun.

August Flower.

"It is a surprising fact," says Prof. Houton, "that in my travels in all parts of the world, for the last ten years, I have met more people having used Green's August Flower than any other remedy, for dyspepsia, deranged liver and stomach, and for constipation. I find for tourists and salesmen, or for persons filling office positions, where headaches and general bad feelings from irregular habits exist, that Green's August Flower is a grand remedy. It does not injure the system by frequent use, and is excellent for sour stomachs and indigestion." Sample bottles free at A. W. Atwood's.
