REMOVES TO LINCOLN

George M. Porter and Wife Change their Domicile to the State Capital.

On Monday evening a farewell party was given at the residence of E. B. Perry in the western part of the city, in honor of George Porter and his estimable wife, who left for Lincoln Tuesday noon expecting to make the capital city their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Porter have hosts of friends in Plattsmouth who regret to see them sever their relations with us.

Their place in the community in both the social and business life of the city will be difficult to fill. And to give them a fitting farewell their many friends were glad of the opportunity of coming together at the Perry home to enjoy one more social evening with them before they left.

The hours fitted quickly away, the company being regaled with music by Misses Godwin and Mullis, also games and other forms of amusement were indulged in, while oysters were served in approved style before the close of the evening.

Those present on this enjoyable occasion were: Misses Anna Porter, Daisy Perry, Stella Gooding, Celia Taylor, Minnie McKay, Muriel Mullis, Mollie Godwin, Blanch O'Neal, Carrie Becker, Edith Buzzell and Ada Porter; Messrs. James Hunter, Ralph Mullis, Hallie Perry, Henry Perry, Jesse Brady, Ratio Taylor, Burton Gorton, Everett Gooding, Oscar Wilson, George Porter and Jesse Perry.

MARRIED TUESDAY

Samuel J. Pitman and Miss Marie Terrace Hennings at Residence of Bride.

On last Tuesday evening at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Hennings, in this city her daughter, Miss Marie Terrace Hennings was happily married to Samuel J. Pitman, son of David Pitman of Murray. Rev. J. H. Salsbury of the Presbyterian church performed the ceremony which united these popular young people for life, using the ring form of service.

Just previous to the wedding march B. A. McElwain sang a fine baritone solo "O Promise Me," at the close of which Miss Freda Herold struck the soft chords of Mendelssohn's beautiful march. Presently the doors of adjoining parlors swung open and the groom and officiating clergyman walked slowly into the room keeping step to the wedding march. These were followed by J. H. Merriam, as best man, on his arm was the bridesmaid Miss Christina Schafer. Directly following was Lucile Urish, cousin of the bride bearing the ring and followed by the bride leaning on the arm of her mother who gave the bride away.

John, the Eleven Year Old Son of John Pritchard and Wife Is Killed.

The State Journal of Wednesday contains an account of a distressing accident which occurred near Weeping Water and Manley, in which John, the eleven year old son of John Pritchard and wife, formerly of this city, was killed Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Luther Hall received a phone message Wednesday morning requesting her presence at Mr. Pritchard's home as Mrs. Pritchard was on the verge of collapse, so great was her grief over the sudden loss of her son. The State Journal says:

"The eleven-year-old son of John Pritchard, Missouri Pacific section foreman, whose home is at Weeping Water, while out hunting in the country between Manley and that place Tuesday afternoon was accidentally killed. The casualty happened at 2:30. Pritchard and two companions about his own age were together in a field. The 32-caliber revolver that Pritchard carried did not work very well. He was examining the gun and endeavoring to learn what was the matter with it. He was looking into the barrel of the revolver when it discharged shooting him through the eye, the ball lodging in his head. He died instantly.

The accident happened just two miles south of this place. The boys who were with Pritchard gave the alarm, and the remains were taken to the home of the parents at Weeping Water.

FROM THE BOY'S HOME.

Monday afternoon at about 4 o'clock, John Pritchard, a boy of about fifteen years, son of John Pritchard of this city, accidentally shot himself fatally. Three or four boys were out hunting with shotguns, and besides his gun he had a pistol. As the boys were resting the Pritchard boy was examining his pistol and looking into the muzzle when it was in some way discharged, the bullet entering the right eye, killing him instantly. The boys were about three miles from town when the accident occurred. The body was brought in as soon as possible. The accident is a sad blow to the father and mother, and a shock to the community.

DR. HALL WINS PRIZE

At The Trans-Mississippi Show Judges Award First On Cockerel.

Dr. J. H. Hall of this city has won laurels again. In the poultry fanciers Trans-Mississippi exposition at Omaha this week he was awarded first prize on Banded Plymouth-Rock cockerel, the same bird which carried off the sweepstakes at Glenwood last week, was the winner at Omaha. The Doctor was in competition with some of the best breeders in the United States, and it is a feather in his cap to come out winner in a show where competition was so strong. He succeeded in taking third on pullet, many fanciers would have been content with that, but not the Doctor, he would not be content without the first on cockerel. It looked a little doubtful at first blush, when there were pens from some of the best fanciers of New York and Wisconsin. The winning bird was almost perfect in the material points, and scored higher than his competitors, and its comb, was much superior to the others. The Doctor is no doubt elated over his success, as well he may be. To succeed in competition with states that have been taking prizes for so many years, is an honor that would make any one feel proud. The Omaha Bee of the 30 inst has the following to say of the awards:

That Nebraska poultry breeders are to take many premiums on their high scoring birds was shown last evening when the judges announced the winners for barred Plymouth Rocks—perhaps the favorite variety of every poultry show. The first premiums for cock cockerel and pens went to Nebraska, while the first for pullet went to New York. The following are the awards announced by the judges last evening:

S. S. Nevins, South Omaha, Neb., first cock; fourth and fifth pen.
 Perry Strandberg, Davey, Neb., second cock; first, second, third, and fifth pen; fifth cockerel, second pullet, first and second hen.
 George M. Mangold, Beeington, Neb., third cock.
 F. C. Ahlquist, Omaha, Neb., third cock.
 Aye Bros., Blair, Neb., fifth cock.
 John Burth, Maynard, N. Y., fourth hen; first pullet.
 J. H. Hall, Plattsmouth, Neb., first cockerel; third pullet.
 John H. Atkinson, Truman, Minn., second cockerel and fourth cockerel; fourth and fifth pullet.
 W. J. Palmer, Fremont, Neb., third cockerel.
 G. W. Feuerstein, third pen.

Judge Estelle Coming

Sunday night at the Presbyterian church Rev. Salsbury preached the second in a series of sermons on "Power of a Holy Life." The discourse was a strong one and contained much food for serious thought. At the opening of the meeting Rev. Salsbury announced that next Sunday being the first Sunday in the month, the Men's Brotherhood would have charge of the services in the evening, and that Judge Estelle, who presides over the juvenile court at Omaha will be the speaker of the evening.

Judge Estelle will talk on "Juvenile Offenders," and the methods employed in dealing with the delinquents of youthful age. The Judge is a good speaker and will give a most interesting discourse on the topic which is of much importance to society.

All well meaning citizens should hear him.
