

AWFUL GRAVEL ATTACKS

Cured by Doan's Kidney Pills After Years of Suffering.

F. A. Rippey, Depot Ave., Gallatin, Tenn., says: "Fifteen years ago kidney disease attacked me. The pain in my back was so agonizing I finally had to give up work. Then came terrible attacks of gravel with acute pain and passages of blood. In all I passed 25 stones, some as large as a bean. Nine years of this ran me down to a state of continual weakness, and I thought I never would be better until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. The improvement was rapid, and since using four boxes I am cured and have never had any return of the trouble."

ITCHED FOR TWELVE YEARS.

Eczema Made Hands and Feet Swell, Peel and Get Raw—Arms Affected, Too—Gave Up All Hope of Cure.

Quickly Cured by Cuticura.

"I suffered from eczema on my hands, arms and feet for about twelve years, my hands and feet would swell, sweat and itch, then would become callous and get very dry, then peel off and get raw. I tried most every kind of salve and ointment without success. I tried several doctors, but at last gave up thinking there was a cure for eczema. A friend of mine insisted on my trying the Cuticura Remedies, but I did not give them a trial until I got so bad that I had to do something. I secured a set and by the time they were used I could see a vast improvement and my hands and feet were healed up in no time. I have had no trouble since. Charles T. Bauer, Volant, Pa., Mar. 11, 1908."

Laughter in the Court.

An old plasterer is called upon to give evidence for the plaintiff. Counsel for the defense tries to bully him. "Have you ever been in prison?" "Yes, twice." "Ah! how long the first time?" "One whole afternoon." "What! And the second time?" "Only one hour." "And pray what offense had you committed to deserve so small a punishment?" "I was sent to prison to white-wash a cell to accommodate a lawyer who had cheated one of his clients."

Children's Hats

WHITE FUR WITH RUCHING OF NET

MUCH has been said, and more has been done, and many are the hats that have been shown by the way of fostering a desire—on the part of mothers and among those who dress our offspring—for smart clothes for small children, but we have come suddenly upon a demand for the picturesque. "A picture child will make its way anywhere," we are told. These little Frenchy chapeaux are not playtime hats; it is one form of cruelty—is it not?—to burden a child during play hours with personal elegances that impair its freedom, but perhaps equally unsuitable to the under its chin a "sundown" when it is garbed as a flower girl for a wedding or decked in furbelows for a dancing school soiree. The large white fur hat, with its ruching of lace-trimmed net around the brim, and held near the crown by a cord with a tassel at each side, is among the richest. One of the prettiest hats shown is a turquoise felt of the very soft variety, faced underneath in a smaller circle with velvet. The crown is draped with satin, messaline bordered with ribbon velvet, arranged in a soft chou on one side. All of these materials are of the same turquoise blue.

MUFF MADE MORE ELABORATE.

Goes Charmingly with Costume of Some Brilliant Color.

A new muff has made its appearance in the fashionable shops this year that is bound to take with persons who can afford an extra expense for such trappings.

It is made in the fashionable rug style, the skins sewed together flat, with tails, paws and heads at the ends and a pocket for the hands on the inside.

The rug simply throws over, without being caught at the sides, and the pocket for the hands is of fur like the outside.

The rug is worn thrown over this pocket or thrown under it.

This brings equal wear on the upper and under sides of the skins, as well as varying the style of the muff.

Similar muffs that are reversible have the pocket for the hands made of satin or shirred chiffon.

A new kind of muff, intended to be used at formal indoor functions, has been put in the market this season.

It is not made of fur, but of white or pastel-colored marabou, and is not intended to give any warmth.

It is merely to give an effective touch to the costume.

In it, as in most other muffs, there is a wide pocket of satin, which holds the purse, the cardcase and the handkerchief.

It is not very large, this muff, and it is so soft and fluffy that it goes charmingly with a long, sweeping indoor frock of some brilliant color.

Trimming for a Corset.

For the girl who is slim and who desires to wear a ruffle inside her corset of something else to make her look a little stouter, there is an idea that is well worth trying. This is to buy some dainty and thin material such as muslin, or dimity or use any thin material that you may have handy, and make a ruffle for the top of the corset, making it full at two ends where it will be sewed to the front of the corset and leaving the part that will be sewed to the back of the corset with barely any fullness at all. The ruffle can be edged with lace and be made dainty with the lace and ribbon and it will be found much daintier than bows. The ruffle can be made so that it can be easily taken off when it needs laundering. It will always be fresh and dainty and it will give the appearance of fullness to the front of the waist.

Trimming a Blouse.

If you have only a scrap of material left over from a cloth skirt, trim your blouse with it. If the blouse isn't of the cloth, it will be of net or chiffon dyed to match it. To be quite correct, it wants a touch of the skirt material on it. The mere scrap left from the skirt will do it. Cut it into as wide a band as the shoulders will stand and the material allow. Stitch it at edges, cover it with an Egyptian design in soutache, and apply it to the blouse.

If you have still another piece left over make another band as wide as you can, soutache it, and put it around the figure, under arms. Where it passes under the upright band join with an embroidered crown's foot or a satin-covered button.

Marie Antoinette Toques.

Some new velvet toques have been exactly copied from the toque worn by Marie Antoinette in the lovely Vierge-Lebrun painting. The use of large outturns, plaques of braid and flat braid motifs continue their triumphal march. The ease with which they mark the long line accounting for their reign. The newest neck chain to suspend a pendant is a more thread of platinum powdered with diamond dust.—Franz's Paris Letter to Vogue.

DRESS FOR THE EVENING.

Designed to Be Made Up in Oyster-Pink Satin Cashmere.

Oyster-pink satin cashmere would look charming in this elegant style; the bodice and skirt are cut in one, the lower part of the skirt is cut up in a "V," showing an under-skirt of lace; silver trimming, in key pattern is sewn along the lower edge of over-skirt, and also on the bodice; the latter has a strip of insertion sewn above the trimming, and a white tucked chiffon tucker; the under-sleeves are also of chiffon, edged with insertion, white satin is used for the over-sleeves with trimmings to edge them. Materials required: Seven yards satin 42 inches wide, 6 1/2 yards trimming, two yards insertion, one yard tucked chiffon.

Floral Trimmings for Millinery.

An enormous velvet poinsettia in its exquisite natural coloring—rich cardinal, toned down to a warm, glowing chianti tone. The long, slender petals are only loosely joined, and the imitation is perfect. One of these flowers is quite sufficient for trimming a hat of even large size, but it may also be combined with ostrich or other fine plumage if desired.

A large chrysanthemum looks like a little feather ball in softest mauve tones. It is composed of innumerable crinkly petals of soft velvet, and may be used instead of the marabou or ostrich pompons so very much in vogue at present, on one of the chic, large toques, or combined to form a garland or wreath on a large hat a la direction or Boucher.—Vogue.

A New Veil Roll.

Which isn't veil roll at all, because it's a stick—owing to the manner of its making and to the present width of veils. It looks like a stick of mint candy, and is made of six-inch red satin ribbon, edged with half-inch red satin ribbon, and then twisted in a bias twirl, exactly like striped candy, down along pasteboard roll. The roll has first been covered with scented cotton, and the whole thing has a delicious look when finished.

Grooming Is an Art.

Beauty of grooming, correct poise and ability to make the most of one's good points count for more than a beautiful face. Any woman with a passable face may be attractive, and even be considered beautiful if she will cultivate the art of being well groomed.

DIRT, DARKNESS AND DISEASE.

The Slogan of the First Negro Congress on Tuberculosis.

Tuskegee, Alabama—"Down With Dirt, Darkness and Disease" was the slogan adopted at the First Negro Congress on Tuberculosis held at Tuskegee, the third week of December. The Negro's fight against tuberculosis for the sake of both races was the burden of the week's meetings.

During "Health Sunday," the opening day of the Congress, seven meetings were devoted wholly or in part to problems of the human body. For six successive days the entire group of nearly fifteen hundred students attended the evening platform meetings which included a series of stereopticon addresses having to do with varied conditions conducive to the spread of tuberculosis and the control of the disease. "School Improvement," "Children's Gardens and Clives," "Playgrounds and Recreation," "What Churches Have Done," "Better Conditions for the Worker and What the Worker Can Do," and "Neighborhood Improvement in Town and Country" were some of the topics illustrated by stereopticon slides.

During five afternoons group meetings were held. These brought together circles of earnest-minded leaders who sought to define possibilities for themselves and their people throughout the country, for it was early decided that the results of the congress should be made as far-reaching as possible. Doctors, teachers, church organizations, including the Young Men's Christian Association, women's clubs and other societies, business leagues and other men's associations, as well as the interests of the country home and school were discussed and plans for future work outlined.

What Next?

The closing conference included representation from the thirty local, state and national welfare efforts centering at Tuskegee. In this session the leaders sought to answer, "What are we going to do about it?" They planned a permanent tuberculosis committee at Tuskegee with similar committees at other leading Negro institutions such as Hampton and Shaw, these schools to work together, each pushing the tuberculosis campaign in their immediate territory. The colored press of the country will be counted upon to spread the propaganda, and the state boards of health will be asked to supply printed matter about the disease and the manner of living which will control its spread.

Health Month.

Of greatest hope is the plan for making February a "Health Month" for Negroes north and south. This New Year's effort began December 30th in a conference at Chicago where it was determined to lay plans so that during February practically every colored church, lodge and society in Chicago will hold a meeting to consider "Tuberculosis Among the Negroes: What Are We Going to Do About It?" In preparation for this plan it is expected that general addresses upon tuberculosis this shall be given before all of those Negro organizations in Chicago which have not already been lectured upon the subject.

The same plan will be followed wherever any considerable number of Negroes are to be found. With January as a month of preparation, February will be a month of discussion among these people who form so large a portion of the population in many sections. White citizens are asked to call attention to these plans and to give such encouragement as will advance this attempt of a race to free itself from the ravages of a needless disease and at the same time to serve the highest interests of both races. Nebraska Association Study, and Prevention of Tuberculosis, 408 City Hall, Omaha.

INSULT TO FLAG IS DENIED

American Emblem Was Not Torn Down in Riot of Students.

Washington—Reporting upon the recent riots in Prague, Ambassador Francis of Austria-Hungary takes occasion to deny the report that an American flag was torn into strips and tramped in the mud. The riots were the result of the advertised laying of a cornerstone of a new German university in Prague. The Bohemian students wanted a bohemian university instead.

Bogus Insecticides.

Washington.—Lawrence A. Bruner, entomologist of the Nebraska State university, W. R. Meller, secretary of the state fair and a number of other people have written letters to members of the Nebraska delegation calling attention to the sale of bogus and dangerous preparations labeled insecticide, fungicide, etc., and asking if steps cannot be taken to have it stopped under the pure food law or to have the law amended to prevent such sales in Nebraska and elsewhere.

Judge Removed From Bench.

New York—Otto H. Droege was removed from his position as city magistrate by order of the appellate division of the supreme court on motion of counsel for the Bar association of New York. The appellate division of January 8 found Magistrate Droege guilty of charges that he had released illegally prisoners whom he had committed to the workhouse, and that an attempt had been made to bribe a newspaper reporter who was preparing the story upon the magistrate's judicial act.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Six were killed and others injured when a New York Central train dashed into a group of track walkers in Gotham.

No legislation concerning the reform of the navy department will be enacted by congress at this session, if present plans are followed out.

Mme. L. Young Kloman, aged 40 years, teacher of vocal culture at Hamilton female college, Lexington, Ky., died suddenly at a hospital of peritonitis.

Walter Weaver, son of S. M. Weaver, a member of the supreme court of Iowa, was held to the grand jury in the district court at Iowa Falls on a charge of having issued forged papers.

John Clarkson, famous the land over as a baseball pitcher in the days when $10,000 release prices began to be paid between National League clubs, died at the McLeod hospital in Waltham, Mass.

The house of representatives of Iowa voted down a resolution offered by Representative Scheeper, proposing medals for each Iowa born member of the naval fleet just completing the tour around the world.

The bodies of John Minck and Daniel Murphy were found in the ruins of the Mahoning county infirmary at Canfield, O., which was destroyed by fire about ten days ago. This makes four lives lost in the fire.

Clarence M. Jones, president of the Commonwealth Feed Company of St. Louis, and brother of Police Commissioner Jones, was murdered, Herman A. Kretschmar, a discharged official of the company, has been arrested.

Charles E. Holmes, charged with having killed his wife, Pauline, was acquitted in Chicago. Tears came to Holmes' eyes when he thanked the jury for the decision. A reconciliation between father and son followed.

Mrs. Henry Jackson, widow of Brig. Gen. Henry Jackson, died on an Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe train near Dodge City, Kan. Mrs. Jackson was en route to Las Vegas, N. M. Gen. Jackson was inspector of the National Guard of Missouri.

Capt. James Brown, who was a member of a party that searched for the famous Cocos Island treasure in 1850, sailed again for the South seas to recover the spoils of the Spanish freebooters taken from them by Capt. Smith of the schooner Black Witch, in 1829.

The contest over the will of the late Mrs. Lydia Bradley has begun in Peoria, Ill. Undue influence on the part of Oliver J. Bailey, W. W. Hammond, Albion W. Small and the late William Rainey Harper, president of the University of Chicago, is given as the main cause for the breaking of the will.

The deadlock in the negotiations between W. I. Buchanan, America's special commissioner, and the Venezuelan government, remains unbroken through the refusal of either side to yield in the dispute over the method of arbitrating the cases of the New York and Bermudez Asphalt Company and the Orinoco corporation.

Fred Walton, former grand master of the Odd Fellows for the state of Idaho, was shot twice by John H. Cradabaugh in Denver, Col., and died shortly after being removed to a hospital. Both men are from Wallace, Idaho. Cradabaugh also is a prominent Odd Fellow. Walton was dying when the hospital was reached, but gasped: "That man thought I stole his wife."

BRYAN STILL HAS HOPES.

Tells Southerners Promises for 1912 Are Very Bright.

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 5.—Speaking to an immense throng of people from the grand stand at the race track yesterday afternoon, William J. Bryan said he brought to the Democrats of the south a message of good cheer—that there is a steadily increasing sentiment that makes for the growth of the Democratic party in the United States.

Cold and La Grippe

Mr. C. Happy, Hardin, Ray Co., Mo., writes: "I can safely recommend Peruna as a remedy that will cure all catarrhal troubles."

"It was of great benefit to me, as it cured me of catarrh of the throat, and I took a very bad cold and had la grippe last February. It settled in my throat and lungs. I took three bottles of Peruna and it cured me."

"I highly recommend it to all who are sick, and I am glad to add my endorsement to that of others."

Peruna for Colds

Mr. L. Clifford Figg, Jr., 2929 East Marshall St., Richmond, Va., writes: "That when he gets a cold he takes Peruna, and it soon drives it out of his system. For several years he was not entirely well, but Peruna completely cured him."

People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets.
