Boost for Plattsmouth. Don't knock. The Journal is doing the knocking.

The two greatest blessings of human life are good health and good sense.

Home is the father's kingdom, the children's paradise, and the mother's world.

Six good democrats were nominated on the Citizens' ticket. Why should the Journal fight them?

It matters little how many other success qualities a man may have, if he lacks courage he will never get anywhere.

The men who stand at the top, and the men who are climbing there, stand above their fellows because they have the courage of their convictions.

It makes all the difference in the world whether you begin at the bottom and act from the lowest motives up, or whether you begin at the top and act from the highest motives down.

It is not always a disgrace to fail, but it is a disgrace to fail to do one's best, or to fail because one's cause is not worthy of success. It is also a disgrace to succeed in unworthy things. Not failure, but low aim is crime.

Boost for the interurban, boost for the citizens' ticket, boost for the small factory and join hands with the business men and good citizens and make this the greatest year in the history of this city. Start right by electing the citizens' ticket. That should be the first step to a wiser and better administration, and the progress and enterprise of this city. Vote for the citizens' ticket.

DENOUNCES OWN PARTY.

Representative Taylor, of Custer county, a democratic member of the House, most bitterly denounced the democrats in the senate, as corporation tools. He said:

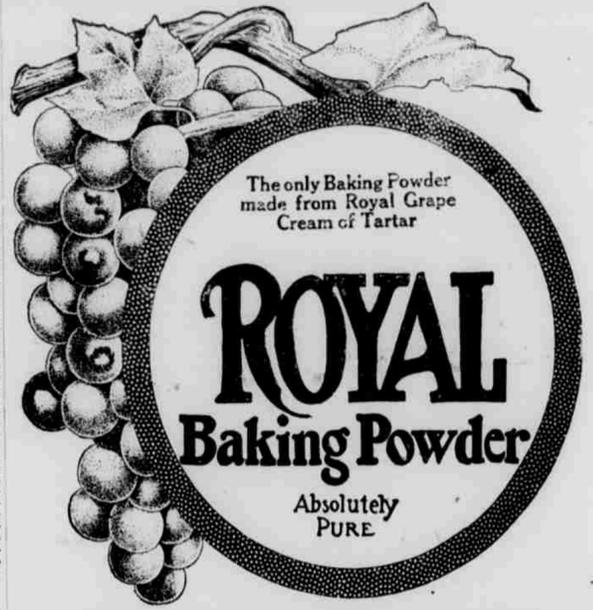

"We have seen insurance legislation blocked by large and persistent insurance lobbies working on corporation tendencies of this reform democratic legislature. We have seen corporation influence on every hand. I want this to go out in the state and want the people to read it, that Taylor says that the railroads have been legislated against but little this session and the people have been but little benefited. We have secured no relief from insurance mismanagement and corruption. We have tried to live up to the pledges of the party and be a reform legislature. And what is the result, gentlemen? We sent a guaranty bill to the senate which was a depositor's guaranty bill. The republican state convention was seduced by the bankers of the state and now we behold the democratic state senate under the same influences. I have yielded, gentlemen, I have said nothing, but I declare to you that I have yielded to that senate all I am going to. Run over me with your steam roller if you want to but I will not get out of the way. Tanner thinks more of his corporation than he does of his own party. I have tried to keep the hands of the corporations from the throats of the people of Nebraska. They will have their way, gentlemen, I promise you that the senate will get what it wants. They will have their way with the bank bill, they will have their way with the physical valuation bill, they will have their way with the charters, they will have their way in all things and the democratic party will stand discredited in the eyes of the state.

JOURNALISM.

"Every owner, editor, or reporter of a conscientiously and ably conducted newspaper or periodical is an asset of real value to the whole community. It would be difficult to overestimate the amount of good which can be done by the men responsible for such a publication—responsible for its editorial columns, responsible for its news columns, responsible for its general policy. We have many newspapers and periodicals big and little, of this kind. But we also have many that are not of this kind."—Theodore Roosevelt.

This campaign in this city is one purely for a better and more businesslike city administration. It is for the purpose of building up the enterprises in this city and procuring of new enterprises for this city if such can be done. It is from within and not from without that a city builds. Then if you want to boost for the city of Plattsmouth, give your support to the citizens' ticket. It is non-partisan and composed of good business men and if elected they will give this city a splendid business administration. Boost for the citizens' ticket, and thus boost for Plattsmouth. There are knockers, we know. Our contemporary, the Journal, in days gone by, under the management of C. W. Sherman and under the present management has done much to injure the business and business enterprises and business industries of this city. Pay no attention to the Journal's knocking. It is easy to knock, it is silly to knock, it is ignorant to knock, and the Journal is knocking. It is wise to boost, it is helpful to boost, it is sensible to boost, it is benevolent to boost so let every good and fair-minded citizen join hands and boost for the citizens' ticket and thus boost for Plattsmouth.

WHAT is the basis of the characteristics of a people? What is the bedrock upon which the foundations of intelligence and morality rest as they support the towering superstructure of a civilized society? To answer that question we must go back to the beginnings of society and look at the first notable difference between the savage and the civilizing man. We find that it consisted in steady daily labor and secure possession of the fruits of that labor. Then any pursuit that does not involve steady daily labor, any political or sociological pursuit that does not involve security in the possession of one's property, is inevitably subversive of civilization. There is much in current matters that has its true and repulsive character revealed when it is brought to this touchstone.

SIX REPUBLICANS

CITIZENS TICKET

SIX DEMOCRATS

The grief of the Plattsmouth Journal over the matter of the republicans endorsing the Citizens' ticket, is perfectly silly. Six as good republicans as there are to be found were nominated on the Citizens' ticket. Why should not the republican convention endorse them?

Do you want your home city to be alive and full of life and enterprise? If so, then rustle for the citizens' ticket. You and you and you can do much for your home city. It does not call for your money or your property. Do your best to secure the election of the citizens' ticket. It will help to boost your home city. It will give us a better city government; it will help to secure factories and business enterprises for the city; it will help to secure a city park; it will help to secure the interurban railway; it will help to reduce your taxes; it will help to furnish more work for the working man; it will help to furnish more business for the business man; it will help to macadamize the avenues; it will help in the betterment of the entire city. Will you boost or will you continue to knock? The Journal has been knocking on this city for years and years and years and it is still continuing to knock. Don't knock but boost.

WE ARE now in the beginning of that season of the year in which it is supposed to be proper and natural to feel languid; only the powerful and the lucky are supposed to be able to get off without a spell of fever. Why? The answer always is, "Oh, spring fever always affects people that way." Some days we shall really believe, instead of merely repeating parrot fashion, that everything has a cause. When that day comes we shall not be languid and half or wholly ill in the midst of a world in which life,—vigorous, pure, exuberant,—is bubbling over, after the winter's rest. The only kind of sick that are out of harmony in the spring are the sin-sick.

HAVE you read the Plattsmouth Journal's silly twaddle about the republican party? Every year for ten years the Journal has at every spring election devoted itself to denouncing the republican party and abusing the candidates nominated by it. Why this silly slush of sorrow, woe, and wail for the republican party now? The only reason under the sun for this silly and ignorant slush is that the Journal is afraid that six good republicans will be elected to office in this city, if the citizens' ticket should be successful. That is the sum total of its sorrow and grief for the great republican party and its great leaders in years gone by in this city.

THERE have been many lies circulated in regard to the citizens' ticket. Irresponsible and unworthy persons are busy trying to make it appear that the citizens' ticket is a prohibition ticket. Look the ticket over from top to bottom and if you find a prohibitionist on the ticket come to us and we will give you a reward of $5. Every man on the citizens' ticket was nominated for the purpose of giving this city a better and more businesslike administration, and for the purpose of taking the administration of city affairs out of politics. The democratic city of Galveston, Texas, has adopted this method, and the republican city of Des Moines, Ia., has also adopted this non-partisan method, and why should not Plattsmouth adopt it? Who can be harmed by giving Plattsmouth a better and more businesslike administration? A non-partisan administration would be under no obligations to pay political debts to republicans or democrats at the expense of the tax-payers and the public treasury. Why is it that everybody is asking the question "What is the matter with Plattsmouth," and in the same breath answering their own question "There is something wrong?" You and you and you have time and again asked this same question and giving this same answer. Let us elect a non-partisan ticket and see if that will not furnish the remedy.

WHY does the Journal wail so much about the great republican party in the past? The Journal has an ax to grind. The Journal wants you to vote for its graft. The law requires an ordinance to be published one week. One issue in a weekly paper is sufficient. For five years the Journal has been bleeding the city treasury by publishing the ordinances in the daily and charging for six issues where one issue in the semi-weekly would have been sufficient. This is the Journal's graft on the city treasury. The tax payers pay the bills for six issues instead of one or two. Yes, the Journal has an ax to grind.

THIS is the time when everyone has the opportunity to do something for the enterprise and business development of this city. It is not asking for your money. Every good citizen who has the welfare of this city at heart should vote for the citizens' ticket. You should solicit all your friends to vote for the citizens' ticket.

WE WOULD suggest to our neighbors down the river to be on the lookout for the great flood of crocodile tears the Journal is just now shedding for the future welfare of the republican party in this city. It is really a sickening sight to see. It is nauseating to any self-respecting republican. Can't some one give the silly thing a cathartic of the extract of decency? It needs it, and needs it badly.
