Plattsmouth No. 85 Nebraska No. 85

Now turned around spells victory.

NONE but the wise can employ leisure well.

VICTORY belongs to the most persevering.

THE door of opportunity has no place for knockers.

NO MAN can be sure of others until he is sure of himself.

A CLEAN desk tonight makes a good beginning tomorrow.

METHOD in business is the chief instrument in getting rich.

NO MAN was ever discontented with the world who did his duty in it.

HE WHO lives after Nature shall never be poor; after opinion, shall never be rich.

HOPE alone is all right; but Hope and Hustle, in equal parts, is better.

PEOPLE who are afraid of freckles never make hay while the sun shines.

FORGET the past, attend to the present, and let the future take care of itself.

IT is well worth the price just to see the "Kunnel" shake hands with himself.

THE man who thinks he is a wit should talk into a phonograph and then be made to listen.

SOME men of bombastic, audacious, pompous and egotistical vanity, try to hide their lack of gray matter under silk ties, long tailed coats, and gold headed canes.

THOMAS JEFFERSON O'DAY in his Nehawka Register refers to Plattsmouth as a hamlet. We'd rather be as apologetic as the "Kunnel" than to have some peoples' disposition.

THE Courier is offering $5 in gold as a prize for the best article not exceeding five hundred words on the subject of how to make Louisville grow, how to increase its commercial importance, how to make it the leading town in Cass county, etc. Mr. Mayfield is a live one and the Courier will be a potent factor in Louisville's advancement, whichever way her activities may be directed.

PLATTSMOUTH is an all right "wide open town," a half dozen or more gambling joints wide open and in full blast, houses of bad repute, three or four Sunday booze joints, plenty of confederates and pimps to handle the unsophisticated country lad in a grand and glorious manner is the way things are beginning to boom under the newly elected city administration.

THE Plattsmouth Daily Journal's local page is a daily advertisement of Omaha. By actual count Saturday's issue of that paper contained 28 free reading notices of Omaha, equivalent to about 20 inches. The Journal calls this stuff personals. It should be designated as the Omaha free advertising department. Our local merchants should just keep track of this advertising space for one week. Charging the local merchants and giving Omaha free space is doubtless the Journal's idea of building up this city.

DOES a man who neglects to pay his grocery bills, his meat bills, his coal bills, his rent bills, make a man qualified as a legislator? Would you expect such a man to accomplish much good, wholesome legislation? Is it common sense to expect a graduate "spittoon huller and bar loafer" to stand for what is moral, upright, decent, and wholesome? Is it not most likely that his language will become tainted by the source of his graduation? Is it not most likely when he by hook or crook becomes alderman or legislator that he will join the "lobby gang" for what there is in it?

"KUNNEL" BATES condemns Ex-Attorney General C. J. Smythe, because he made speeches against the re-nomination of Mayor "Jim." Almost immediately Mayor "Jim" bobs up as a friend of John C. Mabray, the confidence man, swindler, and bronchobuster. That's right "Kunnel" give it to General Smythe,—he is too clean to train with the gang you support. Give it too Smythe,—he belong to the class of clean and decent democrats, but they are not in harmony with the municipal administrations. They do not harmonize with gambling, prostitution and debauchery; with graft, swindling, and buncoism. Give it to 'em. In Plattsmouth the Journal designated them as "Night Riders," "Klux Klans," and "Mollie Maguires." That is style of condemnation the Journal heaps upon the heads of democrats who stand up for decency and purity.

THE executive force of Lancaster and Cass counties made quick work of the Greenwood burglary and linen larceny. On April 18th Andrew Bloom was placed under arrest by detectives from Lincoln. On the 19th Sheriff C. D. Quinton landed the burglar and thief in the county jail. Bloom made a full confession of his crime. On the 20th a formal complaint was filed against him before Judge M. Archer and he entered a plea of guilty, and was bound over to the District Court and committed to jail. A formal information setting up the criminal offence was filed on the 23rd, Bloom was taken before Judge Harvey D. Travis by the sheriff where a plea of guilty was entered and a sentence of four years in the penitentiary was pronounced by the court. There is no criminal prosecution in the popular sense of the term where one pleads guilty to a crime. The detectives and sheriff do the work in such cases and save costs to the tax payer, and Sheriff Quinton is to be commended.

WOMEN WHO WORK ON PAYNE TARIFF BILL.

Three hundred women and girls, representing 50,000 textile workers in Pennsylvania, at a mass meeting in Philadelphia on the evening of April 9, adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That in view of the action of the so-called society women of our country in petitioning Congress to reduce the duty on hosiery imported into the United States that they might benefit by the said reduction, we denounce the action of these women as un-American, unpatriotic and unworthy of the past history of the American women who in every period of our country's history have stood for the elevation and the betterment of their sisters, and not for the destruction of home industry and labor, as these silk stocking society now advocate.

Resolved, That we appeal to the great mass of working women of our country to rise in their might and repudiate the actions of these women who would use their influence to take from us the means of making an honest and respectful living and finding employment.

Resolved, That we appeal to Congress to preserve to the American woman the American market for the sale of their labor and pass the hosiery schedule of the Payne Tariff bill in its present form. These women do not represent the true sentiment of the American people.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Congress and a copy given to the press.

These resolutions present a singular contract to those adopted a day or two before by the Four Hundred at the Hotel Astor in New York. What right-minded woman, having in view the highest and best interests of her sex, can doubt that the Philadelphia Three Hundred are correct in their contention for the privilege of earning a respectable living? Morally, ethically and economically the women who work have the best of the argument.
