Charming May Breakfast

Former Plattsmouth People
Social Function.

A charming May day breakfast was given at the Ebell clubhouse Saturday morning at nine o'clock, in honor of the P. E. O. Sisterhood of Long Beach by the city teachers who hold membership in the Sisterhood. May day motifs were beautifully suggestive. The group of hostesses were Miss Jessie Chandler, Mrs. Velma Curtis, Miss Margaret Waite, Miss Eva Edwards, Miss Lena Higgins, Miss Helen Gray, assisted by Mrs. Mary Houseworth and Mrs. Anna Martin.

In the center of the clubhouse was a May pole, twined with white and yellow and about this were ten tables set in a circle. White and yellow were the prevailing tones for the breakfast ornamentation. Each table was laid with covers for three. Marguerites were used in abundance on tables and about the pretty clubhouse interior.

A lovely cluster of marguerites, the club flower, formed the centerpiece. The menu cards were adorned with hand decorated designs of marguerites. A delicious menu was served in four courses.

Following breakfast, the guests retired to the cozy tea room where initiation rites were administered to Miss Ruth Houseworth, who is the first daughter of a member of the P. E. O. Sisterhood of Long Beach to receive membership. The charming breakfast was attended by thirty.—Long Beach Press.

Mr. and Mrs. Houseworth will be remembered as having long been residents of Plattsmouth. Private advices are to the effect that they like their new home very much.

At the Masonic Home.

Mrs. Florence Lininger Haller accompanied by Miss Brandies of Omaha visited the Masonic Home Thursday to make estimates for furnishing the White Rest Room, which is the latest idea of medical experts for the recuperation of neurasthenic patients. The rest room is to be opposite the guest chamber which Mrs. Haller's mother, Mrs. Geo. W. Lininger, furnished when the home was first dedicated and now situated in the new annex. Mrs. Haller on her several trips to the Orient has been quite an extensive collector of souvenirs and curios, and on each visit to the home she brings treasures to decorate "Mothers' Room," until it is an amateur museum. The walls and furniture are literally covered with pictures and embroideries from her first school days' effort in art, to fine oil paintings from the old old masters among which is a real Titian. The dresser and tables are supplied with every sort of toilet supplies so the most dainty visitors will find everything required for her make-up, and no doubt the white rest room will be complete in its details.

Observe Mother's Day

"Mother's Day" was observed in the churches in this city Sunday. At the M. E. church, previous to the Sunday school lesson C. C. Westcott, the superintendent, gave a very interesting talk along that line and Don York sang a solo, "My Mother's Hand." Prof. Brooks read an interesting selection.

Miss Bessie Edwards and Miss Carrie Becker pinned white flowers on each person as they entered the church.

Dr. A. A. Randall chose for the text of an able discourse, which contained much expression, these words, "Behold Thy Mother," as the words spoken by Jesus at the hour of his crucifixion, when he was cast off and despised by those who should have been his friends.

The greatest heroine in the world, he said, is a mother. No one else makes such sacrifices, or endures anything like the sufferings that she endures uncomplainingly for her children. Few men become great who do not owe their greatness to a mother's love and inspiration. The very atmosphere that radiates from and surrounds the mother is the inspiration and constitutes the holy of holies of family life.

Miss Bertha Jackson and Miss Ferris York sang very sweetly and with much expression a solo, which was highly appreciated.

Presbyterian Church.

Rev. J. H. Salsbury chose for the subject of an excellent discourse, "The Debt We Owe to Motherhood." White flowers were also presented to those who entered the church.

In the evening Prof. U. G. Graff, principal of the Omaha High school, delivered an instructive address on "The Moral Training in the Public Schools."

Twice-Told Testimony

Plattsmouth People Are Doing
All They Can for Fellow Sufferers.

Plattsmouth testimony has been published to prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills to others in Plattsmouth who suffer from bad backs and kidney ills. Let any sufferer doubt that the cures made by Doan's Kidney Pills are thorough and lasting, we produce confirmed proof—statements from Plattsmouth people saying that the cures they told of years ago were permanent. Here's a Plattsmouth case:

W. T. Cole, retired farmer, 608 Locust street, Plattsmouth, Neb., says: "I contracted kidney trouble while serving in the army. There was a dull, heavy ache and lameness across the small of my back that annoyed me to quite an extent and at times the kidney secretions were scanty accompanied with pain in passage. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills, I was led to get a box at Gering & Co's. drug store and began their use. They made a marked improvement and entirely relieved me of suffering." (Statement given June 11, 1906.)

On December 29, 1908, Mr. Cole added to the above: "I am pleased to renew the testimonial I gave two years ago endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills. I advise anyone afflicted with lumbago or any other kidney disorder to give this remedy a trial."

Death of Henry Lehnhoff

Henry Lehnhoff one of the earliest pioneers of Cass County died May 4th at the home of his son, Dr. Henry J. Lehnhoff in Lincoln aged 73 years. He was born in the province of Hanover, Germany March 13, 1836, and came to America with his parents at the age of 11 years, and settled on a farm in Madison County Wisconsin.

In 1858 he was married to Miss Caroline Ossenkop, and about that time came to Cass county, Nebraska, settling on a claim of 160 acres in Center precinct, and about five miles west Plattsmouth, where he erected a home, residing there continuously until Dec. 1906 when he retired from the farm and removed to Lincoln, Neb. He left a widow and two sons, William and Dr. Henry J. Lehnhoff, and three daughters, Mrs. C. C. McPherson, Mrs. W. C. Framp-ton, and Miss Minnie Lehnhoff, all residing in Lincoln and who were all at the bedside of their father at the time of his death. He was a brother of the late Frederick D. Lehnhoff of Plattsmouth.

He always took a prominent part in the development of the country, lived a simple life, and was universally loved and respected. He was a charter member of the First German church three miles west of his old home in Cass county where he attended church for many years. It was his dying wish that he be buried there among his old friends and neighbors and his funeral he had arranged to the smallest detail. Services at the church were conducted by Rev. Hartman in a most impressive manner. The singing by the choir was most inspiring and in harmony with the life of the deceased. The pall bearers were his old neighbors Theodore Hein, W. F. Diers, George Stohman, Wm. Wagener, Wm. Pankonin and Steve Jochim. The funeral party came from Lincoln to Louisville in a special coach Thursday morning, and from thence the funeral procession went to the church south-west of Louisville where the last tribute to the good life of a worthy citizen was held and interment made.

Continuous vaudeville, (no waits between acts) will be presented at the Parmele Thursday evening, May 13. The entire production to be under the direction of Prof. H. S. Auston. Popular prices.
