

NOW Is The Time to Plan

for your threshing outfit. It is essential that you should get good machinery. machinery that has stood the test of years because you are operating at a loss if you experiment with any other. The Case engines are built in a large factory where the manufacturing facilities are the best, consequently they are built with the object of making you money, and they do. They require less fuel to operate and are simple in construction. These engines will produce greater power for the rated horse power than any other engine. The engine here represented is our General Purpose Traction Engine. It is a favorite among general contractors in all sections of the country for railway construction, excavating, grading and hauling. It is also preferred by many threshermen, because of the large tank and roomy fuel bunkers. See me for particulars.

FOR WALL STREET SUCCESS.

Just a Few of the Qualifications Necessary if One Is to "Beat the Game."

The clergyman who says that he can take "a $100 bill, a pencil and a pad" and make a fortune in Wall street recommends the process only to those who possess one important qualification. They must know the game. Given that, the rest is easy. To know the game thoroughly it is necessary to be in the confidence of the board when ten per cent dividends are to be declared; to learn ahead of the crowd what stock is next to be marked up on the strength of rumors of dividend guarantees; what bankrupt road is to be sold to a system; what manipulation the bull pool is about to undertake, and to have other advance information equally helpful. It is given to few to possess this knowledge, no doubt by a wise provision of nature which permits the many to be sacrificed that the most fit may survive. If it were possible for any one with a $100 bill to become a Wall street millionaire the aggregation of swollen fortunes would menace the republic. Doubtless in the case of the clergyman in question the gains to the ministry involved the loss of a magnate to the financial world. But for the ordinary run of speculators there is no place where a little learning is so dangerous a thing as in Wall street.

Varying Impressions.

"The days are growing longer," said the man who keeps a lookout for the first robin.

"I don't notice any difference," said Mr. Sirius Barker; "they seem, as usual, to be getting longer if you count from one pay day to the next and shorter if you figure the time between rent days."

Another Suggestion.

"What's the reason your boy doesn't like to work on a farm? He's fond of outdoor exercise."

"I'm workin' on that problem now," answered Farmer Cortosseel. "If these uplift experts could make arrangements to have plowin' records printed in the sportin' news, I think Josh could be persuaded to take an interest."

MULES NOT HARD TO HANDLE.

Whole Secret Is in Knowing How to Do It, According to Army Officer.

Horse and mule men at the stock yards stood in admiration the other afternoon while the soldiers of Battery A and B, Second United States artillery, loaded 13 cars of mules in 25 minutes. It was a new record on the loading docks, and it wasn't accomplished by any unusual methods either. Nor was the mule driver's vocabulary resorted to. How did they do it? The lieutenant simply called the roll and the mules responded to their names. "Nigger," called an officer, and a little black gum mule amble up.

"Now, Molle, you're next; now Cyclone," and Cyclone came like a cyclone.

If a mule was refractory a few men in khaki took hold of him and pushed and shoved him into place.

"No wonder," said an envious mule driver, "they know their mules; they couldn't do them all that way."

"That so?" said a non-commissioned officer. "I guess we could. It's all in knowing how. You never want to flinch around a mule. Never look back when you leave him. After you know how, mules are easier to handle than horses."—Kansas City Times.

How the Baby Bird Flew.

J. M. Barrie has a little fable in one of his works about a baby lark asking its mother to teach it to fly. The mother thought hard about how she herself had learned to fly long ago last year, but all she could recall was that you suddenly do it.

"Wait till the sun comes out after the rain," she said, half remembering. The rain came and glued the bird's wings together.

"I shall never be able to fly nor to sing," it wailed. Then of a sudden it had to blink its eyes for a glorious light had spread over the world. The baby bird's breast swelled, it did not know why, and it fluttered from the ground. It did not know how. "The sun has come out after the rain," it trilled. "Thank you, sun, thank you," and it floated up crying: "Thank you."

Well-Stocked.

Last summer a typical down-easter furnished a New York author, who had a cottage in a Maine village, with farm produce.

One day when the man called with a wagon-load of vegetables, the author, wishing to make himself agreeable, asked how much stock he kept on his farm.

"Five cows an' a bull," enumerated the farmer, "an' two yokes of oxen, a calf, a boss, an' three shares of Maine Central."—Youth's Companion.
