Following Illustrious Example.

An art student in Berlin wrote recently to a brewing concern in Bohemia, offering to paint for the brewers "pictures" suitable for advertising purposes—artistic, appropriate, attractive and cheap." He goes on to say: "Sir John Millais was not above taking 40,000 marks from a soapmaker for one of his paintings, to be used as an advertisement. Nor did he hesitate to offer other pictures for the same purpose at the same price. Why should not I, who owe my tailor, and who fear to look my landlady in the face, not do the same? Stay! I shall do better. Am willing to take less than 40,000 marks for my best work."

The Last Straw.

"Say, paw," queried small Tommy Toddles, "why do they always put in a scythe when they make a picture of Father Time?"

"It is intended to represent the shortness of life, my son," answered Toddles, Sr. "Time cuts people down, you know."

"But, paw," continued Tommy, "when Time shall be no mowder, he'll drop his scythe, won't he?"

"Speaking of time, young man," said the father, "you go up and tell your mother it's time to put you to bed."

Ability Appreciated.

Sir Charles Wyndham (speaking at a dinner) told of a young man he once heard of who was paying attention to a lady to the great disgust of her father, who remonstrated very kindly with him. The father said: "If I see you in this house again I shall kick you out." The young man came back the very next day. "I told you what would happen," said the father, and it did happen. The young man did not appear for about five weeks, and then one day the father saw him coming toward the house, and immediately went and opened the front door. "Haven't you had enough?" said the old man. "Have you come again to see my daughter?" "No, no," replied the other, "I have come on behalf of the president of our football club."

Doing a Man's Work.

Mandy (scornfully)—Mose Johnson, seein' you ain't good fer nuffin' else, s'posin' yo' go 'long down an' lee' de new board o' aldermen! — Brooklyn Life.

We All Know Them.

"I hates," said Uncle Eben, "to see de kind of a man dat thinks he can't git on in de world wifout compellin' somebody else to git off."

MERE INCIDENT IN FOOTBALL.

Broken Collar Bone, Supposed to Be Enemy's, Considered a Detail of the Game.

There had been a hotly contested football game between the Steam Rollers of the Benjamin Franklin school and the Avalanches of the George Washington school. After the game was over and the contestants had returned to their various homes one of the heroes of the winning team complained of a feeling of soreness in the lower part of his neck.

"I didn't feel it until just now," he said; "but it hurts like sixty!"

His father examined it. It began to swell, and was very sore to the touch.

"I believe your collar bone is broken, my boy," said his father.

A surgeon was hastily summoned, and made an examination.

"Yes," he said, "the bone is fractured. How did it happen, Walter?"

Did you remember anything about it?"

"Why, yes," answered the boy, "I remember that when I tackled Skinny Morgan I fell on top of him, and I heard something crack, but I thought it was his collar bone."—Youth's Companion.

Not One of His Studies.

Miss Blank's second grade was notorious throughout the school for a lamentable lack of discipline. It was in this grade that printed reports were first issued to the children. One day Tom came home, proudly bearing the first formal record of his progress in scholastic lines. His mother, having been a teacher, was pleased to note that her offspring's ratings were of high order, but his lawyer father, having scanned the slip minutely, said gravely:

"I don't see any record of deportment here, Thomas."

For a moment Tom looked blank, revolving the possible significance of the unknown term, then his face cleared.

"Oh," he said, "we don't have that in our room."—Delineator.

Fewer Distilleries in Sweden.

Fifty years ago there were 23,000 distilleries in Sweden, but that number has now been reduced to 132.

Musical.

The rattle of pans and dishes in the kitchen sounds better than classical music to a hungry man.

Use for Electric Heating Devices.

Electric heating devices are successfully employed for branding cigar boxes.
