

THE LOVES of the LADY ARABELLA

SYNOPSIS.

At 14 years of age Admiral Sir Peter Hawkshaw's nephew, Richard Glyn, fell deeply in love at first sight with Lady Arabella Stormont, who captured his attention...

Peter nor Lady Hawkshaw noted these things, but they were strong enough to impel me to ask Sir Peter to look out for a ship for me at the admiralty.

Lady Hawkshaw and Sir Thomas were old acquaintances, and had been at feud for more than 30 years, neither side asking or giving quarter.

"And allow me to congratulate you, Sir Thomas," added Lady Hawkshaw, "upon your very promising cousin."

"That's a pity," said Lady Hawkshaw.

Mr. Giles Vernon. Sir Peter has the highest opinion of him, and he has won the favor of the king-tong to an extraordinary degree.

"He may have won the favor of the king-tong," replied Sir Thomas, "but he has not yet succeeded in winning my favor."

"That's a pity," said Lady Hawkshaw; "but it doesn't signify, I dare say. It will not keep you alive a day longer."

"I own this surprised me, for if there was anything on earth upon which Lady Hawkshaw was uncompromising, it was church and state; and, excellent woman though she was, I believe she would have been rather glad to make one big bonfire of all the dissenters in England."

When Sir Thomas left, Lady Hawkshaw called the tail footman. "Jeames," she said, "when that person calls again, the ladies are not at home. Do you understand?"

blue sea. So he sent out for a pot of porter, and he and I, together with the bailiffs, drank to the Belvidera; and I swore, then and there, that go with him I would.

It took me but a day or two to get my outfit and make ready to start. Lady Hawkshaw showed me great kindness then, and actually allowed me to have a considerable sum of my own money.

When the post-chaise was at the door and I went to the Chinese drawing room to tell Lady Hawkshaw and Sir Peter good-by, Daphne was there with them, and she looked as if she had been weeping.

I went down to the chaise, puzzled at her conduct, but, looking up for the last time to the windows, I saw her peering from behind a curtain.

"Well," he cried, when we found ourselves rolling along to meet the coach, "I have had my cake and eaten it."

"How I envy you!" I said, bitterly. "I have not had my cake. Every shilling of my prize money is in bank, except about £200."

"Poor chap!" answered Giles, feelingly. "How much more of life have I seen in London than you! I have seen everything, including that queen of hearts, Lady Arabella Stormont. She has treated me cruelly, the jade! But I will bring her to my hand at last, that I swear to you."

People who suffer from "moods" should be careful about their habits. They should be regular about meals, sleep, exercise and work. The condition of the health has much to do with moods, and there is nothing that contributes so much to health as absolute regularity.

Dean Ramsay once told of a young Englishman who had taken a Scottish shooting, and thought himself quite nationalized. Next year he met a genuine Scot of the old school at a German watering-place, and proceeded to pose as one himself, talking of Scotland and haggis and sheep's head and whisky, boasting of Bannockburn, professing devotion to Queen Mary, and extolling Scott and Burns over all English writers.

Little Miss Evelyn Albee of Alna Center may deservedly be called a heroine. A few days ago, while playing near an open well, she accidentally stepped in. The well was 18 feet deep, with six feet of water. Her playmate heard the splash, but was too frightened to call for assistance.

BILL'S AFFLICTION.

"Why, uncle, how are all the folks?" "They're all well, thanks, 'cept Bill. He's got the baseball fever!"

Found a Cure in Cuticura.

"Our son, two years old, was afflicted with a rash. After he suffered with the trouble several weeks I took him to the doctor but it got worse. The rash ran together and made large blisters. The little fellow didn't want to do anything but scratch and we had to wrap his hands up to keep him from tearing the flesh open till the blood would run."

Prominent Women Aid Good Cause.

A large number of women occupying prominent positions in society, or on the stage, are taking an active interest in the anti-tuberculosis campaign. Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt has recently given $1,000,000 for sanitary homes for consumptives.

Englishman's Withering Reply.

The best of us sometimes forget the beam in our own eyes while we search for a mote in another's. An American traveling abroad met an Englishman with the rather remarkable name of Pthorne, which was pronounced Thorne.

Obedience.

Prompt and unquestioning obedience is the corner stone of the foundation of success in life. No man can give orders properly who has not learned to take them, and "save his service, no man may rule."

MAKING SUNSHINE

It is Often Found in Pure Food.

The improper selection of food drives many a healthy person into the depths of despairing illness. Indeed, much sickness comes from wrong food and just so surely as that is the case right food will make the sun shine once more.

His Position.

Dean Ramsay once told of a young Englishman who had taken a Scottish shooting, and thought himself quite nationalized. Next year he met a genuine Scot of the old school at a German watering-place, and proceeded to pose as one himself, talking of Scotland and haggis and sheep's head and whisky, boasting of Bannockburn, professing devotion to Queen Mary, and extolling Scott and Burns over all English writers.

A Little Girl's Feat.

Little Miss Evelyn Albee of Alna Center may deservedly be called a heroine. A few days ago, while playing near an open well, she accidentally stepped in. The well was 18 feet deep, with six feet of water. Her playmate heard the splash, but was too frightened to call for assistance.

A Cup of Tea.

All cookery books, and many others, contain precise directions about tea making. It is the simplest thing in the world, and yet there is not one person in ten who succeeds in making a really good cup of tea.—Food and Cookery.

IS DECLARED VALID

LIVE STOCK LAW UPHeld BY SUPREME COURT.

ROADS MUST HANDLE RAPIDLY

Judgment is Against the Burlington, Which Must Pay Shipper Within Thirty Days.

Lincoln.—The supreme court holds constitutional the law of 1905 requiring railroads to carry live stock at not less than eighteen miles an hour on main lines and twelve miles an hour on branch lines between the initial point of receiving to the point of feeding or destination.

A judgment for $1,640 in favor of Wilbur L. Friend against the Burlington railroad for delay in live stock shipment is affirmed by the court, providing the plaintiff files a remittitur of $240 in thirty days, each to pay his own costs.

The shipments in question were from Burwell to South Omaha during July, August, September and October, 1906. The delays complained of were from one to fifty-two hours. The penalty provided in the law is $10 per hour per car for each hour consumed beyond the time limit, even if no damages are caused by the delay.

The judgment for $240 ordered remitted was for delay in shipping one car from Burwell to South Omaha the delay being caused by stopping and feeding at Lincoln. If the shipment had continued without delay the stock would have arrived at South Omaha Sunday. Deducting the delay at Lincoln, there was a delay of only one hour on the shipment. The court gives the railroad company the benefit of the statute relating to the running of trains on Sunday and holds that the plaintiff was not entitled to recover on this cause of action.

The court finds that the defendant failed to prove any affirmative defense save that as to its delay in feeding and caring for stock and it did so in deference to the statute prohibiting the operation of trains on Sunday. The defendant, having been given the benefit of this defense, it is unnecessary to determine whether the statute precluded any other defense.

The legislature may provide by general law that a shipper of live stock may recover liquidated damages from a public carrier. The constitution does not prohibit the legislature from increasing the common law liabilities of common carriers, and courts will not declare the statutes void on complaint of a carrier because in some hypothetical case the law if applied might work a hardship.

The statute does not interfere with or regulate interstate commerce. Where a delay occasioned by unloading stock to feed, water and rest and to have continued the shipment probably would have compelled the carrier to have operated its trains on Sunday and have resulted in the delivery of live stock on the Sabbath, a judgment based on said count will be reversed.

Judge Barnes, in dissenting, says the statute is unconstitutional for several reasons. He asserts that the opinion holding the railroad company not liable for delay which occurred on Sunday at feeding yards is an amendment to the law and amounts to judicial legislation.

UNIVERSITY LOSES PENSIONS.

Carnegie Trustees Drop George Washington Institution from List.

Washington.—George Washington university of this city has been dropped from the Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching by the active committee of the foundation.

The university retired recently two of its professors without giving them any warning that such purpose was contemplated, and depriving one of them thereby of the benefits which would have come to him later of being placed on the Carnegie teachers' pension fund.

Ryan Heads Amalgamated.

New York.—John D. Ryan was elected president of the Amalgamated Copper company, to succeed the late Henry H. Rogers.

DR. HALE'S ASSOCIATE DIES.

Oakland, Cal.—Coincidentally with the death of Dr. Edward Everett Hale the Rev. Dr. Charles Ephraim Rich, who was assistant pastor under Dr. Hale in the latter's first pastorate, died here Thursday within a few minutes of the time when his former leader breathed his last. Dr. Rich was born in Boston 75 years ago.

NOT ASKING REIMBURSEMENT.

Father and Uncle of Willie Whittia Satisfied to Get Boy.

Sharon, Pa.—In a statement James P. Whittia, father of Willie Whittia, and Frank Buhl, uncle of the kidnaped boy, announced that they do not want to be reimbursed for money expended in the recovery of Willie. The impression was given from Mercer, Pa., yesterday that Whittia and Buhl expected to get over $3,000 of the $15,000 reward offered by the state of Pennsylvania for the arrest and conviction of the abductors.

PITY FOR THE TOILER.

"I hear, Lumpy, dat de price of livin' has increased." "Yep. Gee, it must be tough to have to work for wot a feller eats."

Laundry work at home would be much more satisfactory if the right starch were used. In order to get the desired stiffness, it is usually necessary to use so much starch that the beauty and fineness of the fabric is hidden behind a paste of varying thickness, which not only destroys the appearance, but also affects the wearing quality of the goods.

Well, What if He Didn't?

For many years Dr. Francis L. Patton, ex-president of Princeton university, wore side whiskers. Whenever he suggested shaving them there was a division of opinion in the family. One morning he came into his wife's room, razor in hand, with his right cheek shaved smooth.

Smother Them.

The second-year debutante, as she massaged her left cheek with a rotary movement, said: "Of course I love him, though he's rather rough, I confess."

Mar-vel-ous!

At a baseball game in Chicago the gatekeeper hurried to Comiskey, leader of the White Sox, and said: "Empire Hurst is here with two friends. Shall I pass 'em in?" "An umpire with two friends!" gasped Comiskey. "Sure!"—Everybody's Magazine.

Division of Musical Labor.

Knicker—Is yours a musical family? Bocker—The cook sings about her work, and my daughter works about her sling.

Success.

"Why did you marry?" "For sympathy." "Did you get what you were after?" "Yes—from my friends."
