Messina Was Warned.

Signs of the approach of this catastrophe had not been obscure. Warning had not been given of the impending danger by abnormal atmospheric conditions, it is true. There had been no electrical tension in the air. But a general distemperature, says the correspondent of the Paris Temps, "reacted on susceptible organizations." All through the day and night before the nervous were peculiarly wrought up. There was a half hour interval on the eve of the original shock when the birds, the dogs and the cattle evinced intense agitation. Horses neighed loudly at their stalls. The howling of the dogs was noticed aboard the ships at anchor.—Current Literature.

But Not So Often.

Bink—Why is history like a writer of comic operas?
Gink—Why?
Bink—History repeats itself.

Bulls Without Horns.

In his "Irish Life and Character" Michael Macdonagh has a choice collection of bulls. He called on a hair-dresser in Kingstown. As he was leaving the man tried to induce him to buy a bottle of hair wash. "What sort of stuff is it?" he asked. "Oh, it's grand stuff," the man replied. "It's a sort of miltum in parvo—the less you take of it the better."

A few days later the writer was walking with a friend over the Wicklow mountains, where they met a "character."

"Well, Mick," said my friend. "I've heard some queer stories about your doings lately." "Och, don't believe them, surr," replied Mick. "Sure, half the lies told about me by the nay b'ys isn't true."

The following notice Mr. Macdonagh saw posted in a pleasure boat on the Suir:

"The chairs in the cabinet are for ladies. Gentlemen are requested not to make use of them till the ladies are seated."

And this he clipped from a Kingstown newspaper:

"James O'Mahony, wine and spirit merchant, Kingstown, has still on his hands a small quantity of the whisky which was drunk by the duke of York while in Dublin."

A Woman's Bargain.

An Oil City man who was detained at the house for a part of the day, handed his wife, who was going down town, a quarter of a dollar and requested her to get him three cigars for it.

When she returned she handed him the package, remarking exultantly:

"That shows that women can beat men all hollow when it comes to making purchases. I found a place where I could get eight for a quarter instead of three. Isn't that going some?"

And the poor man, as he took his medicine, merely remarked:

"It certainly is, dear."—Oil City Blizzard.

In the town of Westford, Mass., many children are brought to the public schools in barges from the surrounding country, and warm soup and cocoa is furnished them by one of the townswomen. Mrs. John C. Abbot, who appreciates the fact that, leaving home so early, they need something warm with their luncheon at noon.

Handicapped.

"She can never be a success socially." "Never. She has the bad habit of saying what she means."—Kansas City Times.

TIME IS MONEY

We have more "time" than we really need, so propose to divide it with our readers. We still have on hand nineteen clocks like the illustration above. These little time keepers stand about 9 1-2 inches high, are handsomely finished in oxidized copper, are fitted with alarms, and are excellent timekeepers in every respect. If you want one renew your subscription for a year in advance and send us one new subscriber. Or, if preferable, renew your own subscription and pay 50 cents for the clock. This clock would sell regularly for $1.50 or $1.75. Order early as only a few remain.
