A Most Beautiful Wedding.

Falter—Dovey Nuptials Most Pleasing Event this Season.

On Monday night St. Luke's Episcopal church was the scene of one of the most beautiful and artistic weddings ever witnessed in this city, at which Miss Ella Margaret Dovey and Mr. George H. Falter, both of this city, were united in marriage, Rev. Mr. Burgess reading the short and beautiful service.

The church was most beautifully decorated with pink ramblers and ferns and over the center of the chancel hung a large wedding bell, made of white flowers, on each side hung pink ribbons at the end of which hung pink roses. At each side of the chancel was a lattice work of pink ribbons and ferns through which the bridal party passed. Before the ceremony, Miss Alice Dovey, sister of the bride, sang "Stars of Paradise," by Herbert Bath, which was beautifully rendered.

The groomsmen led the bridal party and were as follows, Messrs. Ramsey, S. Tyson, Van Burgh, F. Fricke and Parr.

The bridesmaids were attired in lawns of delicate shades to represent the rainbow and wore large black picture hats, and carried baskets of ferns and white sweet peas tied with ribbon to match their dresses. First came Lillian L. Crowthers, of St. Paul, Minn., a cousin of the bride, attired in pink, Emma Falter, sister of the groom, in pale blue, Helen Dovey in old rose, Gretchen Donnelly in pale green and Catherine Dovey, sister of the bride, in pale yellow. Miss Carolyn Barkalow of Omaha, maid of honor, wore a gown of lavender lingerie and carried a shower bouquet of lavender sweet peas.

The beautiful bride came in on the arm of her father, Mr. George E. Dovey and was attired in a lovely gown of white messaline, trimmed with silver and brilliant, her veil of tulle was held in place with a coronet of brilliants and she carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas. She was met at the altar by the groom and best man, Mr. Millard Klein. Miss Kittie Cummings played the wedding march.

A reception was afterwards held at the home of the bride, which was beautifully decorated with pink ramblers and ferns.

Mr. and Mrs. Falter left on the 9:30 train that evening for Omaha, and from there went for an extended western trip.

The out of town guests were, Mr. Walter Stoford, San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Truesdale New York, Misses J. Palmer and Marjorie Kimball Lincoln, Frank Parr, S. Tyson and J. Van Burgh, Omaha, Mrs. Robb, Verdon, Nebr., the Misses Valley and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Valley Murray, Mrs. Atwood Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Falter received a cable from Mr. and Mrs. Wentworth Watson of Rocking Castle, England; also telegrams from Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Holdrege, Mrs. and Miss Hermann Mr. and Mrs. Barkalow, Mr. F. O. March.

Much Rain in Iowa.

Charley Miller arrived in the city from near Thurman, Iowa, Tuesday for a short visit with old friends and relatives.

Chas. reports heavy rainfall in his vicinity and though the crops are excellent much grain will be lost unless dry weather sets in soon. In Kansas and Oklahoma where he recently made a trip the prospects are good for a bumper crop though Oklahoma was in some need of rain.

Change In Western League

Former Plattsmouth Young Men Secure Control of Lincoln Franchise.

Lincoln, Neb., July 6.—A change in the ownership of the Lincoln baseball franchise of the Western league is expected to take place the present week, perhaps tomorrow. Guy W. Green, the owner of the team, gave an option to Don C. Despain, former assistant state labor commissioner, and L. B. Stoner, both Lincoln men. The price which was not made public, has been agreed upon and the transfer only awaits the arranging of a few details. The Lincoln team is the tailender of the league, but the attendance has been the best since professional baseball was inaugurated here. Messrs. Despain and Stoner have entered into a two-year contract with Second Baseman Fox to remain as manager.

The above refers to two former Cass county boys, one of Weeping Water and the other from Plattsmouth. They are both men of ability and there is no doubt but success will follow their efforts in the base ball business.

Don't Like Guaranty Law.

Matt Inhelder, one of the early settlers and former residents of Cass county, was in Plattsmouth for a short time between trains Wednesday, visiting at the home of his brother-in-law George Schoeman. Mr. Inhelder is a brother of Henry Inhelder of Cedar Creek, and is a resident of Pierce County, Neb., having his home at Pierce, where he is engaged in the banking business, being president of the Pierce State Bank. Matt expresses his views quite freely in regard to the demerits of the Bank Guaranty Law, stating that he could remember of no law having been passed that worked greater injustice to persons engaged in that line of business.

High Water at Auburn.

Mrs. Herman Bestor returned to her home in this city Wednesday morning after a week's visit with relatives at Auburn, Neb.

Mrs. Bestor had made arrangements to start Monday but the heavy rain of Sunday night made conditions so bad that it was impossible to get around. The Nemaha river was out of its banks and caused a great deal of damage in corn and wheat fields. Outside of the inconveniences of the storm Mrs. Bestor had a most enjoyable visit.

Anything But Economical

City Administration Most Expensive in History of Municipality.

Plattsmouth, Neb., July 7, 1909. Editor NEWS-HERALD:

In a recent issue of the NEWS-HERALD I notice your reference to the funds expended for street work in the city of Plattsmouth in the last 5 years, giving the figures at $42,000.00. The amount is stupendous, but the statement seems to jar but few tax payers in the city. If you had shown that the appropriations for the last 5 years aggregated a little over $7,000.00, and also if you had shown the appropriations for the preceding 5 years with the approximate expenditures for street work for comparison, it might percolate into the heads of some of our taxpayers that instead of the city administration being an economical one, it was the most expensive one ever experienced in the history of the city of Plattsmouth. We heard much talk about reduction of taxes, but never a word about the amounts illegally expended. The enforcement of the scavenger law brought a large fund into the city treasury but it appears to have been a source of worry to the administration until it was dissipated. If it were not for the funds received on back taxes, our city would have been two or three times what they were in the 5 years last past or instead there would now be a deficit in the treasury of some $40,000.00, instead of about $5,000 as is reported.

Yours Respectfully,
ECONOMY.

D. K. Barr, a prominent attorney of Ashland, was in Plattsmouth Wednesday on legal business.

Slugged By A Burglar

Plattsmouth Citizen Has an Exciting Experience Sunday Evening.

Wm. Grebe was the victim of an assault by burglars last Sunday night in which his nose was broken and his lips badly cut. Mr. Grebe had just returned to his parents home from Omaha where he is employed and as the family was away he was unable to get in the front door so he went to the back of the house and as he entered the kitchen door some person, presumably a burglar, struck him a terrific blow with some instrument across the nose and mouth. Grebe fell to the floor and before he could gather his wits the party had escaped.

The police were notified but no trace of the culprit could be found. Wm. hunted up a doctor and had his wounds dressed but he will not work for a few weeks.

Visiting in the City.

John R. Nicholson and wife of Lincoln arrived in the city Saturday for a visit over the fourth and to spend a couple weeks with the family of R. A. Vanfleet. Mrs. Nicholson is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vanfleet.

John is quite well known in Plattsmouth having lived in this vicinity for several years previous to his marriage, and was always much interested in athletics, especially base-ball being one of the best among the former crack players on the old Red Sox Team.

John is writing accident insurance for the National Fidelity and Casualty Company of Omaha and is meeting with success in his territory which comprises the counties of eastern Nebraska.

An Otee Pioneer is Dead.

NEBRASKA CITY, July 5.—Charles Gerber, a pioneer butcher of this city, died at his home here Sunday aged seventy-four. He was born in France and came to St. Joseph, Mo., where he worked for some time and came to this city in 1857 and has since made it his home. He is survived by his wife and to them were born eleven children, six of whom survive him. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

Resis Beside His Wife.

The remains of the late B. F. Stout arrived in the city Wednesday morning for burial beside the grave of his wife, who died here about the year 1884. Mr. Stout was well known by the older residents of Plattsmouth as he formerly lived here with his family, and was elected police judge, but did not hold the office as his election was contested.

After the death of his wife the family disposed of their business here and finally settled in New York City where a daughter, Miss Nellie, and a son, A. B. Stout, have been largely interested in the wholesale millinery business, the father making his home with them until his death at the age of 77 years.

The funeral arrangements were made by B. A. McElwain, who had received a message from Urbana, Ill., the day before requesting him to prepare for interment.

Would Trade for Land.

Ashley Ault, former postmaster and business man of Cedar Creek, drove in from that village this morning with a fine large bay mare which he is offering for sale. Mr. Ault is looking out for some good farm land for which he would like to trade a bunch of nice colts. While in town he is visiting at the home of his brother-in-law, George Sayles.

Good Words For Havelock

Conrad Schlater Says Little City Is a Model of Cleanliness.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Schlater returned Wednesday from their recent visit with relatives and friends at Lincoln, Omaha and other points.

They report having a delightful time but were both very glad to get back again, as there is no place like home for the ordinary comforts of life.

While at Havelock they visited with their daughter, Mrs. Jos. Tighe, and as this was their first visit there in two or more years the splendid improvement in that busy little city were very noticeable, and what pleased Mr. Schlater most was the excellent gardens maintained by the industrious citizens in their back yards.

The front yards were not neglected, as all the residents kept the lawns smooth, and walks and fences in first class condition, no weeds being seen anywhere.

At Omaha Mr. and Mrs. Schlater visited at the home of Dr. Klausnell, one of that city's prominent dentists and a relative of Conrad's, and they were taken for an auto ride each evening to different parts of the city. Mrs. Schlater enjoyed the rides much to the amusement of her husband to whom she had declared she would never ride in one, but after the first ride she could not get enough of it and looked forward to each trip with much eagerness. Mr. Schlater described the brilliant electric display as being very beautiful and striking as the front of nearly every business block was covered with electric designs making a continuous flash for great distances. One design which was strikingly unique was an outline of the old lady with the wooden shoes and club which advertises the "Dutch Cleanser."

Mr. Schlater states that Dr. Klausnell though a poor man when he arrived in Omaha several years ago is at present well to do, having a splendid trade, owning a nice residence property and being able in his spare moments to ride about the city in his fine $1750 touring car.

Mrs. Wm. Wetenkamp returned from Omaha Wednesday evening where she had gone to see her sister, Miss May Howard, depart for her home in Buffalo county. Mrs. Wetenkamp was accompanied by her son Roy and her daughter Mabel. They returned to their farm home several miles south west of Plattsmouth the same evening.
