JULY 19, 1909.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the republican nomination for Register of Deeds of Cass county, subject to the pleasure of the voters at the coming primaries. In asking for this nomination I desire to call attention to the fact that my services in the office of county surveyor, while being largely of a "thank you" nature, the remuneration being insufficient for the support of a family, have eminently fitted me for the duties of the office to which I aspire, and in case I should receive the nomination I shall use my best endeavors to be elected, and will give to the office my best attention.
 E. E. HILTON.

CALL FOR CONVENTION.

The Republicans of Cass county are hereby called to meet in convention at Weeping Water, Neb., on Saturday July 24, 1909 at 1 p. m. for the purpose of selecting delegates to State convention, also selecting a county committee.

The primaries to select delegates to county convention will be held at the usual place of holding primaries in each ward and precinct on Thursday, July 22, 1909 at 8 p. m.

The basis of representation shall be one delegate for each 12 votes or major fraction thereof cast for the Hon. W. H. Tatt for President in 1908.

 Secretary. Chairman.

THE MAN WHO WHITTLES.

Every community knows the man who sits on a storebox and whittles, finding fault with his neighbor and bragging how much better he could do it than his neighbor, yet who never goes out and does anything right himself? We have all seen that fellow.

He is the prototype of the Democratic party in politics. It has been so for forty years, hand running, and is now starting on a new lap.

The Republican party began "doing things" in 1861. Every step of progress this country has made since then has been under Republican administration and Republican laws. The party in 1897 had to go back and do them over again, after a brief Democratic administration had undone the labor of years.

Now, if you had a job of important work you wanted attended to, would you give it to the fellow who has been sitting on the storebox for forty years, whittling, bragging and faultfinding, or would you entrust it to the other fellow who had been "doing things," and doing them right, notwithstanding the fault finding and nagging of the chap on the storebox.

The American people demand results, not talk. They like the man who delivers the goods. The Republican party is the party of action; it delivers the goods.

The bill-of-lading of the Republican National convention specifies the kind and quality of goods proposed to be delivered. They will be delivered in good order and without shortage or breakage.

And the man on the storebox will sit and whittle and scold and brag for another spell.

WHEN the attempt was made after the flood in 1900 to rebuild the city of Galveston, Texas, it was found that the old system of municipal rule composed of a mayor and a number of ward aldermen, without responsibility on any member of the government to perform any specific duty, was woefully inadequate for the exigencies of the occasion. Those were days when things had to be accomplished. Great deeds were required and the obstacle was the city government, each district controlled by selfish interests to oppose every other district, and no authority on the part of any one to do anything. So the legislature was appealed to to abolish the ward government and substitute a commission to direct affairs during the rebuilding of the city. The idea was successful and met with popular approval from the start. Other Texas cities rapidly adopted the new system.

Then followed Des Moines and Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Sioux Falls, South Dakota; Haverhill and Chelsea, Massachusetts; and a half dozen cities in Kansas whose number was augmented Tuesday by the adoption of this form of government by Kansas City. And it is a significant fact that from Galveston all along the line to Kansas City, there yet remains to be recorded the first failure or the first expression of dissatisfaction with the new system. It is a distinct step in advance in city government.

THE NEWS-HERALD predicts that when the Conferees and the President get through with the tariff bill it will be in such shape that all Republicans can honestly and conscientiously give it their support. We predict that there are scores of Republicans in the House who will never vote to confer in the conference report unless it is a fulfillment of pre-election promises. We have unlimited faith in republican representatives doing the right thing in the end. The Republican party never has failed to make good in a crisis. Taft and the progressive wing of the party will win this fight yet. There are a great many more progressive Republicans in the House than there are in the Senate. Those men who have appeared to be a part of the Cannon machine will prove to be the saviors of the party now that the crucial test has come. The NEWS-HERALD has private information to the effect that these men have warned the conferees that they will never vote for the conference report unless the bill is changed so as to conform to the party platform and to promises made before election. We do not claim to be prophets or the sons of prophets but we will stake our reputation on this prediction.

Now for the Business Men's Big Carnival which is to be held in this city Aug. 31 and Sept. 1, 2, and 3. This is to be the biggest event ever pulled off in Cass county. Four great days of sight seeing and pleasure. Last year Plattsmouth gave the greatest celebration on the fourth of July ever held in any city of its size in Nebraska. The Business Men's Carnival will be four of the biggest days of Carnival event ever pulled off west of the Mississippi river in any city with a population under ten thousand. Let every body in eastern Nebraska and western Iowa prepare to attend. Arrangements will be made to accommodate all who come and keep them busy sight seeing. The program for the four days will be announced in due season. Plattsmouth proposes to be second to none when it comes to entertaining the people. The Business Men's Carnival is to be the beginning of an affair that in time may rival the Aksarben. Come one and all, come the first day and come prepared to stay the four days. You will be made welcome and happy.

DO WOMEN WANT THE BALLOT?

The vote cast by the women of Kansas City, Kas., in the election for commission government Wednesday revives the question as to whether the American women are really unhappy because they are not permitted to exercise the full, free and unrestricted right of suffrage?

The issue in the Kansas City, Kas., election was clearly defined. It was distinctly a contest for good government. Arrayed on the side of the new rule were the churches, the advocates of law and order, the business interests, the interests of the taxpayers and home owners—apparently every influence calculated to arouse the most energetic activity and deepest concern for the success of the movement on the part of the women. But there was a noticeable lack of interest. A few women devoted the day to laboring for the commission plan because they fully comprehended its advantage in making Kansas City, Kan., a better town in every way. But these workers found it extremely difficult to induce other women to go to the polls.

The vote for the plan shows that almost four men supported it to every vote received from the woman, while three men voted against it to every woman who opposed it.

Of course, it was a warm day, and more personal discomfort was involved in the attendance at the polls for the women than for the men. But if the American women were really clamoring for the ballot as the suffragists affirm, would a temperature of 84 degrees keep them from walking a few city blocks to exercise the elective franchise, and especially upon a question that directly appealed to every interest that the women have in government?

The question is; Do the American women really want the ballot?—Kansas City Times.
