Hugh Norton, Agent.

The Lincoln Evening News and the Kearney Daily Hub have entered into a warm discussion over the methods used by the News in its "fornisity" on the tariff bill. The News takes a very democratic stand on the question and the Hub accuses it of furnishing future ammunition for the democratic party. The action of the News is not at all to be wondered at. Its editor is a democrat and therefore it is perfectly natural for him to use democratic ammunition himself and furnish it to his party. The trouble just now in Nebraska is that there are too many republican papers edited by men with democratic ideas.

Some new candidates for the nomination for governor next fall have shown up within the past few days. Ex-Superintendent J. L. McBrien and Lieutenant Governor Hopewell are among those mentioned for the republican nomination, while Senator J. E. Miller of Lincoln and Speaker Charles Pool of Tecumseh are the new democratic aspirants. It is going to be a jolly fight.

On Friday of this week the executive board of the state republican committee will meet in Lincoln.

Another entertainment was given the following evening by Mrs. Wescott.

The attention of the district court has been taken most of the week in the case of Zelle Ethel White, adopted daughter of Cyrus White, deceased, who is endeavoring to have the will of the latter set aside on the grounds that he was unduly influenced at the time he made the will giving his property to a church society. At the time of going to press the case is still being heard.

Way to Make the Most of Life.

A well-regulated mind, a dignified independence of the world, and a wise preparation to possess one's soul in patience whatever circumstances may exist, is in the power of every man, and is greater wealth than that of the Indies, and greater honor than Caesar ever acquired.—Timothy Dwight.

A Young Artist.

Two gentlemen meeting one day on the street stood idly talking when one said to the other: "Say, Ed, I wish you could see that little five-year-old girl of mine draw. Say, she drew a hen this morning, and it was so natural that when she threw it in the waste basket, it laid there."—Judge.

The First Chickens.

It is generally understood that the ancestry of the chicken tribe may be traced to the jungle fowl of India. All of the various varieties of our domestic fowls have been produced, it is claimed by the authorities on the subject, from the wild fowl of India.

Feminine Lack of Logic.

Tell a wife that men are selfish, she will readily acquiesce. But tell that same woman that by spoiling her boys—whether in the nursery or at school or university—she is sowing the seeds of egotism, she will give you an emphatic denial.—Car.

Worth of Adversity.

He that has never known adversity is but half acquainted with himself or with others. Constant success shows us but one side of life. There is a merit which we may win by our mis-takes.—Thorold.

Idle Questions.

This may be an age when time is money, but first reflect on the number of useless questions which we ask each other every day, and to which we neither receive nor expect answers.—Madrid Mundo.
