The Proof That Plattsmouth
People Cannot Deny

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

Home endorsement should prove undoubted the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

J. B. Patridge, 8th st., Plattsmouth, Nebr., says: "I suffered almost constantly from pains across my loins and kidneys and at times I was in a bad way. On several occasions I was so badly crippled that I could only get about with the aid of two canes. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Gering & Co's. drug store, helped me so greatly that I continued taking the remedy and it brought me entire relief. It would be impossible for me to speak too highly of Doan's Kidney Pills."

The above statement was given in June 1906 and on Dec. 29, 1908, Mr. Patridge said: "I still endorse Doan's Kidney Pills highly. I willingly renew the statement I gave over two years ago in their favor."

TO SEND BACK SHIP'S SOUNDS.

Experiments with New Safety Device for Foggy Weather.

The United States government is experimenting in San Francisco bay with a safety device for foggy weather which is remarkable in the uniqueness of its idea. It is nothing less than a fog buoy which will make no noise of its own, but which will be expected to catch the sound waves of a vessel's whistle and echo them back across the water.

The buoy, or structure, is constructed of corrugated iron sheeting, placed on piles, and built in three wings placed at different angles. Each wing is 32 feet square.

The idea was given birth accidentally. There has always been much trouble in the upper part of San Francisco bay because the shore lights cannot be seen when the weather is bad. Pilots and skippers began to notice, however, how clearly the corrugated steel warehouses around Benicia returned the sound of their whistles, and for some time have been guiding their way along by the echoes. The government is confident that the new buoys will act in the same manner.

Messina Was Warned.

Signs of the approach of this catastrophe had not been obscure. Warning had not been given of the impending danger by abnormal atmospheric conditions, it is true. There had been no electrical tension in the air. But a general disquietude, says the correspondent of the Paris Temps, "reacted on susceptible organizations." All through the day and night before the nervous were peculiarly wrought up. There was a half hour interval on the eve of the original shock when the birds, the dogs and the cattle evinced intense agitation. Horses neighed loudly at their stalls. The howling of the dogs was noticed aboard the ships at anchor.—Current Literature

BIRTH OF THE GERMAN NAVY.

A Few Facts Showing the Wonderful Progress Made in Building Up a Marine Power.

Some idea of the wonderful progress of the German navy is gained when one realizes that Vice-Admiral Reinhold von Werner, whose death is announced at the age of 84, saw practically the birth of that navy as we now know it. When the German fleet was sold by auction in 1852 Werner secured a commission in the new Prussian navy, and during the war with Denmark he commanded one of the three steam frigates, then the principal ships of the Prussian navy. At the date of the formation of the federal navy Werner was director of dock yards at Danzig. In 1869, however, the deceased vice-admiral returned to active service, and at the time of his retirement in 1878 he held the command of the Baltic station. He devoted the last 30 years of his life to the patriotic task of popularizing the idea of that sea power which he had seen grow from insignificant proportions to a strength which has done so much to stimulate the shipbuilding of other nations. He was a prolific writer, and his authorship extended over a long period. Even at the time of the Battle of Jasmund he attracted attention by a work on the Prussian navy, its present and its future.

An Inherited Felling.

A native of Annam, Indo-China, sentenced in Paris for theft, wrote the following apology to his employer: "All Annamites, whether emperors, mandarins, secretaries, literary men and others, are born thieves. It is a grave and deadly complaint, and there is no cure for it. I know people do not like thieves in France, but it cannot be helped."

Attention.

Attention is the first requisite for making any progress in the acquirement of knowledge; it may be given in various degrees, and it rewards according to the proportion in which it is given. A divided attention is, however, more hurtful than otherwise; it retards the progress of the learner, while it injures his mind by improper exercise.—George Crabbe.

Indictment of Flat Life.

In proportion as flat life increases home life decreases. The flat dweller ought not to keep a dog, prefers not to keep a cat, cannot have a garden, has no chance of keeping house, has no possible place for memories, and most emphatically of all, has no use or accommodation for babies.—Fortnightly Review.

The Why.

There is a belief that if you hang a bright, pretty picture in your room and look at it earnestly every night and morning, your face will grow to resemble the one in the frame. This probably accounts for the fact that in almost every girl's room there is a picture of a Madonna.—Aitchison Globe.

Collar Button Defender.

The collar button has been libeled. Since it first came into being it has provided the writers of jokes for the comic papers with a large share of their material. That it possessed a remarkable tendency toward losing its self has been accepted almost as an axiom.

Facts have come to light which show that the collar button has been maltreated. A man in the employ of the Burlington railroad has worn one collar button for 28 years. It has stuck by him without any undue precautions against loss and has never shown a tendency to wander.

This man says he has always treated his collar button kindly, has never sworn at it nor blamed it for his own faults. His idea is that if mankind records due respect to the collar button it will reciprocate.

Not for Her!

"With one wave of my wand," says the fairy, "I can make you grow young again."

"Excuse me," replies the woman, "I decline your kind offer. If you can bring youth to me at my present age all right; but I positively refuse to travel back through pyrography, the first stage of bridge, the habit back the straight front, balloon sleeves and all the rest of the fads I can remember."—Life.
