Simplicity In Every Detail

You will find in CASE machinery that simplicity, efficiency and durability have been the guiding stars in their construction. By rejecting always the complicated for the simple has resulted in the building of an engine that is remarkable for its extreme simplicity and correct scientific construction—its ease of operation—its low fuel consumption and its adaptability to all uses.

You will also find that in the CASE steel separator you have a separator that threshes all the grain—leaves it in perfect condition—thoroughly cleaned and ready for the market, giving the grain grower a positive knowledge that when his grain has been threshed by a CASE separator he has received his entire crop unbroken, and in the best possible condition. And this is a good business, it offers great opportunities, needs but a comparatively small capital, is easily conducted and pays a handsome percentage on the investment. See or write me for particulars.

A Subscription Campaign.

We wish to call the attention of our readers to the ad in another part of the paper in which we are making a special rate both for the campaign and for the balance of the year. This rate will just about pay for the paper it is printed on, but we propose to make a campaign for subscribers between now and the first of the year and make this rate so that all can give the paper a trial. At this rate you of our regular subscribers who wish to have your friends take a good paper can send it to them, making them a present for the balance of the year. All subscriptions will stop after the time subscribed for, or within a reasonable time after, unless a renewal is received at the regular rate. Therefore, no one need refuse the paper on the grounds that the subscription will be allowed to accumulate against them. If you receive the paper you will know some friend is sending it to you as a present, and that you will not be required to pay for it up to the time it is paid for.

Marathon in Uganda.

Fever for long distance races has spread all over the world. Recently they held one in far-off Uganda. It was from Entebbe to Kampala. No one around here may know much about Entebbe and Kampala, but they are 26 miles apart.

Although the staple diet of the natives consists of bananas and potatoes, the men often show great staying power over long distances when carrying letters, and it was hoped that the Olympic time might be beaten. This was not so, however, as the winner took three hours and three minutes over the course, being closely followed home by the second and third men. When, however, it is considered that they were untrained, that they finished fresh enough to leap and run about, that the cyclists merely patrolled the road and did not pace the runners, that the race took place in the hottest part of the day and was partly over a road wet with recent shower, no one will deny the men's ability. It is amusing to note that three of the runners carried umbrellas and that the winner on finishing danced about saying that he was a very fine fellow and knew how to run well.

The Only Alternative.

Mother (to her daughter)—What is your father making such a row about in the other room? Either the doctor has forbidden him to smoke or he is now asking him for your hand.—Fliegende Blaetter.

A Consistent Deceiver.

"What are you going to do with all that counterfeit money?" asked Sapphira. "My dear," answered Ananias, "I am going to pay my dues in the distinguished club that bears my name."

The big Labor Day program has been postponed until next Saturday.

All roads will lead to Plattsmouth next Saturday for the big Labor Day festivities.
