Compulsory Education Law

Supt. Gamble Calls Attention to Its Provisions and Its Penalties.

We wish to call the attention of the parents and business men of the city to the compulsory attendance and child labor laws. The compulsory attendance law requires that all children between the ages of seven and fourteen years must attend school the entire time that school is in session. Children between the ages of fourteen and sixteen who have not completed the eighth grade are also required to attend school the entire time it is in session. Any parent who neglects or refuses to comply with this law is subject to a fine of not less than $5.00 nor more than $25.00 for each offense.

The child labor law leaves any person liable who employs any child under fourteen during the time school is in session and also leaves them liable if they employ any child between the ages of fourteen and sixteen who has not completed the eighth grade and who does not have a certificate issued by the city superintendent of schools.

The penalty for the violation of this act is inflicted upon both parent and employer. Whoever employs a child under sixteen and whoever having under his control a child under such age and permits a child to be employed in violation of this act shall for each offense be fined not more than $50.00 and whoever continues to employ any child after being notified shall for every day thereafter that such employment continues be fined not less than $5.00 nor more than $20.00 per day.

The foregoing is a brief summary of the two laws both of which are being violated in this city. We wish to urge upon parents and employers the necessity of complying with this law at once. A truant officer has been employed by the board of education and is now securing the names of children who are out of school both employed and unemployed. Beginning Monday, Oct. 11, every child found living in violation of these acts, will be taken into custody by the truant officer and notice served upon parent or employer. All violators of these acts to be taken before the police judge for a hearing.

This notice will be given publicly that all may have an opportunity to meet its requirements. The age of every child of school age is on file in the office of the city superintendent, who will be glad to co-operate with business men and other employers. Children may attend either public or parochial school. We are held responsible for the proper enforcement of these laws and we hope to have the co-operation of every law abiding citizen in their enforcement. Board of Education by G. W. GAMBLE, Supt. City Schools.

The Republican County Candidates

All Men of Undoubted Honesty and Eminently Fitted to Serve the People for the Next Two Years.

Laurence H. Daft, the republican candidate for register of deeds is a young man of good habits and one that has had several years experience along the lines that would especially equip him for the office. His experience as a bookkeeper is just the experience which one needs to carry on the work of the office of register of deeds. This is an office in which great care and accuracy is needed, and in the selection of a man to vote for, no one should hesitate when he comes to the name of Laurence H. Daft. Mr. Daft was born in Illinois and reared on a farm. He graduated from the High school at Farmington and then went to the state university. After leaving that institution he taught school several years, and was then offered a position with the First National Bank at Greenwood in this county, which position he has held for several years. His experience has admirably qualified him for the position of register of deeds, and his selection is an assured fact.

Martin Friedrich has made a good commissioner. No one will deny that fact. The office of county commissioner is a peculiar one. No man can step into that office untried and expect the work to go one as it did before. A wrong move may mean a big loss to the county in a financial way. If there is any office in the county that needs the work of an experienced man it is the office of county commissioner. The voter who stops to think about it can come to no other conclusion. With the important matters that are liable to come up during the next two years it is imperative that the members of the board of county commissioners should be men who have had experience in the position.

John Gerry Stark, candidate for county treasurer, is one of the able and representative men of Cass county. The fact that the community in which he lives considers him one of the best men in that community and that they feel if he is elected that his place cannot well be filled, is sufficient evidence that he is the right sort of a man to fill the office of county treasurer of Cass county. Those who know Mr. Stark best are his most enthusiastic supporters, regardless of party affiliation, and the county affairs which come under his care will be well looked after. Mr. Stark is the kind of man who says just what he thinks and you can depend on what he says, and that is the kind of man to have charge of public affairs.

The fact that the opposition can find no fault with Carroll D. Quinton, republican candidate for sheriff, except that he has made a good officer for two terms and therefore ought not to have any more, should be sufficient to return him to the sheriff's office with an increased majority. The rotten insinuation that have been made against his honesty will only tend to increase his vote all over the county. No one who knows Sheriff Quinton takes any stock in the underground campaign of the opposition.

Of course, as far as George Lushinsky is concerned, the campaign need be carried on no farther. Somehow George is making friends wherever he goes. This is not surprising. Everyone who comes in contact with him becomes convinced that he is just the man for county clerk and that no better choice could have been made at the primary. A native of Germany, he came to America when quite a youngster and fitted himself for life by securing a good education. He talks the German language like a native and writes it equally good. This means a whole lot to our large German population and we predict that when Mr. Lushinsky has been installed in the office of county clerk he will make the most popular and efficient officer the county has ever had.

Judge Beeson needs no introduction to the people of Cass county, for his natural ability for filling the office with his gentlemanly conduct at all times has made him very popular with the public. The duties of the office are such that the judge has not been able to get over the county as much as some of the other candidates and for that reason every friend of Judge Beeson should take it upon himself to see that he receives a good big majority to show him how much the people of the county appreciate him.

The selection of E. E. Odell by the republicans who participated in the primaries was a wise move. Mr. Odell has made a success of school work in every capacity he has filled. He is a young man filled with the determination to succeed and for that reason the success of the schools under his guidance will be assured. His ambition in life is to make a success of himself in educational work. He has taken up that work as his life work. He will put his whole soul into that work, and therefore will make it a success. As a man he can do work that cannot be done by the other sex. There are no handicaps confronting him. He has an open track with no obstacles to overcome but those which natural confront one in the pursuit of success. As county superintendent of the schools of Cass county he is naturally endowed with those gifts which will make our schools the best in the state, and with that determination to make them so it means success.

B. I. Clements, the candidate for coroner has filled the position one term and has been nominated for another. There is no particular fight on the office of coroner, but just the same there are times when the office in charge of an experienced man would mean the saving of money to the county. Give Mr. Clements another term.

Probably never in the history of Cass county, have the republicans placed before the people such a set of candidates as they have upon the ticket this year. Every one of them is a man above reproach. Every one of them is a man who is peculiarly fitted for the office to which he aspires. Every one of them are men who would be a credit to the county in any capacity, and there should be no excuse for any republican voting for the other fellow. Don't vote for any man just because you like to give him a good vote. Many a good man has been defeated just because republicans helped out the other fellow, not because they thought he ought to be elected, but because they wanted to see him get a good vote. Nebraska was put to the bad last fall because republicans thought W. J. Bryan ought to get a good vote in his own state. That fact and that alone was responsible for the defeat of many other republicans. When a man gets to voting for people out of sympathy, he should be very careful, for many times there are just enough other fellows who do the same thing which altogether results in enough votes to elect the man that should not have been elected. Vote your convictions, not your sentiments.

Mr. Smith's Statement.

The articles that have appeared in the Lincoln Journal and other papers might lead the public to believe that I am carrying some person's money around in my pocket and refusing to give it up. In justice to my family, my friends, and myself I am prompted to say that the government has always received every cent belonging to it, and I do not owe an employee in this office one penny, and I have not a single penny of any person's money that I have obtained wrongfully.
C. H. SMITH.

Methodists Tender Reception.

The membership of the Methodist church tendered a farewell reception, Friday night, in the church basement to Rev. and Mrs. Houlgate who leave this week for their new appointment at Madison. While they have been with the church here but one year they have won many close and lasting friendships as was evidenced by the large crowd that gathered to bid them farewell. The evening was spent in social conversation. Late in the evening light refreshments were served, after which J. A. Fleming, on behalf of these assembled, presented Rev. and Mrs. Houlgate with a carpet as a token of their respect and esteem. The Junior League presented Mrs. Houlgate, who has been their leader during the year with a beautiful spoon. Following the presentation of these tokens the assembly sang "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." Rev. Houlgate was called upon for a few words and responded by expressing his thanks for the kindness shown and begged to be excused from further remarks. During the year Rev. Houlgate has worked persistently for the upbuilding of the church along spiritual lines and his removal is to be greatly regretted. They have the best wishes of the church wherever the future may lead them.—Albion News.
