Sheriff Quinton Has Statement

Denies the Allegations Made by the Journal and Defies the Allegator.

During the campaign just closing charges have been made against me as Sheriff of Cass county. I have refrained from making any public statement, believing that the friends who had confidence enough in me to vote for me two years ago, still had confidence enough in me to believe that I am innocent of the charges made against me.

In explanation of the charge that I have not made my reports regularly, I would say that there had been times when I have been busy out of the city on official business and have missed making a report in a very few instances.

Regarding the charge that I have wrongfully withheld the fees of my office, I will say that that charge is untrue. When I shall make my report for the current year as the law provides at the end of my term, I expect to turn over to the Treasurer of Cass county all fees collected by me which belong to the county.

If the Board of County Commissioners, or any responsible tax payer is not satisfied with that report or the amount of fees accounted for, I shall ask the Board to employ at once, at my expense, an expert accountant who shall examine all books and records pertaining to my office, and if upon his report it is found that there is anything due the county by me, I stand ready and able to turn that amount into the treasury of the county.

The assertion that has been made that Mr. Manspeaker, my deputy, has not given a bond, I will simply say that following the advice of the county attorney at the time of Mr. Manspeaker's appointment, he gave a bond and the same is still in force.

Thanking my friends for their confidence in me during the past, and assureing them that confidence has not been misplaced, I remain as ever,

Respectfully,
Carroll D. Quinton.

A FLAT FAILURE.

After three weeks of hard and laborious work on the part of James H. Donnelly, an expert accountant hired by the democratic county committee to find things, and after loud and laborious wind jamming on the part of the Journal the expert accountant has at last found that Sheriff Quinton has just exactly $540.58 which he has not turned over to the county. Inasmuch as the law does not require him to turn over anything until the end of the year it looks as if the job had not worked out. "Great oaks from little acorns grow." This time the acorn did not even get to the sprouting point.

Attended Convention

Rev. Davis Errett, pastor of the first Christian church in Salem, Oreg., and his wife arrived in this city Tuesday from Pittsburg, Pa., where they attended the centennial anniversary of the founding of the Christian church. They report having had a delightful time and enjoyed the meetings very much. Mrs. Errett is the accomplished and highly educated daughter of Captain and Mrs. Isaac Wiles and was born and grew to womanhood here, where she has a host of friends.

General Howard Dead.

General O. O. Howard, one of the union commanders of the civil war, passed away in his home in Burlington, Vt., yesterday aged 79 years, with heart disease.

Last week General Howard delivered his lecture on "Abraham Lincoln" in Ontario, and on Monday he returned home in his usual good health. While sitting in a chair in his home he was attacked with heart disease and was dead before a physician reached the house.

Pleads Guilty—30 Days.

Louis Robertson, the man arrested at Lincoln for stealing shoes out of a box car at Union, pleaded guilty to petit larceny before County Judge Beeson and was given thirty days.

Joseph Mullen of Elmwood and D. W. Foster of Union were visiting friends in the county seat Wednesday.

W. C. T. U. Elect Officers

One Of the Most Enthusiastic Meetings Ever Held Is Finished.

By the unanimous vote of the convention in session in the Auditorium in Omaha, all of the six general officers of the National Women's Christian Temperance union were re-elected for the coming year.

This makes the twelfth time Mrs. Lillian Stevens of Portland, Me., has been elected president, though it will be the thirteenth year she has served in that office. As vice president, under Miss Frances Willard, she succeeded Miss Willard as president upon the latter's death in December, twelve years ago. Miss Anna Gordon of Evanston, Ill., vice president at large, is also elected for the twelfth time, she succeeding Mrs. Stevens. Mrs. Frances P. Parks of Evanston, Ill., enters upon her second term as corresponding secretary; Mrs. Elizabeth P. Anderson of Valley City, N. D. her fifth term as recording secretary; Mrs. Sarah H. Hoage of Lincoln, Va., her fifth term as assistant recording secretary and Mrs. Elizabeth P. Hutchinson of Evanston, Ill., her sixth year as treasurer.

The resolutions passed by the thirty-sixth annual convention supplementing its declaration of principles are comprehensive and strengthen the position of the organization in many respects. Especial stress is laid upon the necessity of total abstinence, upon purity, the enfranchisement of women, of peace and of education and legislation to the end of eventually abolishing the liquor traffic.

One of the planks of the platform reads: "We urge the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in every state, where the liquor traffic is legalized, to inaugurate a vigorous campaign for state prohibition and by wise agitation educate public sentiment up to the point of demanding an amendment to the federal constitution, forever prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors."

A large number of Plattsmouth people are attending the convention.

About 200 delegates were elected from the state unions to attend the world's Woman's Christian Temperance union convention to be held in Glasgow in June, 1910. Mrs. Frances B. Heald, Osceola, Mrs. Annetta Nesbit, Pawnee City, Mrs. Medora Mickel, Beatrice, Mrs. Libby Corey, Lincoln, are the delegates from Nebraska.

Congress is asked to prohibit interstate commerce in intoxicants so far as it relates to the shipment of liquor into a dry state. Another recommendation asks that the government refuse to issue federal liquor licenses in dry states. Recommendations are made for corporation in the work of child to the end that a uniform minimum age limit may be fixed all over the country, and for the establishment of a children's bureau which will collect reliable and valuable statistics with reference to child labor.

Zeigler-Hathaway.

John W. Zeigler, aged 49, of Seward, and Miss Violet B. Hathaway, aged 35, of Bee, Neb., were united in marriage in this city Wednesday, County Judge Beeson officiating. The parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Duffy Hathaway, formerly resided in Union. They departed on the afternoon train for Lincoln. They may locate in this city or Nebraska City in the near future.

Secretary Wescott informs the News that his list of applications for work at the new shirt factory is being rapidly swelled. Plattsmouth girls and girls from any portion of Cass county are given preference over those from outside points, in fact so far no girl whose residence is outside of Cass county, has been put on the "waiting" list.

A Golden Anniversary.

Last Sunday, October the 24th, John M. Lois and his good wife Katherina Lois celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their hospitable home in Murlock, Nebraska. They were ably assisted in this celebration by a large gathering of neighbors and friends, and some of their children from a distance also were present. They were remembered with a handsomely engraved souvenir spoon and pieces of gold coin in honor of the event. A most beautiful repast was served to the assembled company and they will long line in the memory of all present.

Mr. Lois was born in Prussia, Germany on the second day of June 1839, while Mrs. Lois was born in Baden, Germany in 1839. Mr. Lois emigrated to America in 1851 and first settled in New York city; from there he gradually worked his way westward stopping at intervals in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana until he reached Illinois where he remained for some time, and here it was that he first met and finally married Mrs. William Stein, who was then a young widow with an infant daughter; this daughter later on became Mrs. Steve Morns and she with her family are at present residents of Union, Oregon. Mr. Lois learned the trade and for many years followed the occupation of stone mason and many are the stories he can tell of having worked for days, weeks and even months at a time without receiving a single penny for pay; the usual mode of settlement was a side of bacon; a sack of flour or perhaps a few bushel of potatoes; but they lived happily and content through those years and raised a family of six boys, beside the daughter. These boys are all alive today, although they are scattered over the country somewhat: John S. Lois being engaged as a miller and farmer near Jackson, Nebraska with his brother Steve. Charles B. Lois lives on his own fine farm near Demet, South Dakota; Calvin J. Lois is in the builder and constructing business, with his residence in Murlock; while the twins George and Henry are as far apart as they could well be and still be residents of the United States, George being in the real estate business at Algona, a suburb of Seattle, Washington; while Henry is doing duty as commissary on the battleship Connecticut stationed in New York harbor.

Mr. Lois and family came further west to Cass county on the 22nd day of February, 1876, the centennial year, and settled on a fine quarter section of land four miles south-west of the present town of Murlock; their nearest railroad station at that time was South Bend; prices in those days were not what they are now, for many a time did they haul a load of corn to market and return with a pair of boots in exchange; those were surely trying times; however, they were of the good old pioneer stock and would not turn back; they had faith in the country and even the grass-hoppers failed to drive them back east. The result of their early labors is that they live in quietude and peace and have for years past had but little to do except to see the sun rise and set; to eat their three square meals a day and rest in contentment at night; knowing that the morrow need cause them no worry. They are well beloved by their neighbors who all join in wishing them many years of happiness in their midst.

Going Some.

Sherman Tullis of Omaha husked 120 bushels of corn Wednesday for B. W. Livingston in ten hours, which is certainly going some. Who can do better?

Mrs. May Anderson of Nebraska City is visiting her sister-in-law, Mattie Darling, in this city.

Sunday School Convention

Adopts Resolutions Which will Have a Bearing Politically at Some Future Time.

The Ninth Annual Interdenominational Sunday School Convention, for Cass county, held at Elmwood Tuesday and Wednesday was a decided success any way you may take it. There were a hundred or more delegates present eighteen of the number from Plattsmouth. From start to finish the interest was enthusiastically intense and matters of great importance were discussed. In fact, they were not only discussed, but ringing resolutions were adopted which will have a decided and most material bearing upon things political in the very near future. The resolutions took the form of a pledge, the singers promising to cast their votes in future for candidates for public office who came out squarely and unequivocally for temperance. The organization claims to rally a solid phalanx of 1,000 voters in Cass county who will cast their votes for a "dry" candidate as against a "wet." It is the intention of the organization to go before the conventions of the old parties and announce that their strength will go solidly to the candidates, only, who will go on record as favoring temperance. That means the water wagon for a number of the boys.

The Plattsmouth delegates speak in highest praise of their entertainment at Elmwood. They were not wined, but they were dined early and often, most royally. The meeting were held in the Methodist church, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion. A list of the officers elected will be published later.

The good looking barber at the Hotel Riley, you know which one we mean, is very much exercised over the coming servant girl problem. He seems to think the new shirt factory will consume the visible supply and he is now attempting to figure out a solution of the difficulty.

R. A. Bates, publisher of the Journal, returned home from Kansas City, where he is receiving medical treatment, and he is looking fine. He said his wife is improving nicely, but it will be several weeks before she will be able to be brought home.

Burlington Report.

The annual report of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad company for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909, has been made. It shows a total revenue from operation of $79,414,357, total operation expenses of $55,347,759, leaving a net revenue from operations of $24,066,598. The operating expenses show a decrease of $687,475, as compared with the previous year, while the revenue shows increase of $1,582,760, mostly on the maintenance of way account.

The dining car service was operated at a loss of $150,389.

Good house and large barn and other buildings, well and cistern, 8 miles from Plattsmouth and 4 1-2 miles from Murray. The way land is advancing this 80 will be worth $110 before spring. John M. Leyda, 6t D & SW. Plattsmouth, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. George McNurlin and their son departed Wednesday morning for their future home near Alliance, Neb., after a pleasant visit with friends in this city. Mr. McNurlin has been employed in the Burlington shops in Havelock for fifteen years, but has decided to become an honest farmer.

Samuel Barker, who now resides with his daughter, Mrs. William Wetenkamp, six miles west of Plattsmouth, was visiting in this city today. Mr. Barker bought and shipped live stock from different points in Nebraska, many times by the train load to Chicago for about twenty-five years.
