He Knew He Was Alive.

"Dead," he exclaimed. "I wasn't dead. I knew all that was going on. And I knew I wasn't dead, too, because my feet were cold and 1 was hungry.

"But how did that fact make yon think you were still alive?" asked one of the curious.

"Well, this way: I knew that if I were in heaven I wouldn't be hungry and if I was in the other place my feet wouldn't be cold."

They Were Changed.

While serving as commandant of a district in India General Creagh had on one occasion presented the prizes at the garrison sports and was rather surprised when one of the prize winners-a private in an infantry regiment-approached blm a few days later and begged to know if he would be allowed to change his prize for something more useful.

"What was your prize?" asked the general. In reply the man produced a long case from under his arm and showed a handsome carving set. "Very nice, I am sure." said General Creach. "What do you want to change them for?"

"Well, you see, sir." replied the man, "I find them rather difficult to use at mealtime, and if it is all the same to the committee, sir, I would rather have a kulfe and fork of the size to eat meat with."

Nature

He who knows the most, he who knows what sweets and virtues are in the gr und, the waters, the plants, the heavens and how to come at these enchantments, is the rich and royal man. Only as far as the masters of the world have called in nature to their aid can they reach the height of magnificence.-Emerson.

How to Make a Noise.

Harry, the highlander, was bent on being a successful Scot. He was bent en making a splash. Och, aye! But he was going to make those daft gowks (Scottish for "silly idiots") in England sit up.

But how was Harry to achieve his alm?

He sought advice of a great frienda Scotsman who had already made his mark in shipbuilding circles.

"Tell me." pressed Highland Harry, boo can I mak a noise in the warld ?! The famous Scotsman gazed at bim steadily for a few moments and then, laying a hand on the inquirer's shoulder, bellowed: "Hoot, mon!"
