BOARD OF HONOR

Committees on Infringements to Be Approinted to Determine Charge Put Forth

The current issue of the Daily Cbraskan, the student paper at the count of the installation there of the so-called Honor System, a scheme devised to prevent the occurrence xaminations. This is the system in vogue at Yale, Princeston and a good many secondary schools throughout 保 he country. The idea of the system honor to do individual and honest work, and to report failures to do such work to the student tribunal constituted to do the work of superAt Nebraska there has always been of the student because of the strict surveillance that the pafesors have maintained over them, especially in the examinations. It is thought that the placing the students upon their honor that a great deal of this monicorste of honor as provided by the cone student is as follows:

1. It in inctionpatible with honor to cheat or assist in cheating at any test or examination.
2. Any trick, fraud or false report which contemplates credit is dishonorable. 5. That it is not a mean or unworthy action for one to privately orthy action for one to privately apprise a fellow student that such udent has been detected in a viola-ion of the provisions of this code; nor is it a mean or unworthy action for one to report to the board of student who continues in his infringement of the code after he has been privately apprised of detection.
Punishments are provided suitable to the seriousness of the offense and it is expected that this voluntary and it is expected that this voluntary action on the part of the students ill do much toward improving the conditions.
